SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

This year has been extremely difficult for the Florida Department of Corrections as a result of an unprecedented increase in the prison population. In fact, this year we have had our biggest numerical increase in the Department's history, 4,582 inmates. In order to cope with this, the Department brought on line 1,774 additional beds at maximum capacity this year and began exploring ways to bring new facilities on line and expand existing facilities as quickly as possible. Population projections indicate a need for 1,640 crisis beds by April 1983. This number is in addition to present facilities. Temporary plywood housing units are being constructed in order to meet this immediate demand for additional inmate housing.

It has long been recognized that an important part of an inmate's incarceration can be a positive work experience coupled with vocational training. Either of these provide incentive depending on the inmate's individual capabilities. The increase in the number of beds needed will also require expansion of the Department's work and training program.

A commonly misunderstood and misused statistic regarding the Florida Department of Corrections is the number of inmates involved in work programs. Because the Correctional Industries Program is often the subject of favorable publicity, many times the assumption has been made that inmates in this program are the only inmates who are working. Perhaps due to this assumption, the thought has been expressed by interested individuals and organizations that we need to involve all inmates in Correctional Industries Programs in order for them all to be working. In fact, there are over 9000 inmates participating in work programs, in addition to over 2000 inmates, or 9.7%, involved in Correctional Industries. Included in the additional programs are Inter-agency Work Squads, Maintenance and Construction Work, Support Work Services, and Permanent Party Inmates in our Community Correctional Centers.

Inter-agency Work Squads represent about 6.6% of our total inmate population. The Work Squads provide labor for moving state offices throughout the state, assisting local units of government, civic and religious organizations and other non-profit organizations in a variety of ways. The inmates have performed work for Head Start Daycare Centers, Childrens Homes and Little League Associations. Other inmate population (6.7%) is regularly assigned to maintenance and construction work in our major institutions. These inmates perform institutional maintenance functions in areas including electric, air conditioning, equipment repair, painting, carpentry and others.

Additionally, private contractors engaged in the construction of new correctional facilities, or renovation of existing facilities have inmate workers assigned to them. As a result, the State of Florida is reimbursed by the contractors for such labor contributed on projects.

The operation of a major institution is big business, and there are a large number of support work services required in the operation. Inmates perform work in food services, laundries, grounds keeping, internal housekeeping, health services and in a variety of other areas. Approximately 33% of the inmate population is involved in these sorts of jobs.

In addition to the work programs, 16.8% of the total prison population is involved in academic education and vocational training; and 8.3% are in the Work Release Program through Community Correctional Centers and Women's Adjustment Centers. All of these inmates, with the exception, of course, of those involved in academic education and vocational training, are making direct contributions through working, which together have a sizable economic value. It is estimated that the dollar value of each inmate working in Correctional Industries is $11,500 per year on the average. It is also estimated that those inmates working on the Inter-agency Work Squads, in Maintenance and Construction and in the support work services each are producing a needed service or product having a value of approximately $7,000 per year. Presumably, if the inmate did not do this work, the State of Florida would have to pay approximately $7,000 per year to purchase products or services now produced by the inmates. The estimated value of this work effort in the major institutions is $77,000,000 per year and involved 56% of the total prison population. This percentage, together with the 16.8% in academic and vocational programs and the 8.3% in Work Release provides for a total of 81.1% of the prison population in the State of Florida productively and directly involved in work or training programs. The remaining 19% are engaged in the reception and orientation processes, in transit between institutions, sick or medically unfit for work, in administrative or disciplinary confinement or on Death Row.

The point to be made is that 81.1% of Florida's state prison inmates are in fact working or being trained. The remaining 19% are not utilized for established reasons. This means that the Industries Program represents only 8.7% of the total work or training opportunities for inmates in prison, but remains the most visible and well known.

As the prison population grows, it will become even more important that inmates be involved in work programs. The Fiscal Year 1981-82 prison population net increase of 4,582 obviously results in a population growth which will require more prison beds, and ultimately, more prisons. In the planning and programming for new beds and new correctional institutions every possibility for inmate work opportunities will be considered.

A tremendously significant accomplishment by staff of the Department during the year was the successful continuation of Accreditation efforts. A twenty-fifth Major Institution and all 82 Probation and Parole Offices were accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Corrections. Thirty-one Community Correctional Centers and Women's Adjustment Centers were admitted to candidate status and subsequent to the end of the fiscal year, accredited. All staff involved should be commended for their efforts. I am proud of them.

Given the magnitude of the population growth this past fiscal year it would be very easy for this Department, under the pressures of ever tightening resources, to evolve into a system that simply warehouses inmates. This must not happen. The Florida Department of Corrections will leave no stone unturned in our efforts to ensure that all available inmates are working, whether in Industries or in other work programs.

CRISIS BEDS

In June 1982, a special session of the Legislature was called by the Governor and funds were appropriated for additional facilities and staffing. However, due to logistics and required construction time, permanent facilities for new beds cannot be made available to meet the needs on a timely basis.

To meet the critical need of bed spaces for a rapidly expanding inmate population, the Department was forced to begin construction of temporary housing units.

Plans call for 1,640 beds to be on line by April, 1983. Temporary plywood units are being built utilizing inmate labor at several Department of Corrections locations. Each unit has a capacity for either 40 or 56 beds. Self-contained facilities are also being constructed at locations adjacent to the dormitories to provide required services.

ACCREDITATION UP-DATE

Accreditation offers a mechanism to upgrade corrections systematically and is recognized nationally as the highest honor for efficient and progressive operation of institutional facilities. The Commission on Accreditation for Corrections, in cooperation with the American Correctional Association (ACA), sets the standards to be met during the accreditation process.

In FY 1980-81 twenty-four of the twenty-five major Correctional Institutions received full accreditation from the Commission.

