DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY AFFAIRS

INTRODUCTION

The State of Florida, Department of Military Affairs, is a State agency created by Chapter 250, Florida Statutes and composed of the military force provided for in the laws of the State of Florida. The Florida National Guard is provided for by Section 2, Article X of the Constitution and Chapter 250.08 of the Florida Statutes. The National Guard of the United States is provided for by Title 32, U. S. Code.

The Governor is Commander in Chief of the Florida National Guard. The Adjutant General is Chief of the Department of Military Affairs and Commanding General of the Florida Army and Air National Guard. There is an Assistant Adjutant General who is also Assistant Adjutant General for Army, an Assistant Adjutant General for Air, and a directorate staff organization in the Headquarters. (Appendix I, Organizational Chart.)

The troop structure of the Florida National Guard is composed of the Florida Army National Guard and Florida Air National Guard. The Army National Guard consists of the State Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment with its attached support type units, commanded by The Adjutant General; an Infantry Brigade (Separate), commanded by a Brigadier General; and non-divisional units grouped under an Alternate Command Headquarters, FARNG, commanded by a Brigadier General. (Appendix III, Organization - Florida Army National Guard.) The Florida Air National Guard consists of the Headquarters Florida Air National Guard, commanded by a Brigadier General; and a Fighter Group, commanded by a Colonel. (Appendix IV, Organization - Florida Air National Guard.)

MISSION

As provided for under the provisions of the National Defense Act, units of the Florida National Guard, both Army and Air, have a dual mission.

(1) A State mission, to provide military organizations trained and equipped to function when necessary in the protection of life and property, and in the preservation of peace, order and the public safety, as directed by competent State authority; and,

(2) A Federal mission, as Reserve components of the Army and Air Force of the United States, to provide trained and qualified individuals available for Federal service in time of war or national emergency, or at such other times as the national security may require augmentation of the United States armed forces.

The Florida Air National Guard, in addition to their State and Federal mission, has an air defense mission for the eastern seaboard of the United States, from Charleston, South Carolina to Key West, Florida. This aerospace mission involves the maintenance of four F-102 fighters and crew on a twenty-four hour alert status, armed and ready for immediate commitment to intercept unidentified aircraft in or approaching the air space of the United States.

The State Adjutant General and his Headquarters has an additional Federal mission to direct and coordinate the preattack planning and postattack operations of all military forces (Army, Navy, Air Force) within the State, to support civil authorities engaged in providing for survival of people and continuity of government in a nuclear environment.

SUMMARY

The Florida Army National Guard experienced several minor reorganizational changes during the period covered by this report and on 3 January 1972, underwent a major statewide reorganization, created by Department of the Army requirements for elimination of those units for which there no longer existed a mobilization requirement, providing for an allocation of new type units in the Guard structure. Such reorganization provided for an overall state strength increase from 8,079 to 8,255 officers, warrant officers and enlisted men. Several units throughout the state were reorganized and redesignated, and a high percentage of personnel branch changes were created. In spite of such reorganization, the Florida Army National Guard has continued to attain its prescribed training objectives, to meet strength allocations, and to maintain its high standards of unit proficiency.

There were no significant reorganizational changes in the Florida Air National Guard during the Calendar Year, and the 125th Fighter Group continues to maintain its high level of training and national standing, and to fulfill its mission in the air defense of the eastern seaboard of the United States from Charleston, South Carolina to Key West, Florida.

Fiscal Matters, both State and Federal, remain on a sound basis, and expansion of our fine facilities continue to make forward strides. The Florida National Guard can well be proud of its many noteworthy accomplishments during the past year.

ORGANIZATION

During the period covered by this report the General Officer command elements remained unchanged; however, there were several subordinate units redesignated as a result of the 3 January 1972, reorganization, these are: the 164th Artillery Group (Air Defense) redesignated as the 227th Field Artillery Group and located in Miami, Florida, the 453rd Transportation Battalion redesignated as the 50th Supply and Service Battalion and located in Miami, Florida, the 138th Transportation Company redesignated as the 149th General Supply Company (GS) headquartered at Cocoa, Florida with a split element located at Lake Wales, Florida, the 253rd Signal Company (Messenger) was redesignated as the 255th Engineer Company (Dump Truck) and located at St. Augustine, Florida, the 753rd Transportation Detachment (Refer) was redesignated as the 160th Transportation Company (Car) and located at Crestview, Florida, the 269th Engineer Company (Dump Truck) was redesignated as the 269th Engineer Company (Construction Support) and located at Live Oak, Florida.

There were no reorganizational changes reflected for Headquarters, Florida Air National Guard, or the 125th Fighter Group, FANG during the Calendar Year.

EMPLOYEES

There are 750 individuals, civilian and military, employed by the Department of Military Affairs. These employees work either directly with the Headquarters, Department of Military Affairs or with National Guard units in the field, supporting approximately 9,000 Guardsmen assigned to the Florida National Guard. (Appendix II, Employee Allocation, Department of Military Affairs.) There are 102 Career Service personnel of the State of Florida, employed under the rules and regulations of the State Division of Personnel and Retirement, and 648 Federal technicians authorized for employment under the rules and regulations of the U. S. Civil Service Commission. These employees are specialist in the field of administration, finance, accounting, supply and maintenance. With the exception of a limited number of female employees, personnel are required to be military members of the various organizations and units to which assigned. (Fiscal Data, Appendices VII and VIII.)

On 1 January 1969, Public Law 90-486 provided for employees, paid from Federal funds, to participate in the Civil Service Retirement Program.

ARMORY BOARD, STATE OF FLORIDA

The Armory Board, State of Florida, established as provided by Section 250.40, Florida Statutes, and comprised of the Governor, the Adjutant General, the State Quartermaster, the General Officers of the Line, Group Commanders, and the Senior Air Commander of the active Florida National Guard, provides general supervision and control of real properties utilized by the Florida National Guard. This Board met during the year to consider plans for construction, alteration, rental, maintenance and management of National Guard armories, other facilities and real properties utilized by the Florida National Guard. The Armory Board is responsible for and controls forest management, mineral exploitation, game and fish propagation programs and the maintenance and improvement of the former Federal lands at Camp Blanding, with the approval of the U. S. Government. (A detail of the organization of the Armory Board, State of Florida, is shown in Appendix V.)

The National Guard, as a joint effort of Federal, State and local governments, has taken its place as a major component in the defense of our Nation, State and local communities through this mutual support. The Armory Board reemphasized its policy, during the year, that National Guard armories be utilized by the citizenry of the community, to the fullest extent possible, where such use is not to the detriment of public interest and does not interfere with the primary use of armories for the housing and training of military units stationed therein. The Armory Board further cooperated with other armed services, State agencies and organizations by providing facilities at Camp Blanding for use in training, rifle marksmanship, instruction, etc.

FACILITIES

State Arsenal

The State Arsenal is one of the oldest and more historic buildings in St. Augustine. It houses Headquarters for the Department of Military Affairs and the Florida National Guard. This four hundred year old facility was formerly the site of a Franciscan Monastery constructed in 1588. It was converted to a military barracks by the British in 1763; from 1783 to 1821 a Spanish garrison; 1821 to 1900 a U. S. Army Post. In 1907 the Headquarters of the Department of Military Affairs and the Florida National Guard was established here. Normal repairs and maintenance are performed in such a manner as to preserve the historic features of the facilities, insofar as is feasible.

Armories

There are fifty-one National Guard armories, strategically located in cities throughout the State, from Pensacola on the west, to Jacksonville on the northeast, to Fort Myers and Homestead on the south. (Locations and valuations are reflected in Appendix VI.)