DURING FY 1981-82:

- The 25th institution was fully accredited. Tomoka, the 26th institution (opened in July 1982) has now applied for evaluation.
- All eighty-two Probation and Parole Services Offices were accredited.
- Thirty-one Community Correctional Centers were audited by the Commission on Accreditation for Corrections and achieved the passing percentages necessary to be fully accredited after final hearings. (Thirty of these Work Release Centers and Women's Adjustment Centers were accredited at the ACA Conference in August 1982.)

The individual directly responsible for spearheading the accreditation process in Florida was C. Winston Tanksley, Accreditation Manager for the Department. He was employed by the Department in 1979 to assist in reaching the goal of a fully accredited corrections system. He began his task, armed with enthusiasm, professional knowledge and broad experiences in the field. As a result, in less than three years Florida has achieved the lead position in the Nation for correctional accreditation. For Mr. Tanksley's accomplishments he was selected as one of eleven to be honored at the Governor's Fifth Annual Employee Appreciation Luncheon.

WINNERS—Former Accreditation Manager Winston Tanksley and DC Secretary Louie L. Wainwright receive accreditation certificates for correctional facilities from Gary Blake, Chairman of the Commission on Accreditation.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE CONCEPTS IN PRISON INDUSTRIES

Section 945.135, F.S. enacted by the 1981 Legislature provided for the establishment of a private non-profit corporation to operate and manage prison industries. This Corporation, called Prison Rehabilitative Industries and Diversified Enterprises, Inc. (P.R.I.D.E.) is governed by a Board of Directors appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate. The Department of Corrections is authorized to lease industry facilities to the Corporation with the intent that the Corporation would gradually assume operation of all industries.

The goal of P.R.I.D.E. is to provide an organizational mechanism to avoid the many constraints of state government that restrict the ability of prison industries to operate efficiently. Some of these constraints consist of the stringent regulations governing personnel and purchasing procedures, competition with the free enterprise system, as well as management and control of working capital—including retained earnings.

For the initial implementation into this venture, the printing industry at Zephyrhills Correctional Institution was leased and is currently being operated by P.R.I.D.E. Negotiations are in progress for this Corporation to next assume the total operations of the industries program at Glades Correctional Institution.

To conclude, the concepts expressed (or implied) in Section 945.135 should prove beneficial in creating a more effective operating environment for industries programs. However, the concepts are largely untested and they raise operational concerns which must be successfully resolved. Co-operative efforts must be thoroughly evaluated and supported by the Governor, Legislature, Corrections, Labor and Private Enterprise before program success can be claimed.

SIGNIFICANT CONTRIBUTIONS AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS

1. Interagency work squads of prison inmates provided an estimated 388,800 man hours of effort during FY 1981-82 which had an estimated total value of $2,974,800. These squads worked on projects ranging from moving state offices to assisting in community projects involving local units of government, daycare centers, churches and civic organizations. In addition, contractors providing renovation services or new construction in existing Department of Corrections' facilities were required to use inmates skilled in the construction trades instead of outside labor when at all possible.
2. The Correctional Industries Program provided work opportunities for inmates in 2,000 work stations. Inmates in these programs produced goods and services having a total value of $23 million. This represents an average production value of $11,500 per inmate.
3. The eighty-two Probation and Parole Services Field Offices under the direction of the Department were accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Corrections.
4. Thirty-one Community Correctional Centers and Women's Adjustment Centers were admitted to accreditation Candidate Status During FY 1981-82.
5. In response to the increasing pressure of a growing inmate population, 1,774 additional beds, at maximum capacity, were brought on line during FY 1981-82 to help alleviate overcrowding situations in the prison system.
6. In order to meet the projected needs for inmate beds in the future and to meet the requirements of Costello v. Wainwright and other Federal mandates, over 25 potential new prison sites were physically evaluated.

RESOLUTION—Governor Bob Graham presents Mrs. Tom Svenson and her son Bjorn with a resolution honoring her late husband's service to the State of Florida at the October 1, 1982 Cabinet Meeting in the Capitol. Svenson, a Probation and Parole Officer, was gunned down by an unknown assailant in front of his Miami office August 31, 1982.

7. The Prison Rehabilitative Industries and Diversified Enterprises, Inc. (PRIDE), under the Chairmanship of Mr. Jack Eckerd began its efforts for the purpose of leasing and operating selected Correctional Industries Programs within the Department of Corrections.
8. An inmate grievance process which utilizes the services of volunteer attorneys, who represent the Florida Bar Association, was implemented in three major institutions. These institutions (Broward C.I., Sumter C.I., and Union C.I.) provide a broad range of inmates to participate in this important experiment in the exercise of inmate rights.
9. A joint mental health report was developed by the Department of Corrections and the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services and presented to the Legislature.
10. Correctional Officer I turnover rate reduced significantly, from 44% in 1981 to 28% in 1982. The turnover rate of Probation and Parole Officers was reduced from 39% in 1981 to 19% in 1982.
11. The Police Standards and Training Commission and the Correctional Standards Council were merged to create the new Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission. This merger expresses the Legislature's intent to upgrade the professionalism of both correctional and law enforcement officers throughout the State. In addition to the provision of salary incentives for advanced training and college degree completion by Correctional Officers, an enlarged training fund for use by both correctional officer and law enforcement agencies, which is derived from court fines and forfeiture monies, was established.
12. In recognition of the important role played by community diversionary programs, the Legislature funded four additional Probation and Restitution Centers for the Department.

PROBLEM AREAS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

I. CORRECTIONAL WORK AND TRAINING PROGRAMS

The Department of Corrections' Policy states that all inmates should be employed unless there are valid reasons to the contrary. Valid reasons may include sickness, disciplinary or administrative confinement, processing at a reception center and inmate movement.

The Governor and Legislators should give continued support to developing the Industries Program specifically by:

- Capitalizing new programs to cover initial investments and start up costs.
- Easing the restrictions on Industries' ability to develop new markets and new products.
- Eliminating constraints to free venture type business operations.
- Expanding Work Squads.

II. COMMUNITY-BASED ALTERNATIVES TO INCARCERATION

The protection of the public through appropriate means of control of sentenced felons is a necessary and desirable achievement. Although the safest and most secure means of attaining this objective is incarceration, it is also the most expensive alternative. Community-based alternatives are often utilized at considerable less cost than incarceration and through the use of appropriate and thorough screening processes it has been demonstrated that such alternatives provide reliable protection to the public. The four primary and proven alternatives are: (1) Pretrial Intervention, (2) Probation, (3) Probation and Restitution Centers and (4) Community Correctional Centers/Women's Adjustment Centers.

The central question to be considered is how these alternatives can be used to the maximum extent while, at the same time providing an adequate level of public safety. The following recommendations should be considered by the Legislature:

- Expand the Pretrial Intervention Program to include the two judicial circuits not presently served.
- Fully fund the Workhour Formula throughout the State and encourage the Courts to make greater use of Probation.
- Provide special workload credit to Probation and Parole Officers for the increased volume of work relative to new intakes.
- An effort should be undertaken to determine the optimal number, locations and staffing ratios of Work Release Centers for a Correctional System the size of the Florida Correctional System.

III. OVERCROWDING OF CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES

One of the primary goals of the State's Correctional System is to maintain a humane and safe environment within sufficient facilities. This goal is consistent with and supportive of the overall need of protecting the public from sentenced felony offenders.

- Site acquisition efforts should be considerably strengthened including, if necessary, Legislative action mandating counties where prisons are to be built.
- The Legislature should provide funds to fully fund scheduled institutions on a timely basis.
- The Community-based Work Release Program should be increased to the extent that it does not diminish the protection and safety of the public.

IV. HEALTH SERVICES

Health needs and the availability and adequacy of Health Services are major issues in the custody and care of an incarcerated population. Following a series of studies, undertaken to address these issues, recommendations for improved Health Services including a Comprehensive Health Plan, were published in 1978. The Plan is currently used as a major guide for Health Services' goals and objectives, services delivery and monitoring.

- Allocate separate and discrete funds for the training and development of Health Care Staff.
- Develop recruitment and retention incentives for Health Staff, especially nurses, laboratory technicians and other technicians.
- Provide facility, staff and service resources for offenders with special health needs for conditions such as physical impairments and chronic disorders.
- Provide a convalescent nursing care unit for post operative and other patients requiring nursing care. This will free the hospital to treat more seriously ill inmates, and improve efficiency in Health Services delivery.
- Provide the capability for provision of surgical and other types of special health services for females at the Reception and Medical Center Hospital.
- Implement a Tele-medicine System to improve services and reduce costs.

V. CHAPLAINCY SERVICES TO INMATES

It is generally recognized that Chaplaincy Services play an important role in providing character guidance and promoting moral development and value clarification. With over 26,000 inmates incarcerated in the system, representing a vast array of religious faiths and beliefs, all religious faiths should be accommodated in the Departmental program.

- Add much needed Chaplain positions with clerical support.
- Upgrade personnel both in pay and required training.
- Establish a career ladder for Chaplains.
- Provide support services and resources required to operate an effective program in compliance with ACA standards, including a separate freestanding facility for religious activities.
- Develop individual facility master program plans.
- Establish an evaluation and quality assurance program for the Chaplaincy Services to ensure accountability and program effectiveness.

VI. QUALITY OF FOOD SERVED TO INMATES

It is essential that quality, quantity and nutritional values of food provided in the prison system meet professional standards. An effective food service system must be maintained to assure that the standards are met.

The crucial problems are chronic staff vacancies, lack of training of existing staff and inadequate quality control programs for prepared food.

- The Department should be given parity on a per diem cost basis with the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services Mental Health Facilities to ensure that Master Menus and modified diet menus where applicable, can be delivered.
- Staffing levels for food service personnel should be improved.
- Staff training and career ladder opportunities should be improved.
- The salaries for food service personnel should be upgraded to a level at least competitive with the private sector.
- Food purchasing procedures and procurement control should be re-evaluated and necessary changes made.
- A rigorous quality control inspection program should be designed to fit with the Master Menu planning to assure the highest quality product.

VII. MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES

The systemwide Mental Health Program for treatment of inmates with mental disorders is not funded sufficiently. The state of the art method of providing an Individualized Written Treatment Plan through the treatment team concept requires that sufficient staff and adequate facilities be available. The increasing number of inmates requiring treatment for mental disorders present a formidable challenge to the Correctional System.

- Inmates having severe chronic mental disorders that require extended inpatient treatment and care should be placed in the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services Forensic Psychiatric Hospital.
- A mental health facility should be established within the Department of Corrections which would provide inpatient care and treatment for inmates requiring a full range of mental health services.
- The approval of 82 Department of Corrections Mental Health positions, and funds for facility renovations, are necessary to improve the effectiveness of treating the mentally disordered inmate, and to improve the likelihood of acceptable social re-integration.

Medical technicians examine a defibrillator, which is used to re-activate the heartbeat following a cardio-vascular accident.