During the year, a new one unit armory at Avon Park was completed and occupied by the unit. This is a modern facility which will materially benefit the training of the unit and compliment the community.

Construction was commenced on a new four unit armory at Herlong Field in Jacksonville. This facility will be an exceptionally modern complex which will replace an old facility located in the downtown area that is inadequate for the housing and training of assigned units. The facility is being constructed with Federal and City of Jacksonville funds and completion is expected in March 1973.

New armories have been programmed at Bartow and Lakeland to replace old inadequate facilities which are no longer suitable for maintaining assigned units. Completion of these two facilities is anticipated in Fall 1973.

In addition to the above major projects, fencing, paving, repair and renovation projects were accomplished at numerous armories throughout the State.

Air National Guard Base

The Florida Air National Guard Base, located at the Jacksonville International Airport, is the home of the Florida Air National Guard. The 168 acre complex consists of 19 buildings containing 188,000 square feet of floor space and over 128,000 square yards of paving. The complex consists of buildings which can be easily expanded should the need arise, and includes an independent emergency water supply, underground electrical distribution system, a central heating and air conditioning plant with underground distribution lines, adequate vehicle parking space, an 80,000 square foot aircraft maintenance hangar, a base operations building, dormitories, a 260-man dining hall and a dispensary. The facilities were designed to incorporate functional management for any mission assignment.

Ranges

National Guard Rifle Ranges at Camp Blanding, Avon Park and Stuart were continued in use during the year and in addition, the MacDill Air Force Base ranges, in Tampa, were utilized through an agreement with the Air Force. These ranges were used, not only by the Florida National Guard, but also by the regular and reserve forces.

CAMP BLANDING

General

The Armory Board maintains the Florida National Guard's 72,000 acre campsite located in Clay County. Included in this area are 40,000 acres, representing former Federal lands, deeded to the Armory Board by the Federal Government through Public Law 493, with stipulations that the lands be maintained as a military reservation and, further, that a Forest Management Program be conducted. The Armory Board realizes revenue from the forestry program and also from mineral exploitation occurring on these former Federal lands, which is utilized to defray operating expenses.

Utilization

The Camp Blanding Military Reservation is utilized extensively by units of the Florida National Guard in all phases of training, to include weekend Multiple Unit Training Assemblies (MUTA), and Annual Training (AT). Thus far during Calendar Year 1972, the facilities were utilized some 21,473 man-days for Army National Guard MUTAs, with an additional 799 man-days being devoted to conduct of small arms competitive matches, sponsored by the National Guard and by the Camp Blanding Rifle and Pistol Club. Man-days totaling 95,614 were devoted to AT exercises for elements of the Army National Guard of Florida, with an additional 20,509 man-days being devoted to AT by the South Carolina, District of Columbia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana National Guard.

The Camp Blanding Military Reservation is noted for its fine facilities and training areas for the conduct of command post exercises, specialized training, and training conferences, as well as for its excellent firing ranges, which include .30 and .45 caliber small arms ranges, machine gun, recoilless rifle, 81MM and 4.2 inch mortar ranges, and an antiaircraft artillery range. Camp Blanding is also the home of the Florida National Guard Officer Candidate School, the basic source for newly commissioned second lieutenants required for filling junior officer vacancies throughout the Florida Army National Guard. It is also the home training site of the Special Forces elements of the Florida Army National Guard, with its fine jungle type training areas, drop zone and rappelling tower facility. Of utmost importance, is the fine Camp Blanding Army Airfield and its excellent service facilities, which are used extensively by Army Aviation units throughout the training year.

During the past year, vast improvements have been made in all ranges, to include the tracked vehicle driving ranges, and the six administrative bivouac areas were expanded with improved latrines, showers and lighting. The Federal Government has recently approved a long range construction program to provide permanent type barracks, latrines, mess halls and administrative buildings, with the first increment to be accomplished during FY 1972-73. This program is funded entirely by the Federal Government.

Warehouse storage facilities continue to be utilized by the Directorate of Supply and Services (USPFO) for the receipt, storage and issue of Federal property and supplies, which are utilized by units of the Florida Army National Guard. The Florida National Guard Combined Support Maintenance Shop (CSMS) continues to perform its important mission of maintenance of Federal equipment in support of units throughout the State. Prior to the close of Calendar Year 1971, the new Annual Training Equipment Pool (ATEP) facility, adjacent to the Combined Support Maintenance Shop was completed, occupied and in full operation for AT-72.

The regular establishment, Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps, as well as elements of their respective reserve forces, continue to utilize training areas and small arms ranges at Camp Blanding as a part of their yearly training programs. A total of 15,166 man-days were spent in training exercises by such elements during the last year.

The U. S. Atlantic Fleet, Fleet Air, Naval Air Station, Jacksonville continues to maintain its leased portion of the Reservation which they utilize for the training of their pilots, to include carrier based personnel, in air-to-ground bombing and strafing, and for the operation of their Radar Scoring Station.

Game Management

The agreement between the Armory Board and the Department of Natural Resources, whereby portions of Camp Blanding are opened to controlled public hunting and fishing, remains in effect. Controlled burning and grain planting has been most favorable in production of game. Lake samplings indicated that stocked fish in certain lakes have done well in most instances.

Forest Management

The Armory Board continues to conduct a Forest Management Program at Camp Blanding. During the year, normal road maintenance throughout the reservation was accomplished and additionally, new roads, with drainage structures, were constructed. Harvesting and replanting of timber continues in a balanced program under the supervision of a professional forester.

Mining Operations

E. I. duPont deNemours and Company continues to mine on the western edge of Camp Blanding, with ilmenite the principle mineral removed from the soil. DuPont, at their own expense, as an ecological project, has instituted a procedure whereby the top six inches of soil is stripped and stockpiled, prior to the mining operation. This top soil is redistributed, on the subsequent spoil area, thereby successfully stabilizing the spoil and improving the return of vegetation.

Construction

Utilizing Federal training site funds authorized for opening, operating and closing costs, in connection with training at Camp Blanding, a great deal of renovation has been accomplished. This work included road repairs, paving and building repair. Several buildings utilized by National Guard troops, in the cantonment area, were renovated.

STATE FUNDS

Appropriated Funds

Disbursements of General Revenue Funds are based on appropriations made by the Florida State Legislature and are reflected in Appendix VII.

Camp Blanding Management Trust Fund

This fund consists of revenues realized at Camp Blanding, principally from the sale of timber products and royalties received from the mining operation.

Service Contracts

The Federal Government and the Armory Board have cost-sharing contracts for the maintenance and operation of the physical plant of certain facilities of the Florida National Guard. The Army Service Contract, which covers the Arsenal Annex, portions of Camp Blanding, the Army Aviation Maintenance Shop and sixteen Organizational Maintenance Shops, provides for a Federal share of 75% and Armory Board share of 25%. The Air Service Contract, which covers the Air National Guard Base at Jacksonville, provides for a Federal share of 80% and Armory Board share of 20%. Annual training and weekend training activities of the Florida National Guard are 100% Federally funded.

Budget Requests

The requests for operating funds for the coming year, by the Department of Military Affairs, appear in Appendix VII.