ADULT SERVICES

The Adult Services Program Office is responsible for programs that relate to the custody, care, treatment and rehabilitation of adult offenders. Specific activities for this Office are:

- Providing for the orderly classification and transfer of inmates to the Department's facilities and monitoring the Classification workload to recommend adequate staff.
- Monitoring operations of community facilities, developing standards for placement of offenders in community facilities and reviewing and approving all terminations.
- Providing technical assistance to the Assistant Secretary of Operations in matters of classification and population movement.
- Developing Departmental regulations regarding access to and security of inmate records.
- Reviewing and approving furlough requests for inmates.
- Maintaining records and statistics for furlough and community release activities.
- Coordination and developing Departmentwide programs for religious activities.
- Providing technical assistance to regional and local staff regarding Chaplaincy Services and other facilities programs.
- Monitoring religious program workload to insure adequate staff to meet the inmate needs and assessing inmate needs for religious services on a Departmentwide basis.
- Monitoring such inmate activities as Alcoholics Anonymous, Jaycees, Toastmasters, Gavel Club, and other self-betterment programs and providing technical assistance in these areas.
- Coordinating planning for inmate activities with local and regional staff.
- Developing guidelines and procedures for utilization of community volunteers and community facilities.
- Planning and coordinating special contract drug treatment programs.

This Office is organized into the following five sections:

The Inmate Activities Section provides technical assistance in the planning and coordination of special activities such as recreational and leisure time programs, counseling, self-help and motivational programs. One objective of this section is to provide leisure time activities for all inmates at the many Department of Corrections locations.

The Chaplaincy Services Section provides spiritual care for the total institutional community. The primary goal of this section is to assist offenders in developing or furthering their religious faith and moral values by increasing the chaplaincy activities and services. The Chaplaincy Services Coordinator monitors the activities and lends assistance to institutional programs. There are 34 full-time institutional chaplains and several part-time or volunteer ministers who provide counseling activities and worship services. Volunteers from the community are used extensively to augment the work of the chaplains.

The Community Release and Furlough Section coordinates and provides administrative services for the work release and furlough programs. At the close of the fiscal year approximately 5,634 men and women were placed in the work release program at the 24 community correctional centers for men and 8 women's adjustment centers. This program has allowed inmates to work, put money in savings, pay restitution, satisfy bad debts and support their families while serving the last few months of their prison terms.

The Community Facilities Section is responsible for program planning for the community correctional centers, women's adjustment centers, road prisons, vocational training centers and the probation and restitution centers. The Administrator of this section is responsible for establishing policy, developing new programs, monitoring current programs and assisting in the evaluation of all community facilities.

The Classification Section is responsible for the classification of inmates at all the Department's facilities, including preparation of a social history on each offender, testing, and in-depth interviews. The reception process and recommendations for assignments to institutions is a demanding job. During this fiscal year the big challenge was again coping with the ever-rising inmate population. If during the next fiscal year the inmate population exceeds 27,000, the classification section will have increased work loads, the additional responsibility of implementing new gain time procedures and automated sentence computation.

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER SERVICES

The Department of Corrections established a Youthful Offender Program Office in 1976 and has since developed a comprehensive Youthful Offender Program Plan designed to meet the specialized needs of youths committed to its custody or supervision.

The Youthful Offender Act, Chapter 958, F.S., was passed by the Legislature in 1978 to improve youthful offenders' chances of correction and successful return to the community. The intent is to prevent youth association with older and more experienced criminals during the terms of their confinement, and to provide sentencing alternatives for the court when dealing with offenders who have demonstrated that they can no longer be handled safely as juveniles and those who require more substantial limitations upon their liberty to ensure the protection of society.

Youthful offenders sentenced under the Act are those who have not reached their 21st birthday and are serving their first felony commitment or have been placed in a community control program and do not constitute a serious danger to themselves or others. Additionally, other offenders up through age 24 who are amenable to positive changes, and selected non-violent drug offenders through age 26 are considered youthful offenders under the Department of Corrections Plan.

The Mutual Participation Program is responsible for the coordination of the contract parole program. It allows the Department of Corrections, the Florida Parole and Probation Commission and eligible inmates to negotiate parole release contracts. Each individually-tailored contract sets forth objectives which the inmate must accomplish in exchange for a guaranteed parole date. Terms of the contract must by law contain an institutional work program, and, when possible, include restitution to victims.

Approximately 6,000 inmates are in the ten designated youthful offender institutions and approximately 19,000 are under supervision in the community.

LEARNING—The education program at Apalachee Correctional Institution, near Sneads, helps the youthful offender prepare for completion of their G.E.D. An instructor assists an inmate with a problem.

The goals of the Youthful Offender Program are to:

- Reduce the penetration of youthful offenders into the criminal justice system commensurate with the needs of public safety.
- Provide sentencing procedures that ensure the rights of youthful offenders.
- Provide sentencing alternatives that are individualized and emphasize the need for the youthful offender to take responsibility for himself.
- Prevent the association of those classified as youthful offenders with older and more experienced offenders during incarceration.
- Provide an integrated approach in individualized program planning in terms of control, treatment, training, work experience, release and follow-up.
- Provide physically safe and psychologically healthy living and learning environments for youthful offenders.
- Provide rehabilitative programs which include emphasis on youthful offenders for responsibility to self, sound decision-making and problem-solving, and the formation of healthy relationships.
- Attract, select and train specialized staff.

PROBATION AND PAROLE SERVICES

Currently, Florida ranks among the highest in the country in the utilization of probation as a diversionary alternative. As of June 30, 1982 there were 56,213 probationers and parolees under supervision of the Department. Intakes increased from 24,157 in calendar year 1980 to 29,654 in calendar year 1981.

The statewide caseload continues to increase. In spite of this increase, however about 30% of all probation cases are now being terminated ahead of schedule due to more effective case management techniques.