Inter-Service Agreement

The Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and the Reserve Forces, which includes the National Guard, currently operate under a policy whereby one service may support another on a reimbursable basis. This policy reduces duplication of effort, gives a faster response to requirements and effects an overall savings to the Federal Government and ultimately to the tax payer. The Florida National Guard receives subsistence from the active services installations throughout the State of Florida and we are thereby able to subsist our troops in a better manner and at a reduced cost over the purchase of this subsistence from commercial sources. Conversely, the Florida National Guard supports the active and other reserve forces by furnishing gasoline to these services at the bulk purchase price. The services and supplies furnished the other services on a reimbursable basis by the Florida National Guard during the past fiscal year amounted to $6,275.62.

DATA PROCESSING

The Department of Military Affairs, like many other agencies, utilizes electronic data processing to aid in the accomplishment of its mission. The Jacksonville Data Center serves this Department through a data center sub-unit located in the State Arsenal.

The Data Processing Center activity of the Directorate of Supply and Services (USPFO), is the servicing facility for all Federal programs required by the Florida Army National Guard. These programs consist of accounting functions for Federal activities of logistics, financial accounting, and civilian technician payrolls. The Center also maintains data and records and prepares reports for the Military Personnel, Organization and Training, Military Support to Civil Authorities and Maintenance Directorates. The Army National Guard is currently updating the data processing equipment from a 407 Tabulating System to a 1401 Card Processing System. When installed and operational, this system will enable the Data Processing Center to service the activities of the Florida Army National Guard with programs that are more responsive to its needs, and provide commanders with timely and concise information for improved control and utilization of Federal funds and equipment.

ADMINISTRATION

Administrative and staff services were provided to the Headquarters and the units of the Florida National Guard. These services included public affairs, records administration, mail management, distribution of Department of the Army publications, reproductions, awards and trophies, communications and security files.

RECORDS MANAGEMENT

The Department's Archives and Records Administration Program insures uniform procedures governing maintenance and disposition of records and the preserving of historical documents. Permanent records are microfilmed to reduce storage space.

COMMUNICATIONS

This Headquarters maintains a reliable communication system using the following means:

Commercial Telephone. A console (switchboard) providing external and internal communication equipped with a radio telephone patch capability.

Defense Communications Automatic Voice Switching Network (AUTOVON). A military worldwide general purpose dialing system providing the capability of immediate communication with other military installations.

Landline Teletype. A teletype network providing the capability to transmit and receive written messages.

National Warning System (NAWAS). A voice circuit emanating from North American Air Defense Command (NORAD), Colorado Springs, Colorado, the objective of which is to establish, operate and maintain an effective nation-wide warning system to alert governments and the public to the threat of extraordinary dangers. This system can also be used within the State for emergency operations with over seventy (70) extensions to the Governor's office, civil defense, police and sheriffs, and weather stations.

Command State Emergency Radio Net (COMSERN). A Florida National Guard radio net providing radio communication with Florida National Guard Task Force Headquarters strategically located throughout the State.

Florida Highway Patrol Radio Network. The Department has the capability of entering the Florida Highway Patrol Radio Net with a base station located in St. Augustine.

These communication systems when integrated provide continuous reliable communications under all conditions. To insure continuous communication with this Headquarters, a staff officer is available twenty-four hours daily.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The "Florida Guardsman" magazine, a four-page monthly insert in "The National Guardsman" is utilized to maintain a high level of morale and to promote esprit de corps. This magazine is subscribed to by Florida National Guardsmen.

An illustrated narrative briefing of the Florida National Guard continues to be an excellent method of furthering the understanding of civil authorities, civic organizations and other groups throughout the State of the organization, responsibilities and mission of the Department of Military Affairs.

The history of the State Arsenal and the Military Reservation dates back to the 16th century when it was the site of a Franciscan Monastery. In order to preserve and record this unique history a museum and archives is maintained. The museum is aptly located in the former monastery cells and endeavors to tell the story of the Florida National Guard and the militia from territorial days to the present. Historical documents and artifact contributed by Guardsmen, former Guardsmen and citizens have resulted in a collection of many historical items that would have otherwise become lost to posterity.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

The role the National Guard plays to the State and Nation during times of disaster and emergencies, both natural and man made and the service rendered by the Guardsmen to the citizens during these devastating occurrences are well known, little, however is said of community orientated activities of a non-military nature performed by the Guard. The armory facilities of the Florida National Guard are available for community functions and are extensively utilized by other governmental agencies; State, County and City. It is through this type of governmental cooperation that full utilization of facilities is accomplished. The armories' facilities; classrooms, drill hall, indoor rifle ranges and parking areas, etc., provide excellent accommodations for conducting various activities. The armories are also available to civic and fraternal organizations for their activities. In addition a ninety-acre (90) tract at Camp Blanding, "Camp Neyati", has been made available to the Gateway Girl Scout Council, Incorporated, for camping and other activities of youth groups.

Many National Guard units sponsor youth organizations and athletic teams. Further, they provide speakers and ceremonial detachments for civic and patriotic observances. Individual Guardsmen also serve as advisors and leaders for youth organizations in their communities.

SERVICE RECORDS

The Department has custody of available records of the soldiers of Florida. These records include Muster Rolls of the Indian Wars of 1835, Muster Rolls of the Florida Militia and Florida National Guard since 1835, and Rolls of the Florida troops mustered into the Confederate Forces and Union Forces in the War Between the States (Civil War), the Spanish American War, the Mexican Border Incident, World War I, World War II, the Korean Conflict, and the Berlin Crisis. A card record is maintained for each individual who entered World War I from the State of Florida, whether by enlistment, induction through Selective Service or induction with the Florida National Guard. In addition, an individual file folder, containing copies of all pertinent orders and personnel documents, is retained for each individual who has been a member of the Florida National Guard (Army and Air). The individual folders for current members are separated from the folders of former members and are maintained current at all times. These records occupy approximately 1,400 feet of shelf filing space. Requests for Statements of Service and information generally fall into two broad categories. The majority of requests in the first category are for documentary evidence to establish eligibility for some type of benefit such as Federal or State military retirement benefits; birth date and/or active Federal service for Social Security benefits; increased military longevity pay for former service; burial in a National Cemetery or government furnished grave marker; or hospitalization or other financial benefits through the Veterans Administration. The second category pertains to requests in the interest of genealogy or history and, for the most part, are applicable to records prior to 1900.

The number of Statements of Service furnished during the period of this report was 512 of which 61 were for advanced certification of completion of 20 years of active service which would entitle the individual to Federal retired pay for military service upon attaining age 60. This requirement was instituted to eliminate errors and misinformation which previously would not appear until individual reached age 60 at which time he would discover that some of his service did not meet this criteria and it was too late to perform additional service to meet the requirements for Federal retired pay.

MILITARY SUPPORT TO CIVIL AUTHORITY

General

The Adjutant General has both State and Federal responsibilities in providing support to civil authorities. The State responsibility involves providing troops (National Guard) to assist civil authorities in major emergencies when authorized by the Governor. On the Federal side The Adjutant General is responsible for the preattack planning and postattack operations of all military forces (Army, Navy, Air Force and their reserve components) to support civil defense (civil authority) within the State of Florida in event of a nuclear attack against this nation.

Planning and Coordination

The Adjutant General has been provided with five (5) federally paid technicians to plan for and supervise the Federal mission. In 1967, their role was expanded to include planning for and supervising State missions in support of civil authorities. These technicians form the Directorate for MSCA (Military Support to Civil Authority) in the Department of Military Affairs. Close liaison is maintained with law enforcement agencies and civil defense within the State as well as with Federal agencies and military forces. National Guard troop units within the State are organized into task forces for rapid response to locations within the vicinity of their home station. Close contact is maintained with civil authorities by these task forces.

Operations

The Department of Military Affairs goes into an increased readiness status immediately upon threat of civil disturbance, natural disaster, or similar emergency that may require use of National Guard troops. Measures taken include a telephone alert of key personnel, contact with local authorities, and review of capabilities of troop units in the emergency area. As the situation develops to a more serious threat additional actions are taken to man the EOC (Emergency Operations Center), dispatch liaison officers to area, alert troop units and send additional equipment and communications as deemed necessary.

Active State Duty

Under the provisions of Military Code, Chapter 250, Florida Statutes, troops of the Florida National Guard were called to Active State Duty to assist civil authorities during fiscal year 1972 as follows:

Disney World—Traffic Jams—1-3 and 23-25 October 1971

Four (4) officers and men operated two helicopters in assisting the Florida Highway Patrol in spotting and airlifting troopers to traffic jams during the openings at Disney World.

Hurricane Agnes—19 June 1972

Thirty-four (34) officers and men assisted local authorities in evacuation and traffic control in the Pinellas County area as a result of the flooding caused by high winds and tides.

FLORIDA NATIONAL GUARD OFFICER CANDIDATE SCHOOL

The Florida National Guard Officer Candidate School was established in March 1961, by the Adjutant General of Florida. The mission of the School is to provide effective instruction for Officer Candidates that will qualify them in the military educational requirements for appointment as second lieutenants, and to develop maximum leadership and command ability in the candidates.

The school is operated by a fourteen-man OCS section consisting of seven officers, one warrant officer and six enlisted men. The section is organic to the State Headquarters Detachment. During the Annual Training period the section is augmented with additional instructor and support personnel. The school is accredited by the Department of The Army and is inspected yearly by the Inspector General, Third United States Army to determine manner of performance. The school has received very high ratings on each inspection.

To successfully complete the Florida National Guard Officer Candidate Course encompasses a full year of study and training, starting with a two (2) week training period the first summer, followed by twelve (12) weekend training assemblies during the fall, winter and spring months and is completed at a second two week training period the second summer. The Program of Instruction taught is developed and monitored by the United States Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia, in coordination with Chief, National Guard Bureau, and closely parallels the resident Infantry Officer Candidate School. It consists of three hundred twenty-two (322) hours of instruction. All examinations are graded by the Infantry School. Methods of leadership development include rigid discipline, high standards of deportment and conduct, and exacting manner of performance, frequent and effective counseling, and continuous observation, correction and evaluation. The Florida National Guard Officer Candidate School is the primary source of junior officer procurement for the Florida Army National Guard. At present 56% of all company grade officers in the Florida Army National Guard are graduates of the school. In recent years personnel of the United States Army Reserve have been admitted to the school and, upon graduation, are appointed second lieutenants in that component. Numbers of candidates attending the Florida National Guard Officer Candidate School, and graduates, by year, are as shown below:

ARMY NATIONAL GUARD

The Florida Army National Guard entered fiscal year 1972 with a priority aggregate strength of 8,090 and during the fiscal year was increased to 8,305.

The strength of the Florida Army National Guard for this period has averaged 94.97 percent of the priority aggregate strength.

The primary source of officer procurement for Florida continues from the State OCS program. Due to the Active Military cut back, more interest has developed in recent months from Officers early released from their active duty commitments. Maximum use is being made of this temporary source of Officers.

During the period of this report, two procurement programs, "Try One" and "Reserve Components Active Army In-Service Recruiting" were continued to attract prior service personnel to enlist in the National Guard. Under these programs personnel may be enlisted in the grade held at the time of release from active duty without regard to the grade authorized for the vacancy for which enlisted. From these two programs approximately 600 enlisted men have been enlisted in the Florida Army National Guard. Due to the two programs in effect to enlist prior service personnel, there exists some overstrength in grade in many units, but it is believed this condition will alleviate itself by normal attrition.

RESERVE OFFICER PERSONNEL ACT OF 1954

During the period 1 July 1971 - 30 June 1972, the Reserve Officer Personnel Act of 1954 (ROPA) remained unchanged insofar as the provisions of mandatory elimination and mandatory promotion consideration were concerned.

During this period, 44 officers were considered for mandatory promotion with 32 being selected for a 73 percent selection rate. Breakdown of consideration is as follows:

	LT to CPT		CPT to MAJ		MAJ to LTC
RECOMMENDED	9	60%	12	67%	11	100%
NOT RECOMMENDED 1st	4	27%	4	22%	0	0%
NOT RECOMMENDED 2nd	2	13%	2	11%	0	0%
	15		18		11

The selection rate over the previous year has continued to increase reflecting the results of command emphasis placed on military education and the importance of the Officer Efficiency Report. It remains necessary for the majority of officers selected for mandatory promotion to decline their promotion for the authorized period. Due to the continuing backlog of declinations generated by the overstrength of the 1968 reorganization, the necessity will continue for officers selected under ROPA to decline their promotions to remain in Florida Army National Guard positions. It remains necessary for some officers to accept discharge from the Florida National Guard with transfer to the non-unit U.S. Army Reserve for mandatory promotion.

Effective 1 July 1972, a change which increases the educational requirements for promotion will have a decided effect on decreasing the selection rate under ROPA. A comparison of academic requirements are:

FOR PROMOTION TO:	Prior to 1 Jul 72	After 1 Jul 72
First Lieutenant	None	Basic Course
Captain	Basic Course	25% of Advance Course
Major	50% of Advance Course	Advance Course
Lieutenant Colonel	Advance Course	50% of Command and General Staff College
Colonel and General Officer	Command and General Staff College	Command and General Staff College

FLORIDA ARMY NATIONAL GUARD OFFICER SELECTION BOARD

During fiscal year 72 the Major – Lieutenant Colonel Selection Board met three times for the purpose of selecting officers for assignment to major and lieutenant colonel vacancies. Selections continue to come from officers serving under declinations or in the immediate zone of consideration.

One Colonels Selection Board was held during fiscal year 72, at which time selections were made for all known vacancies that would occur in 1972 and reassignments made to command and staff positions in accordance with officer career management practices.

The Officer Selection Boards continue to provide all officers, regardless of geographical location, unit or branch assignment an opportunity to be considered for field grade and colonel vacancies.

ARMY NATIONAL GUARD TRAINING

Training of the Florida Army National Guard is based on criteria prescribed by the United States Continental Army Command, in coordination with the National Guard Bureau. The Commanding General, Third United States Army is charged with the responsibility of coordination, support and supervision of prescribed training. Standards for training are established by Department of The Army and unit performance is evaluated annually during the active duty (annual training) period by a Board of Active Army Officers.

There are four phases of training: Basic Combat Training and Advanced Individual Training for development of basic skills and techniques, culminating in the assignment of Military Occupational Specialties (MOS) to individuals commensurate with the type of training received and which denotes qualification to perform the duties of a particular job assignment; Basic Unit Training, conducted by all units in accordance with the Army Training Program (ATP) appropriate to each type unit, to develop effective, well coordinated sections, teams and small units, composed of those members having acquired the skills and techniques as noted above in the Advanced Individual Training Phase; and finally, the Advanced Unit Training Phase which, is designed to provide practice in the employment of unit techniques, to develop unit operating procedures, and to furnish command and staff training in the conduct of combined arms training.

Rigid training objectives were assigned to all units of the Florida Army National Guard to be accomplished during training year 1971-72.

These objectives were: To attain and sustain proficiency at the highest level of the Basic Unit Training Phase or comparable level of the Army Training Program, to include testing. To develop in the individual soldier the ability to perform adequately in his military specialty, to use his individual weapon effectively, to maintain physical fitness, and to understand his rights and responsibilities as a member of the Armed Forces.