WORKHOUR PILOT PROJECT DEMONSTRATES ADVANTAGES OF SMALL CASELOADS

The investment by the Legislature in the Workhour Pilot Project in the Central part of the state, with officer caseloads of about 60, has paid dividends in the form of improved probation and parole services and providing greater protection and safety to the public. The two-year project has demonstrated that the number of personal and field contacts by the officers increased by over 100%. Sizable improvements were noted in the employment rate of offenders, the amount of restitution payments, the "cost of supervision" fees collected, and utilization of early termination. Presentence investigations were completed on a more timely basis for the courts. A survey of all 15 judges participating in the Pilot Project reflected increased confidence in the use of probation as an effective diversionary alternative.

AMERICAN CORRECTIONAL ASSOCIATION ACCREDITATION

On January 22, 1982, at a hearing before the Commission on Accreditation for Corrections, Probation and Parole Services in Florida received official accreditation and was ranked by the national auditing team as one of the best systems in the nation. Florida was only the 5th state to receive this honor and the largest state, in terms of number of field offices, to gain accreditation for both Probation and Parole Services.

The accreditation process requires compliance with national standards involving administration, training, management, records, research, supervision, investigation and other areas critical to effective Probation and Parole Services.

ABBREVIATED PRESENTENCE INVESTIGATION REPORT DESIGNED TO IMPROVE EFFICIENCY

As a result of a Presentence Investigation seminar and previous interest by the Department, an Interagency Task Force was formulated, which was sanctioned by the Supreme Court and the Department of Corrections, to develop a new Presentence format and procedures. The new format is designed to be more efficient by providing succinct information which can be prepared and read more easily. It also deletes all unnecessary information in order to streamline the Report. The new format is being pilot-tested in four circuits to determine its effectiveness.

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER EMPHASIS

A training manual has been completed, in conjunction with the Youthful Offender Program Office and the Bureau of Staff Development, for Senior Probation and Parole Officers. It provides information on how to be more effective in supervising youthful offenders. Senior officers specialize in supervising and investigating youthful offenders. They utilize incentive contracts and early termination to help motivate the youth to participate in self improvement programs. Plans are to allocate smaller caseloads to these officers in order to provide more attention to youthful offenders who seem to have the greatest potential for positive change. This is consistent with the Governor's plan to place more emphasis on youth.

PRETRIAL INTERVENTION

The Pretrial Intervention Program is for defendants who are charged with 3rd degree felony offenses and have no more than one previous misdemeanor conviction. The officer and defendant jointly develop a proposed plan of concentrated supervision. The consent of the victim of the crime is required in order to participate in the program. If the defendant completes the contract period of supervision successfully, the charge is dropped and the stigma of a criminal conviction is avoided. Hence, the cost of processing the individual through the court system is saved.

At the end of the fiscal year there were 3,749 cases under supervision in the Pretrial Program and 24,002 investigations were completed during the year. Restitution is required of those participating in the Pretrial Program and $698,994 was paid by them to reimburse victims of crime for the losses suffered.

STAFF COMMUNICATIONS AND PARTICIPATORY MANAGEMENT

Management by objectives, developed with field staff input at all levels, was utilized to provide direction in Probation and Parole Services. A major emphasis was placed on improved communication and staff involvement in establishing policies and procedures. The participatory management approach proved effective in helping to accomplish these objectives.

Greater reliance on the computer system in maintaining accurate caseloads, cost of supervision fee balances, offender classifications, intakes, and demographic offender data helped to improve communications and modernize the management system. A new computerized Management Information Report was developed in conjunction with the Bureau of Management Information Systems, which will be available to all levels of management for monitoring workload, allocating staff, providing victim restitution payments, collecting "cost of supervision" fees, revocations, early terminations, offender program participation, and other related areas.

Circuit Administrator Ernest Doster presents probation and parole officer Timothy Henry with the results of a recent field review.

QUALITY ASSURANCE MONITORING PROGRAM

Administrators, who specialize in supervision, investigation and Pretrial Intervention services provide on-site monitoring reviews in all of the 82 Probation and Parole offices. Actual cases and caseloads were randomly sampled and monitoring reports provided to local management to help insure that high standards of services were maintained and Department policies and procedures adhered to. In addition to caseload sampling, administrative and supervisory practices were reviewed along with other aspects of Probation and Parole Services. Emphasis was placed on Probation and Parole Officers through case reviews, service deliver, and investigations. Next year greater focus will be placed on supervisory/and administrative staff.

OFFENDER JOB PLACEMENT PROGRAM

The Department of Corrections and Labor and Employment Security entered into a cooperative agreement with the goal of increasing suitable job opportunities and placements for offenders to facilitate their transition into society. The Department co-located Employment Specialists and Interview Clerk positions in the Florida State Employment Offices in Tallahassee, Pensacola, Orlando, Ft. Lauderdale, Miami and Tampa to provide ready access to job resources.

The Department of Labor and Employment Security, in turn, designated two staff members as Circuit Riders, for pilot projects in Dade and Hillsborough Counties, to regularly visit Community Correctional Centers, Probation and Parole Offices, Restitution Centers and other facilities of the Department to assist in job placements and related problems. Special Coordinators were also designated to handle offenders in the other employment offices throughout the state. Despite extremely poor job market conditions, the effort resulted in the placement of 939 offenders on jobs during the year. The program is to be continued next year with special emphasis involving problem of youthful offenders.

VICTIM RESTITUTION AND OTHER FINANCIAL BENEFITS OF PROBATION AND PAROLE SERVICES

The victims of crime were not overlooked during the fiscal year. Probationers and parolees paid $4,888,605 to victims of crime to reimburse them for losses suffered.

The "cost of supervision" program provided another means of reparation for criminal offenses. Probation and Parole Officers, collected $4,517,802 in "cost of supervision" fees which were placed in the State Treasury to help offset costs of government.