INITIAL ACTIVE DUTY FOR TRAINING PROGRAM

The Reserve Enlisted Program of 1963 (REP-63) continued during the period of this report. This program requires a nonprior service individual who enlists to enter within 180 days on his enlistment, on active duty for a minimum period of 120 days to receive basic and MOS training. Maximum active duty time is determined by the time required to train the individual in his assigned MOS.

During the period of this report, sufficient quotas were obtained from Department of The Army to preclude any backlogs from occurring during the year. Except for unusual circumstances, nonprior service enlistees entered their initial active duty for training within 30 to 180 days after enlistment.

A total of 977 trainees entered initial active duty for training during this period with 974 completing their training and returning to their National Guard unit.

ENLISTED EVALUATION SYSTEM

The Enlisted Evaluation System is a method of testing individuals in their assigned Military Occupation Specialty (MOS). This program has been in effect for the Army National Guard since April 1964 and is administered by the U. S. Army Enlisted Evaluation Center, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana.

During the past year, administering procedures have changed to eliminate the requirement for an Enlisted Efficiency Report to accompany the test and to reduce the frequency of the test to every four years instead of each year. Promotion or reassignment of MOS requires immediate retesting in that grade or MOS.

During 1972, four test periods were conducted in which a total of 1,290 enlisted personnel were evaluated. Test results continue to reflect personnel of the Florida National Guard compare favorably with the Active Army and the overall National Guard.

RETENTION AND RECRUITING

Pending a zero draft environment as committed by the President and Congress, National Guard Bureau authorized the employment of a Recruiting and Retention Officer for each State. It was recognized at all levels of command that the National Guard would face a strength crisis beginning in 1971. The State of Florida employed a Retention and Recruiting Officer in September of 1971.

During the months of September 1971 thru April 1972, a series of Recruiter Schools, Administrative Supply Technician and Officer Retention and Recruiting Seminars were scheduled. There were 250 unit Recruiters trained at the Company/Battery level Recruiter Training Schools conducted at four (4) locations within the State. Each class consisted of fourteen (14) hours of concentrated instruction. A total of sixty-five (65) AST's received a condensed six (6) hour Retention and Recruiting course during December 71. All officers and warrant officers of the Florida Army National Guard received the condensed six (6) hour Retention and Recruiting course conducted over a period of two months at three different locations of the State.

Beginning in August 1971 thru December 1971, the State lost strength in the amount of 522 personnel due to the large amount of ETS's occurring, compiled with the low percentage rate of enlistments and/or extensions. State strength increased by 176 as a result of reorganization on 3 January 1972. However, due to a vigorous State-wide Retention and Recruiting campaign, coupled with the "Reserve Components Active Army In-Service Recruiting" program, the loss trend was halted in December 1971. Beginning in January 72 through the end of fiscal year 72 a net gain of approximately 550 personnel was experienced. At the conclusion of fiscal year 72, the State was some 200 personnel short of priority aggregate strength. It is anticipated that this gaining trend will continue due to the efforts of all units in establishing a successful Retention and Recruiting program and that priority aggregate strength will be obtained early in fiscal year 73. Due to the number of one year enlistments during fiscal year 72, Retention and Recruiting will require strong emphasis for the foreseeable future.

SCHOOL PROGRAM

The Army National Guard School Program, supported from Federal funds, provides the vehicle for the branch and technical training of officer and enlisted personnel whereby they may qualify themselves for their unit TOE/TDA assignments and receive advance training in critical Military Occupational Specialties. It is through the media of the Service School Program that officers are afforded the opportunity to complete training in their chosen career fields, and officers and enlisted personnel alike maintain their proficiency in the areas of combat arms, technical and administrative fields.

During the year ending 30 June 1972, 92 officers and 44 enlisted personnel participated in the Army Service School Program, 130 officers and 60 enlisted personnel in the Army Area School Program, and 236 officers and 123 enlisted personnel participated in Specialized and Refresher Type Courses of Military Instruction. In addition, 16 additional officers and 315 non-commissioned officers participated in the Recruiting and Retention Seminar Program that was initiated during Calendar Year 1971.

FEDERAL FUNDS AND EQUIPMENT

The Florida Army National Guard continues to be better equipped than in previous years. This is due primarily to the issue of more modern equipment and the additional funding being made available to the State of Florida by the Federal Government.

The Secretary of Defense has announced that the National Guard will fill a major role in future national crises. In this announcement, statements were made that additional equipment, more modernized equipment and additional funds will be made available to the National Guard for the support of this increased national defense role. In keeping with this policy the Federal Government has furnished the State of Florida the following new items of equipment:

Camp Blanding, Florida, is being used for weekend training assemblies and annual training site for National Guardsmen, not only from the State of Florida but from other states. The Federal Government continues to partially support this site as evidenced in Appendix VIII.

During fiscal year 1972, there were 454 full-time Federal Employees paid from Federal Funds. Federal Funds, fiscal year 1972, expended in direct support of the Florida Army National Guard, totaled $16,148,120.32. This was an increase of $2,476,707.49 over funds furnished in fiscal year 1971. At the close of fiscal year 1972, the value of Army equipment on hand in the State totaled $36,116,699.13.

MAINTENANCE OF FEDERAL PROPERTY

Surface Equipment

The maintenance of surface equipment is accomplished in two general categories - organizational and support.

Organizational (user and unit) maintenance is accomplished as a part of military training within the organization. To assist Commanders, there are 16 Organizational Maintenance Shops, with an authorized technician strength of 114, strategically located to furnish backup organizational maintenance.

Support maintenance (major rebuild) is accomplished at the Combined Support Maintenance Shop located at Camp Blanding. With an authorized technician strength of 64, the major items of equipment supported are 10,248 small arms, 143 artillery, 96 combat vehicles, 2,698 tactical vehicles (including trailers) 665 sighting and fire control items, 2,664 communications and electronics items, and 515 engineer and special purpose equipment. Ninety percent of the CSMS personnel are technically trained, and in order to keep abreast of the latest techniques and ever increasing complexity of equipment, attendance at service schools (Army) and manufacturer's courses of instruction is encouraged.

The Annual Training Equipment Pool (ATEP), located at Camp Blanding, performs organizational maintenance of 64 Guns, Self-Propelled, Twin, 40mm (Air Defense Artillery), for use by National Guard Air Defense Artillery units in the Third United States Army Area, and is manned by 9 full-time technicians.

ARMY AVIATION

Army Aviation units within the Florida Army National Guard were reorganized since the last Adjutant General's Report. The new organizations consist of the 111th Aviation Company (Corps), Command Aviation Section 53d Infantry Brigade with attached KD and LF teams, Aviation Section 227th FA Gp, Aviation Section 53d Signal Gp and the 146th Signal Battalion has aviation as an integral part. Strength for both officers and enlisted men remained approximately the same after reorganization. All Army aviation will continue to be consolidated at the Aviation Support Facility Complex located adjacent to Craig Airport, Jacksonville, Florida.

The Aviation Support Facility Command is responsible to the Adjutant General for the overall supervision of administration, training and logistics of the aviation units. To assist in the accomplishment of this mission forty-six (46) federally paid technicians are employed who are professionals in their particular field whether it be administration, maintenance, supply, or flight instructions.

New and modern aircraft continue to be received into these units on a predetermined schedule. At present the aircraft consist of ten UH-1D/H, seven OH-58A, two U-6A, nine OH-23D, one U-3A and one 1CA1 Flight Simulator. The two U-6A aircraft will be phased out along with the nine OH-23D aircraft in approximately one year as we receive our total authorization of modern aircraft which will be twenty-two OH-58, ten UH-1D/H and three U-21 aircraft. The assigned U-3A is a twin-engine executive transport which is a substitute for the U-21 aircraft.

Aviation units continue to be maintained at or near full strength with a large backlog of experienced aviators waiting to enter the National Guard aviation program. A large percentage of the aviators are young combat veterans with experience in the type aircraft being received into the aviation units. An aggressive recruiting effort is being maintained to fill those hard skills in the enlisted category.

The aviation-complex continues to change, improve and expand as the mission of the aviation units changes.

Since the last report the aircraft parking ramp was doubled in size to take care of the additional rotary wing aircraft as they are received. In addition a separate sheet metal and welding shop was constructed to give more room for our overly crowded avionics shop and make our sheet metal and welding shop more functional.

The aviation maintenance shop continues to perform organizational, direct support and limited general support maintenance. A new National Guard Transportation Aircraft Repair Shop has been organized at Gulfport, Mississippi which is designed to support Florida and other southeastern states in maintenance beyond the shop's capability.

The Army Air Field located on Camp Blanding continues to be used by Army aviation both from Florida and other states for tactical training. The close proximity of this airfield to our fixed installation makes it an ideal training site as a minimum of time is lost getting to the location.

Florida is budgeted for 4,635 flying hours for the next fiscal year. This is somewhat lower than our previous 6,000 hour budget, however, with close monitoring this will permit each aviator to fly 120 hours for combat proficiency as required by regulations.

Army Aviation units continue to participate in community projects and public information programs. They participate with active Army and other Army National Guard units in keeping the public informed on the National Guard and its activities.

AIR NATIONAL GUARD

The mission of the Florida Air National Guard is to maintain a highly trained force to perform its wartime assignment and provide loaded combat ready aircraft on alert for use at any time by the 20th NORAD Region.

During this year, we supplied two aircraft on five minute and two aircraft on fifteen minute alert status, twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week in defense of the southeastern United States. To provide such a force from a nonactive duty unit requires dedication and sacrifice by all the personnel. To fulfill just the alert portion of the Unit's mission required over five thousand active duty mandays. For a pilot to be qualified to stand alert, he must be combat ready, this requires many training sorties per month. Each pilot must also spend considerable off duty time in preflight preparation. In addition to the alert commitment, we have also used our instructor pilots and aircraft to requalify Air Force pilots in the F-102, supplied numerous aircrew and aircraft to both the 20th NORAD Region and other regions to assist in air defense effectiveness tests, participated in live armament firing programs at Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida, in addition to our regular deployment and fired fifteen AIMS Missiles and ninety FFAR Rockets on these missions, qualified numerous Air Force Weapons Controllers in both conventional direction centers and in Airborne Early Warning Aircraft and supplied formations of aircraft for military reviews and special services. Operational and training activities involving the alert force were as follows:

Thirty (30) Air Defense Scrambles were ordered. All became airborne with some identifying unknown aircraft and others used to shadow hijacked airliners.

Sixteen hundred eighteen (1618) training intercepts were flown by airmen on alert status during daily training operations.

One hundred nineteen (119) training flights were flown on Air Defense exercises with one hundred fifty-six (156) successful intercepts.

An Operational Readiness Inspection and General Inspection of the 125th Fighter Group was conducted by an inspection team representing the Inspector General, Headquarters, Aerospace Defense Command, during the period 15 thru 21 October 1971.

The 125th Fighter Group deployed to Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida, during 27 February thru 4 March 1972. During this period nine (9) aircraft (Airborne Weapons Systems) were evaluated utilizing a test firing program against firebee drone targets. Eleven (11) aircrews and thirty-six (36) support personnel were involved in the deployment. Forty-nine Sorties were flown during the deployment, one (1) AIM 4D Missile was fired, eight (8) AIM 4A Missiles were fired and twelve (12) FFAR Rockets were fired.

The 125th Fighter Group leads the Air National Guard units in exercise participation. During the year, NORAD or the 20th Region conducted eighteen (18) live exercises in which the 159th Fighter Interceptor Squadron provided a large interceptor force, plus numerous target aircraft.

Aircrew Flying and Ground Training Requirements accomplished during this period were as follows: 100% of all Ground Training was accomplished. 100% of all Flying Training was accomplished. Twenty-four pilots had Physiological Training. Twelve hours of Academic Instrument Refresher Training was received. Twelve hours C-54 Refresher Training for support aircrews was received.

Twenty-seven (27) Primary Duty Fighter Pilots and seven (7) overhead (supervisory) pilots are authorized in the 125th Fighter Group. An average of twenty-seven (27) pilots was maintained during this period. At present, three (3) officers are in Pilot Training School. Average total time of all pilots - 3,145 hours, average total jet time - 2,505 hours and average total unit equipment aircraft time - 1,215 hours.

ADMINISTRATIVE/PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

During 1972, Administrative Management continued to receive command emphasis at all levels. The additional responsibilities placed by both the National Guard Bureau and the gaining command necessitates an almost continuous review of policies and procedures to keep abreast in this area.

Command Inspections are now performed on a No-Notice basis, plus being subject to the Added Unit Evaluation Inspections conducted by Headquarters, United States Air Force.

A General Inspection to include an Operational Readiness Inspection was performed by the gaining command (Aerospace Defense Command) during this period. In the area of Administration, an Outstanding rating was received for the excellent Documentation Program within the Florida Air National Guard.

Although not scheduled for implementation until April 1973, preparation for the implementation of the Base Level Military Personnel System (BLMPS) was the dominant force in the Personnel area during 1972. The drastic changes in maintaining personnel data brought about by BLMPS and the collecting of expanded data require extensive training of Personnel Specialists and orientation of base personnel managers well in advance of the actual implementation date. The system also requires significant changes in the Base Personnel Office structure. These organizational changes began during 1972 at base level.

New emphasis on Air National Guard Recruiting also had its impact on the personnel area. Selection, assignment and training of base level recruiters was put into operation during the last part of fiscal year 72. During this period Operation "Palace Chase" was implemented allowing members of the regular component to separate and enlist in the Air National Guard to fulfill their remaining active duty commitment. The increased recruiting effort, supplemented by the Air Force "Palace Chase" program, proved fruitful as we closed the fiscal year with a higher percentage of assigned personnel than we have enjoyed in many years.

Plans were also developed and preparation begun for implementation of the Point Credit Accounting & Reporting System (PCARS). As scheduled implementation date is 1 October 1972, purification and verification of the present retirement point system was accomplished during the period of this report.

Fiscal year 72 ended a good year in the Administrative/Personnel functional area and marked the beginning of an even more challenging and beneficial coming year.

SCHOOL TRAINING

All non-prior service enlistees in the Florida Air National Guard are required to complete a minimum of four months active duty subsequent to enlistment. This training may consist of USAF Basic Military Training (BMT) with a period of intensive on-the-job training at home station, or Basic Military Training with subsequent entry into an Air Force technical school. The larger portion of the enlistment spaces received have been BMT with subsequent entry into the technical school. This is to the advantage of the Air National Guard in that these Airmen receive the necessary fundamentals of a job in a formal school geared for the purpose of teaching. This formal training makes the actual on-the-job training portion comparatively easy.

For the past several years, the unit has maintained a large backlog of applicants on the waiting list. However, due to the uncertainty of the selective service calls, this waiting list has diminished to zero. In an effort to maintain the units strength the Florida Air National Guard has initiated a program of having its members sell the Air National Guard to their friends and acquaintances. In addition to this, a full time recruiter is being called to active duty to enhance the efforts of this program.