Probationers and parolees earned over $326,000,000 in wages which was plowed back into the state's economy in the form of taxes, support payments for dependants, and other expenditures in the local community.

Probation officer Bill Rodenberry instructs the probationer to make restitution payment to the victim of the crime and to keep his cost of supervision fees current.

HEALTH AND EDUCATION SERVICES

HEALTH SERVICES

Statewide Program Planning for health services is a function of the Health and Education Services Program Office under the Assistant Secretary for Programs. The Bureau of Health Services has a primary responsibility for overall coordination of health care throughout the Department. Specific activities performed by the Bureau in fulfilling its responsibilities include assessing health services needs, policy development, budgetary input, and monitoring and evaluation of health services for the Department.

Regional structure of the Department encompasses five geographic areas. All Major Institutions, Probation and Parole Services, Community Correctional Centers, Road Prisons, Vocational Centers, Probation and Restitution Centers and Women's Adjustment Centers come under the administrative supervision of each Regional Director. Supervision or coordination of health care in each region is assumed by the Regional Director or his designee with the Bureau of Health Services providing technical assistance.

Each Major Institution is provided a health services staff which is usually supervised by a Chief Health Officer who reports to the Superintendent. Services in Road Prisons are generally provided through contract arrangements consisting of weekly visits for sick call with other needs handled through office visits.

In the Community Correctional Centers and Women's Adjustment Centers inmates are responsible for obtaining their own health services while the health needs of permanent party inmates are provided by the nearest major institution, local county health department, or through purchase of service arrangements with local physicians or other health care facilities.

The health care delivery system of the Department is organized to assure that quality health care services are available and accessible to incarcerated offenders in a manner that provides continuity of care at a reasonable cost.

The health services provided encompass the three basic levels of care—

- Primary Care — basic health services that are necessary to meet routine health needs.
- Secondary Care — more critical health services which might require hospitalization, extended care, or use of specialty consultants.
- Tertiary Care — sophisticated care for specialized complicated and catastrophic illnesses.

Additionally, the Department meets any emergency needs through its own resources or by arrangements with local community health services facilities.

● Health Intake Process:

The delivery of health services begins at the time the offender is received by the Department. All newly committed offenders receive a preliminary health screening to ensure that inmates having contagious ailments or other kinds of acute health problems are not placed in the general population. This screening also serves as a means to identify very ill inmates who must be transferred to a hospital, mental hospital or other health facility.

A thorough medical history and physical examination follow approximately twenty-four hours after the preliminary screening.

Once the health intake process is completed, the findings and recommendations for treatment are recorded on the health classification report and used as a guide for assigning the inmate to a permanent institution.

- Continuing Health Care Services:

Access to health care services is provided on a 24-hour basis in the correctional institution or community facility where the offender is assigned. All major institutions are staffed to provide primary health care, emergency services, and limited diagnostic services. Emergency health care services beyond the capabilities of the institutional medical department are provided by county emergency medical services and local health care facilities.

Each major institution has adequate facilities for the delivery of health services. These facilities generally consist of a nine-bed clinic with additional space provided for dental, pharmacy, laboratory and x-ray services. The department maintains a 153-bed hospital at the Reception and Medical Center at Lake Butler. Annual physical examinations are provided as an on-going method of monitoring and maintaining inmate health.

EDUCATION SERVICES

The Bureau of Education Services in the Central Office is staffed with professionals who have responsibility for the design and implementation of the entire Department's education program. Statewide Program Planning for Correctional Education Services is a function of the Health and Education Services Program Office, under the Assistant Secretary for Programs.

The Education Program of the Florida Department of Corrections functions as an integral part of the overall rehabilitative process.

The purpose of the Education Program is to provide the training necessary for inmates to support and care for themselves and their responsibilities after release from prison.

In order to meet this critical need, the following services are provided:

- Individual Assessment

The education staff share with other staff responsibilities for a complete assessment of each inmate's abilities, aptitudes, adjustment and interests. From this inventory, the inmate develops a plan for education during his incarceration. Periodically progress is measured and suitability of plan is evaluated. Inmates may reach initial goals and adopt additional or new plans.

- Basic Literacy Training

Any inmate who is functioning below the fifth grade level is directed to adult education classes in basic reading/language and mathematics. Every effort is made using the best materials and techniques known to provide the inmate with basic survival skills in communicating and computing.

- Upgrading Functional Levels

Many inmates elect realistic occupational goals, but do not meet the prerequisites for training or cannot perform successfully in their occupational training because of certain deficiencies in reading, language or mathematics skills. These inmates participate in general education classes to upgrade their functional levels, and may even work toward the General Equivalency Diploma.

- Exploration and Work Sampling

A multi-media approach is used for selected inmates to learn about job opportunities and required skills of various occupations. After this exploration, inmates may be placed in work sampling which involves "hands on" activities. As a result of these experiences, a profile of individual aptitudes helps the inexperienced, particularly youthful inmate make a realistic choice for occupational training.

- Occupational Skills Training

The State of Florida has course outlines which determine the content of over 30 vocational courses. Occupational training is open-entry, open-exit and follows a competency based individually paced development. Routine institutional work assignments and the prison Industries Program provide additional training opportunities for inmates. Inmates receive certificates of achievement from the State Department of Education upon completion of training.

- Growth Experiences

Whenever possible, special interests of inmates are met through art, music, drama and personal growth groups. Inmates with an interest in higher education may participate in courses offered inside the prison by a nearby community college. Libraries are operated to serve the education classes as well as an inmate's interest in leisure reading. A Library Services Council meets quarterly to approve admissible reading materials and to advise the staff on all library services matters.

- Peer Tutoring

Inmates who are functioning below the fifth grade level and who for various reasons have not enrolled in the education classes are provided the opportunity to learn to read and write from a qualified inmate tutor. Professional staff select and train the tutors, provide instructional materials, and coordinate the program.

- Staffing

Institutional education programs are administered by the Education Supervisor who is responsible to the Superintendent. The size of the staff varies with the institution, but generally includes an academic consultant and a vocational coordinator along with classroom teachers (learning managers) and vocational instructors. The education staff is completed with a counselor and a librarian. All education staff must have valid Florida teaching certificates.

- Law Library Program

The Department of Corrections, as part of its obligation to provide access to the courts, has established law libraries at 19 major institutions throughout the system. Seven collections are classified as "major" collections. The law libraries are staffed by qualified librarians and inmate law clerks who receive legal research training. The law clerks assist other inmates with the preparation, typing, and filing of petitions or motions. Services are provided without charge except reimbursement for copying expenses from inmates who are able to pay.

- Staff Development

The Department of Corrections has a comprehensive program of staff development for education personnel. Regularly scheduled regional and statewide meetings, as well as attendance at subject speciality conferences, provide staff with the unique skills for working in a correctional setting and help keep them up to date in their field. Education staff may extend their teaching certificates by participating in the approved in-service activities.

- Funding

In addition to the Department's general budget for education services, supplemental programs are funded through the Florida Vocational Education Act, the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (Title I), the Adult Education Act and the Library Services and Construction Act.

Inmates utilize reading material at one of the Department's many institutional libraries.

CORRECTIONAL INDUSTRIES

The forerunner of Florida's current Correctional Industries Program was initiated for Florida State Prison by Legislative action in 1925. Although the underlying program goals were not fully articulated until many years later, they have always included the following:

- To develop productive work opportunities for the incarcerated
- To help the prison system defray some of its own operating expenses and achieve higher levels of self-sufficiency
- To provide quality products at generous cost savings to state and local units of government.
- To create job experiences for inmates which encourage good work habits and good work attitudes
- To promote inmate training in occupational skills which are in demand in the employment market
- To conserve the State's resources through the operation of a self-supporting inmate work program
- To avoid unfair competition with Florida's Business Community.

CURRENT STATUS

The semi-autonomous Correctional Industries Program which exists today was established in 1957 with a $250,000 legislative appropriation and the creation of a Separate Industrial Trust Fund. In 1976 the State funded an additional $11,000,000 for an Industries expansion program which will be completed by 1983. Thus far, the investment has resulted in the establishment of 62 Industries Operations, 2,000 Inmate Work Stations, and a $23 million annual gross income.

From the standpoint of size, diversity, workload, constraints and sometimes competitive goals, the Industries Program has grown to be one of the Department's most complex entities. It produces, sells and transports over 150 different products. It constitutes a major program component at 16 institutions and provides employment for more than 2,000 inmates. This is approximately 9.7% of the total prison population.

ORGANIZATION AND DISPERSION

Correctional Industries now has 269 staff positions. Of these, 252 are institutionally located and 15 are attached to Central Office in Tallahassee. All are engaged in one or more of the following broad-based functions:

- Administration and Finance
- Engineering, Planning and Technical Support
- Marketing and Sales
- Production and Production Support Services

The scope and geographic spread of the Industries Program is shown in the map on the following page.

NEW DIRECTIONS FOR THE FUTURE

This year, Florida has an innovative statute (CS/SB 97) which provides for the establishment of a private incorporated, non-profit business organization to operate a prison industries program. This corporation will be controlled by a Board of Directors appointed by the Governor. The Statute authorizes the Department to lease industrial facilities to the corporation and obligates it to make available an adequate supply of inmate labor and to maintain security for personnel and property. For its part the Corporation will absorb certain state personnel now employed by the Correctional Industries Program and will also provide inmate salaries out of operation profits. The plan is for the Department to gradually shift total management responsibility for the Industries Program to the non-profit corporation.

Ideally, a working alliance between Corrections and the private sector should contribute to:

- Improved over-all productivity and efficiency
- An inmate work environment which replicates those found in the free enterprise system
- Improved mechanisms for providing inmate workers with rotation and upward mobility
- Release from inhibiting purchasing, sales and employment constraints which now face Correctional Industries
- Improved mechanisms for rewarding inmate workers for their productivity
- Assurance of sustained supervisor competency at the operation level
- Improved mechanisms for assisting inmates to find post release employment in related fields

CRIMINAL JUSTICE, EMPLOYMENT AND POPULATION TRENDS AFFECTING CORRECTIONS

The new growth of the inmate population and the probation and parole caseload of the Department of Corrections is the result of varying rates of admissions and releases. It appears to be related to several factors over which the Department has no control. These factors include Florida population growth, the rate of crime among the younger male population, the rate of unemployment in the State, rates of arrest and prosecution, and sentencing policies of the judiciary within a structure of changing statutes.

- POPULATION AT RISK INCREASED 3.9% DURING THE 1981 CALENDAR YEAR

The rate of commitment for both the prison population and probation and parole caseload is related primarily to the number of male adults in the State, 18 to 29 years of age. This age group, called the Population at Risk, has been responsible for a high proportion of Florida's prison admissions since 1960 (approximately 75% of all admitted inmates are in this age group.)

FLORIDA MALE POPULATION GROWTH FOR AGES 18-29 YEARS
(1979-83)

*Change from 1980-81 Annual Report due to recalculation of this data point

Data supplied by the U.S. Census Bureau and the Bureau of Economic & Business Research, University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida.

- PRISON ADMISSIONS AVERAGED 142 FOR EACH 10,000 MALES (AGE 18-29) THAT WERE ADDED TO FLORIDA'S GENERAL POPULATION SINCE 1960

Because sufficient data has not been available regarding law enforcement and court activities, the relationship between the population at risk, unemployment and prison admissions has been especially significant in developing forecasts of the growth of the prison population. This year's rate of 160 per 10,000 Florida Male Residents between 18-29 years of age is a significant departure from the average rate of 135 posted over the previous 22 years. This dramatic shift in prison admissions is attributed to overcrowding in local jail facilities. In the face of such overcrowding felons who would normally serve terms of 1 year or less in county facilities are currently being sentenced to more than 1 year but less than two years. As a result, prison admissions with two year sentences or less increased from 21% to nearly 32% this past year

If this trend continues it is expected that prison admissions for the next few years will reach 170 per 10,000 males in the crime-prone age group.

- FLORIDA'S AVERAGE UNEMPLOYMENT RATE INCREASED .9% FOR CALENDAR YEAR 1981

The rate of prison admission from the population at risk historically has been tied to the rate of unemployment in response to increases in criminal activity during periods of high unemployment.

FLORIDA UNEMPLOYMENT RATE
(1979-84)

*Average unemployment rates supplied by the Florida Division of Employment Security

- IT IS ESTIMATED THERE WILL BE AN ADDITIONAL 305 PRISON ADMISSIONS FOR EACH INCREASE OF 1% IN THE STATES ANNUAL AVERAGE UNEMPLOYMENT RATE

- INDEX CRIMES IN FLORIDA INCREASED 1.6% DURING CALENDAR YEAR 1981

The Uniform Crime Report provides a general indicator of criminal activity in the state. Crime report data historically has not been related to prison admissions. This may be explained by the fact that the Uniform Crime Report counts crimes, not criminals. In addition, the index crimes reported include a significant number of misdemeanor offenses not resulting in prison admissions.

CRIME TREND DATA CALENDAR YEARS 1979-81

INMATE ADMISSIONS AND RELEASES

- THERE WAS A NET GAIN OF 2607 INMATES AND THE TOTAL PRISON ADMISSIONS FOR THIS FISCAL YEAR INCREASED BY 23.7% AS COMPARED TO FISCAL YEAR 1980-81
 - New admissions from the court increased 30.9%
 - Admissions of violators of parole and mandatory conditional release decreased 10.9%

- PRISON RELEASES DECREASED BY .05% THIS FISCAL YEAR COMPARED TO FISCAL YEAR 1980-81

COMMUNITY SUPERVISION INTAKES AND LOSSES

The rate of growth of probation and parole cases is affected by changes in certain variables similar to those used to predict prison admissions. However, increases in the supervision caseload are the direct result of the rate of parole and mandatory conditional release from prison, as well as new probation commitments from the circuit courts.

It should be noted that with improved reporting resulting from full implementation of the probation and parole information system, the trends below may not accurately reflect the degree or rate of change, but they are generally considered to be valid indicators of direction of growth.

● SUPERVISION INTAKE FOR FISCAL YEAR 1981-82 WAS 15.7% MORE THAN THE PREVIOUS YEAR

- Felony probation intake increased 20.1% over last year
- Parole intake decreased 19.2% over the previous year

- Felony & Misdemeanor Probation*
- Parole
- MCR
- Work Release

*Since July, 1975, all misdemeanor probationers under state supervision are those sentenced by the circuit court. These offenders were originally charged as felons but have had charges reduced as a result of plea bargaining

● SUPERVISION LOSSES FOR FISCAL YEAR 1981-82 INCREASED 3.8% OVER THE PREVIOUS YEAR

INTERSTATE COMPACT TRANSFERS

- INTERSTATE COMPACT TRANSFERS DURING THE 1981-82 FISCAL YEAR BETWEEN STATES INCREASED 128% OVER THE PREVIOUS YEAR
 - FLORIDA SENT 682 PAROLEES TO OTHER STATES FOR SUPERVISION
 - FLORIDA RECEIVED 1145 PAROLEES FROM OTHER STATES TO SUPERVISE

 - FLORIDA RECEIVED 4528 PROBATIONERS FROM OTHER STATES FOR SUPERVISION

OFFENDERS IN CUSTODY AND UNDER SUPERVISION

The graphs in this section have been contrast tinted to enable the reader to identify trends and important projected data.

The continued refinement of our computerized data system has permitted inclusion of demographic information for incarcerated inmates and supervised probationers/parolees for two time periods:

- Inmates and probationers/parolees admitted to the custody or supervision of the Department of Corrections during FY 1981-82.
- Inmates and probationers/parolees in custody or supervision of the Department as of June 30, 1982.

DEFINITION OF TERMS:

- AVERAGE: The arithmetic mean, derived by adding all values and dividing by the number of such values.
- MEDIAN: The middle number in an array of values, with roughly 50% of the values above and 50% of the values below the median.
- MODE: The member in an array of values with the highest frequency occurrence.

Due to limitations of space in an annual report, a limited amount of data is included in the report. Data from reports which previously appeared in the Biennial Report Series is available upon specific request from the Research and Statistics Section of the Bureau of Planning, Research and Statistics.

PROBATION AND PAROLE STATISTICS

The following pages contain statistics concerning probationers and parolees under the supervision of the Department of Corrections. The probation and parole caseload continues to increase. The Department continues its emphasis upon diversionary programs and these programs, hopefully, will reduce the number of institutional beds necessary in the future. Consequently, an even greater probation and parole caseload is anticipated in the years to come.

In the following tables, misdemeanor probation reflects cases originally filed in circuit court as felonies that were reduced to misdemeanors and subsequently placed on probation.

ACTUAL PAROLE AND PROBATION CASELOAD UNDER SUPERVISION (1974-82) AND CASELOAD PROJECTIONS THROUGH 1984

*The drop in Probation and Parole caseload in 1974 was caused by removing those offenders charged with and convicted of misdemeanors from Department of Corrections caseloads.