Various other types of formal training courses are available to members of the Florida Air National Guard in addition to those for non-prior service airmen. Some of these courses are: undergraduate pilot training, advanced training courses, lateral training, special training courses, field training detachment courses, etc.

This unit has continued to utilize the Air National Guard Non-Commissioned Officer Academy at Knoxville, Tennessee. At the present time, there are fifty-two (52) graduates of the full academy and one (1) who has attended Phase I only. This individual has an application pending for the Phase II class.

UNIT TRAINING

Unit training is conducted in accordance with directives published by the National Guard Bureau, Headquarters, United States Air Force, Aerospace Defense Command, and by local directives. The heart of the unit training program is on-the-job training (OJT). The OJT program of the Florida Air National Guard continued to progress at a satisfactory rate during the past year, having only a few airmen in the unit becoming delinquent in their training.

OJT Trainer-Supervisor classes were scheduled and conducted by a highly qualified United States Air Force instructor in 1972. These classes are designed to acquaint supervisory personnel and trainers with classification, assignment, training methods and upgrading procedures. Practically all personnel who are involved in administering an OJT program or who have the responsibility of actually conducting OJT have attended this course in past years.

The Dual-Channel concept of conducting OJT is still as effective as it has been in the past. Career Development Courses have been prepared on all career fields authorized in the Florida Air National Guard, except the medical field which has about one-half available.

ANNUAL TRAINING

Annual training for fiscal year 1972 was conducted on the year round training plan. Some of the objectives of this plan are to:

Increase daily support capability in accomplishment of the local and Aerospace Defense Command mission.

Improve utilization of annual training manpower by programming against actual work requirements.

Improve individual proficiency training through reduction of supervisor to trainee ration and increase actual job performance in normal duty Air Force Specialty Codes.

Through closer supervision, planning and training, qualify personnel by a vigorous OJT and classroom training program in their specialty.

Obtain more useful work from personnel as the direct product of their OJT, and reduction of trainees on hand to be supervised at a given time.

Increase participation by commanders, staff officers, and supervisors by increasing planning and supervisory responsibilities for daily operation of the unit.

Attain a closer daily working relationship between the Air technicians and military personnel with increased emphasis on military direction and supervision.

Improve Air National Guard—employer relations by allowing large organizations that have several employees who are Guardsmen to schedule their annual training at various periods.

FEDERAL FUNDS AND EQUIPMENT

The mission of the Florida Air National Guard is such that it must be operationally ready for combat at all times. To insure the maximum readiness, the Federal government funds and equips the Florida Air National Guard on a level closely paralleling the active Air Force. An average of two hundred three (203) full-time Federally supported technicians are employed at the Air National Guard Base in Jacksonville. These technicians, representing about 25% of the overall strength of the Florida Air Guard, are specialists in the fields of command, administration, finance, accounting, supply and maintenance.

During fiscal year 1972, Federal funds in the amount of $4,957,192.80 were expended in support of the Florida Air National Guard. The value of military equipment in use is $40,178,827.40.

The F-102 aircraft, with which the Florida Air National Guard is currently equipped, is an expensive weapon system to operate. Cash purchases of supplies and services in the Jacksonville area in support of this aircraft during fiscal year 1972 totaled $5,357.22, while purchase orders and delivery orders on local business concerns totaled $163,403.81. Local transportation companies received $8,644.82 for movement of material from Jacksonville to various points in the nation. Cross Service agreements with other military activities in the Jacksonville area resulted in services to the Florida Air National Guard valued at $42,065.41. The Federal funds paid to Florida business concerns, coupled with the $3,832,206.09 paid in salaries during this period, represents an industry of considerable value to the State of Florida and its citizens.

The warehouse inventory of 5531 active items was maintained at $1,185,911.00. There was an average of 16,790 monthly transactions. These figures indicate an efficient inventory control system that is well within the limits prescribed by the active Air Force. The aircraft fuel section issued fuel and petroleum products during this period that were valued at $42,589.62.

The new on base F-102 Aircraft Inspection Repair as Needed (IRAN) program was satisfactorily supported from the existing manpower. A total of $44,186.00 worth of funded parts were issued in support of this program. This is expected to increase over the next year.

The Florida Air National Guard supply section completed its first complete year under the Standard Base Level Supply System (UNIVAC 1050-II). This was considered to be a successful year and quite an improvement over the older outdated system formerly used. The unit is still satellited on the computer located at Moody Air Force Base, Georgia and is being supported in a satisfactory manner.

MAINTENANCE

During the past fiscal year, an average of one hundred nineteen (119) personnel were employed by the Air Technician Detachment of the Florida Air National Guard to perform maintenance on unit aircraft which include nineteen (19) F-102s, two (2) TF-102s, two (2) T-33s, one (1) C-54 and one (1) U-3 aircraft. Maintenance personnel are responsible for performance of all organizational maintenance and much of the intermediate maintenance on both the primary mission and support mission aircraft, missiles and associated test equipment, ground power equipment, all motor vehicles, including crash and firefighting equipment, the flight simulator, and the base communications system.

The 125th Fighter Group has had the F-102 as its primary aircraft for over twelve years. This is the longest period of time this unit has retained any single aircraft model, and it has enabled us to attain an exceptionally high level of maintenance proficiency. Although we have had this same type of aircraft for over twelve years, we have on several occasions changed to aircraft of a different series and have actually possessed thirty-one (31) aircraft other than the aircraft currently on board. During this twelve year period, more than 52,500 hours of F-102 flying time have been logged. The average experience level of Air Technician employees is now over eighteen years. The experience level of all mechanics and specialists, both Air Technicians and week-end trainees, has risen steadily as a result of continued vigorous on-the-job training programs conducted at this base, coupled with attendance of most newly assigned airmen at Air Force Technical Schools. In employing maintenance technicians, only the best qualified are selected. Attendance of technicians at United States Air Force Schools is encouraged to keep them abreast of the latest technical data.

In the month of September, the on site Inspection Repair as Necessary (IRAN) program for the F-102 was started. This program requires the removal of the wings, replacement of all hydraulic actuators, rewire of most systems, removal and replacement of corroded fuselage skins, removal of any moisture from flight control surfaces, pressure check of flight control surfaces, and a complete Non Destructive Inspection of wings and all attached fittings. NDI is the X-Raying of these major components for cracks and corrosion. This program proves to be the major step to having first class aircraft. The amount of repair already accomplished by the IRAN crew is unbelievable. Three aircraft have been through the complete IRAN program and two others are in progress. Noteworthy is the fact that IRAN maintenance crews have held the flow time for these inspections to the projected schedule of eighty-one days. In the majority of cases, wing changes have been necessary and the replacement wings, which are shipped from the "bone yard" in Arizona, have required a considerable amount of work. The projected flow time for future IRAN inputs has been reduced to approximately sixty days. It is felt that this is a realistic schedule since maintenance crews have now gained a great deal of experience and have learned what to expect insofar as problem areas are concerned.

In addition to the IRAN maintenance mentioned above, nine aircraft have undergone major modification for installation of an electronic system which provides an automatic in-flight altitude reporting capability so that Federal Aviation Agency ground stations can detect aircraft altitude without voice communication. Also, as a result of several major F-102 accidents within the Air National Guard, all aircraft have received two special inspections for correct operation and modification of all angle drive units.

Parts procurement problems go hand-in-hand with old aircraft. During fiscal year 1972, we were NORS (Not Operationally Ready Supply) for ten months due to lack of parts. This compares with no months NORS during the previous year. A total of one hundred forty-seven (147) cannibalization actions were required on F-102 aircraft. This is the removal of parts, not otherwise available, from one aircraft to make another operationally ready. Cannibalization is a "last resort" action.

During fiscal year 1972 we overflowed the programmed and allotted 4300 F-102 flying hours by 137 hours. We also overflowed the allotted 350 C-54 hours by 73.6 hours. This is considered exceptional since on-board manning is directly related to the flying hours allotted.

DIVISION EXERCISES

During the course of the year on numerous occasions, we are called upon to assist various Air Force units and air divisions by supporting division exercises with target and/or interceptor aircraft. Our parent air division has commended this unit many times for the support furnished during these around-the-clock operations.

INSPECTIONS

We received a "Satisfactory" rating from the Inspector General during our IG inspection in October 1971. The Inspector General commented that "maintenance personnel were knowledgeable, cooperative and enthusiastic in the performance of their duties". The IG rated the Maintenance Analysis Section as outstanding for the second year.

AIR DEFENSE COMMAND ALERT

The maintenance section provides support for the twenty-four (24) hour Air Defense Command alert commitment with ready maintenance crews and aircraft. Weapons loading crews are available for necessary loading and unloading of aircraft armament on a continuing basis. Our aircraft have been scrambled on many occasions to provide escort and surveillance for aircraft being hijacked to Cuba.

TYNDALL DEPLOYMENT

During January 1972, eight (8) aircraft, eight (8) pilots and twenty-nine (29) maintenance support personnel were sent on temporary duty to Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida. The purpose of this deployment was to evaluate the F-102 weapons system and aircrews in actual firing of missiles against the Firebee radio controlled drone targets. Our success rate at deployments such as this is a tribute to the high degree of skill displayed by both pilots and maintenance personnel.

AIR NATIONAL GUARD BASE

The Florida Air National Guard Base at Jacksonville, Florida since activation in 1968, has experienced a serious grounds erosion problem. To alleviate this situation, and at the same time afford those personnel in the Roads & Grounds career field practical on-the-job training and experience, several items of heavy road construction equipment were borrowed from the 153d Engineer Company, Lake City, Florida, an organization whose attitude and willingness to assist another branch of the service is to be commended.

In addition to the erosion problem mentioned above, several other fiscal year 72 projects were accomplished at this base such as: equipment preventive maintenance, water and air line installations, and lighting and power circuit additions.

125th CIVIL ENGINEERING FLIGHT

The 125th Civil Engineering Flight Prime BEEF "C" Team deployed to the Permanent Field Training Site (PFTS), Savannah, Georgia, during the period 4 thru 10 March 1972. The deployment's purpose was two-fold in that it accomplished sixteen much needed minor alteration and repair projects and at the same time afforded the "C" team members much valuable training and practical experience in their military career fields. Certain situations necessitated a mature judgement where improvisation was called for. The Prime BEEF "C" Team consisted of one officer and twenty-seven airmen and projects accomplished are listed in Appendix IX.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS

During 1972, the Florida Air National Guard Information Office emphasized community relations programs and internal information, and developed a concerted recruiting and retention program in anticipation of national steps toward a "Zero Draft" posture.

A recruiting coordinator was appointed and several meetings were held with non-commissioned officers to ascertain the image of the Air National Guard among first term enlisted men and new recruits. A recruiting program was subsequently organized, including public service announcements through the mass media, personal contacts with various public and private youth counselors to inform them of opportunities in the Air National Guard, and direct solicitation among youths in high schools and colleges. A speakers bureau was also organized. The recruiting program is to be on a continuing basis.

Retaining trained enlisted men beyond their initial enlistments is another primary emphasis of the Florida Air National Guard. In support of regular retention activities among all squadrons, an orientation program concerning the Air National Guard and its mission was prepared and delivered to approximately forty men once a month. The program will be repeated monthly until the entire group has had an opportunity to see the presentation. The briefing covers a wide range of subjects and has been well received among the enlisted men. It emphasizes the purpose and role of reserve forces, and the importance of each individual job in the overall mission of the Group.

The Florida Air National Guard Air Police were briefed quarterly concerning their authority and responsibility vis-a-vis the mass media in the event of aircraft accidents. Maximum freedom of coverage is emphasized, consistent with rescue operations and security. Legal steps to take in the event of compromised security are also outlined.

A highlight of the year was a brief visit by famous entertainer Bob Hope, who toured the Group, and consented to have his name used for television commercials in behalf of the Air National Guard, and for recruiting materials.

The NCO Academy Graduates Association made a significant contribution to the community relations program of the Air National Guard through its flag presentation project at Jacksonville area schools. A patriotic theme accompanies the flag presentation.

ADVISORS

ARMY

The primary mission of the U. S. Army Advisor Group is to provide maximum advice and assistance to the units of the Florida National Guard in all phases of training, administration, maintenance and supply procedures to accomplish their mission of attaining and maintaining a high degree of operational readiness. The Senior Army Advisor, Colonel Dale F. McGee, Jr., is the liaison officer between the Adjutant General and the Commanding General, Third United States Army.

The Advisor Group is organized to parallel the organization of the Florida Army National Guard. The Headquarters of the Advisor Group is located at the State Arsenal in St. Augustine. Advisor Detachments are at the Alternate Command Headquarters in Jacksonville and Headquarters, 53d Brigade in Tampa. Under these two sub-commands, there are twenty-two Advisor Stations at National Guard armories throughout Florida.

AIR

The Department of the Air Force provides an officer as Air Force Advisor and a Non-Commissioned Officer as Air Force Technical Advisor to the Florida Air National Guard, with office at the Headquarters, 125th Fighter Group, Jacksonville International Airport, Florida. The mission of the Advisors is to provide administrative advice and technical assistance within their capabilities.

The Aerospace Defense Command is the gaining command of the Florida Air National Guard with operational control provided by the 20th Air Division, Fort Lee Air Force Station, Virginia.

After several years without an officer advisor being assigned to the 125th Fighter Group, Lieutenant Colonel James D. Baker was assigned during May 1971. LTC Baker performs liaison duties with the Air Force and the Adjutant General.

Senior Master Sergeant Robert J. Holden has served as the Airman Advisor since October 1969. Both LTC Baker and SMSGT Holden have completed tours in Southeast Asia and are well orientated in the Aerospace Defense Command mission.

NATIONAL GUARD OFFICERS ASSOCIATION OF FLORIDA

The National Guard Officers Association of Florida has been in existence since 1902. It consists of all officers and warrant officers of the Florida Army and Air National Guard. The organization is run on a democratic basis, with the officers elected by the membership. Committee meetings are held periodically during the year, and a general conference is convened annually at some location within the State. The annual conferences consist of business sessions during the day with the social functions in the evening.

The purposes of the Association are to promote and improve adequate national security; to provide a medium by which all officers of the Florida National Guard may become better acquainted; to establish a foundation for promoting esprit de corps in the Florida National Guard; to promulgate and support legislation in furtherance of the best interests of the Florida National Guard; and, to maintain an Association complementing and in harmony with the National Guard Association of the United States.

This Association has 100% membership of all active National Guard officers and warrant officers. Even though members attend the annual conferences at their own expense, attendance continues to average in excess of 50% at these conferences. During fiscal year 1972, the 70th Annual Conference was held at the Hawaiian Village Motel, Tampa, Florida, on 16-17 June. Distinguished guests participating were:
