SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

Due to a population spiral beginning in the prior year, the Department of Corrections started Fiscal Year 1982-83 facing seemingly insurmountable problems. In the stipulation of settlement in the Costello v. Wainwright litigation a maximum capacity figure was not only set for the prison system as a whole, but for each facility therein. Further, the agreement provided that no facility in the system could exceed its maximum for longer than 5 consecutive days.

Prior to the beginning of the Fiscal Year, new projections were developed which indicated continuing abnormal growth of the prison population. Such growth would cause us to exceed the court agreement maximum capacity throughout the Fiscal Year. At that time we projected an additional new bed need of 1640 above and beyond any new beds already under construction and coming on line. After examining possible alternatives, the decision was made to utilize temporary plywood housing, acquire additional contract beds with the Salvation Army, Goodwill Industries and drug treatment centers, and increase bed capacities through renovation of selected existing facilities.

Plans were designed, sites selected, funds were acquired and staff and inmates were organized to construct and otherwise acquire the housing. A schedule was developed which would bring new beds on-line at the times such beds would be needed for the placement and housing of inmates. The decision to proceed with this type of temporary construction proved to be the correct decision. In fact, the bed need was greater than anticipated, and as a result, a total of 2000 crisis beds were brought on line. Of these, 1688 were temporary plywood units.

Since the units were placed on site within or adjacent to existing institutions there were no site acquisition costs and the cost of perimeter security was contained to a minimum. Together the staff and inmate workers involved in the planning and construction of these new housing units accomplished a very demanding task in a most timely and professional manner.

While the Federal Court did approve the use of these temporary housing units, they are necessarily temporary and can not be utilized indefinitely. Importantly, their use bought the time within which Governor Graham and the Legislature could make policy decisions on a range of issues impacting on the entire criminal justice system. The deliberations took place in numerous meetings of the Corrections Overcrowding Task Force, which began its work in July 1982.

Adopting much of the work of the Corrections Overcrowding Task Force the Legislature passed the landmark Correctional Reform Act which states:

"State government can no longer afford an uncritical and continuing escalation in capital outlay for prison construction at the expense of other competing social and economic priorities."

Some 48 pages in length, the Act emphasized diversionary alternatives for eligible offenders who can be safely sanctioned in the community. It enacted statutory restrictions on placement in the State Correctional System. Provisions improve the Department's ability to site correctional facilities. The gain time statute, applied retroactively, was revised to strengthen population management. Other changes included improved system planning and management by authorizing a statutory process to effect emergency releases of those who would gain release anyway within 30 days, but only at such time as the corrections system exceeds 98 percent of lawful capacity.

Of the above, one of the most important features is the increased use of non-custodial alternatives and non-prison custodial alternatives in order to alleviate prison overcrowding while still providing a sufficient measure of public safety and assuring an element of punishment. The Act provides for "community control" which involves intensive supervised custody in the community, including surveillance on weekends and holidays, administered by officers with restricted caseloads. The freedom of the offender is restricted within the community, home, or non-institutional residential placement and specific sanctions imposed and enforced. It is envisioned that community-based sanctions will include but not be limited to the restriction of non-essential liberties in the community, compulsory public service, victim restitution, payment of supervision fees, completion of daily logs of activities, and submission for drug and alcohol screening tests to assure freedom from drug abuse.

The community-based function of the Department which provides great potential for ensuring the current and future safety of the public is Probation and Parole Supervision. As the primary alternative to incarceration the Courts, in most instances, can place an offender on probation in the community under supervision of Probation and Parole field staff. Such placement permits the continuation of employment and family relationships and the economic health of the individual. Additionally, in many cases, restitution to the victim is required. Both traditional Probation, and Community Control, are far more cost effective than incarceration, and must be utilized to an even greater extent in the years ahead if prison overcrowding is to be controlled.

The Department's Probation and Parole Services staff is not highly visible in comparison with other law enforcement agencies. They do not wear uniforms and generally are not involved in news worthy crime solving or criminal apprehensions. They are, nevertheless, very dedicated individuals and highly effective in performing their jobs. Public recognition and accolades for their efforts are too few and far between. I want to take this opportunity to recognize the pivotal role our Probation and Parole Services staff have in Florida's correctional system, and to commend this staff for the outstanding jobs they are doing.

CORRECTIONS OVERCROWDING TASK FORCE

GOVERNOR Bob Graham is shown at the ceremony for signing the Correctional Reform Act of 1983. Standing behind the Governor from left to right are Waylon Clifton, Rep. Bobby Brantley, Ms. Anabel Mitchell, Chairperson, Florida Probation and Parole Commission, Senator Jerry Rehm, Ms. Dorothy Routh, League of Women Voters, Guy Revell, Secretary Louie Wainwright, Senator Mattox Hair, Rep. James Ward, Rep. Jon Mills, Senator Ed Dunn, Nancy Avery, Ray Wilson, and Dr. Nat Cole.

A historical effort which will have tremendous impact on Florida's Correctional System in the future was initiated in 1982. The Corrections Overcrowding Task Force was created during the June 1982 Special Session of the Legislature in response to a prison overcrowding crisis unprecedented in Florida history.

The Task Force was charged with the responsibility of analyzing prison overcrowding and for formulating solutions. Chapter 82-396, Laws of Florida creating the Task Force required the study effort to specifically address some eleven areas related to management of the prison population, including the number of people who enter the system, the length of time offenders spend in prison, and the capacity of the system.

All of the branches of government were represented on the eleven member Task Force. Membership included the Governor, the Attorney General, the Secretary of Corrections and Chairperson of the Probation and Parole Commission, the designee of the Chief Justice of the Florida Supreme Court, and from the Legislature, three Senators and three Representatives.

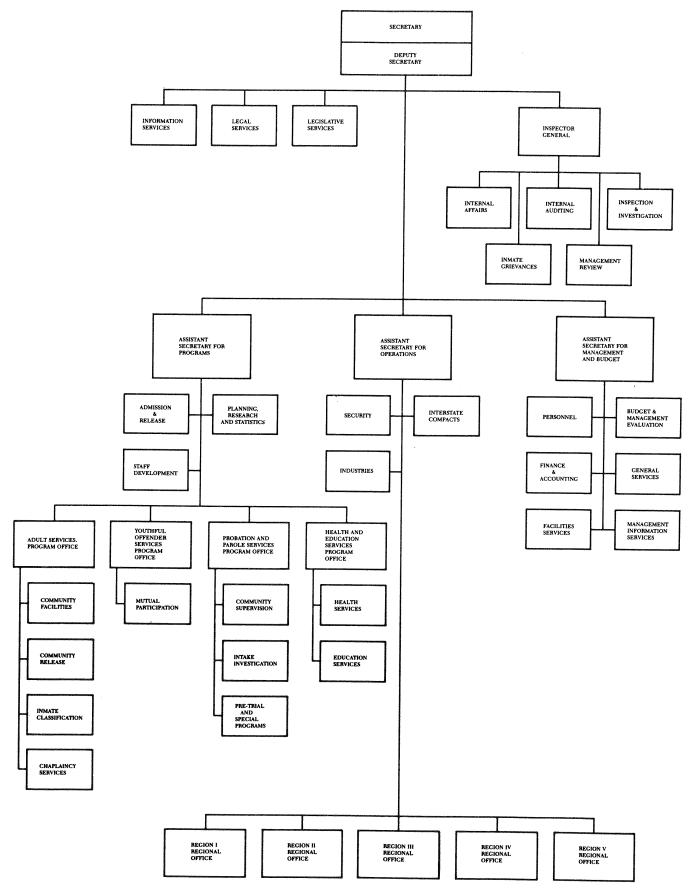

With Governor Graham as Chairman, the Task Force met monthly from July 1982 through February of 1983. Through these public meetings at various locations around the State the Task Force had the benefit of over 50 presentations from criminal justice practitioners, the academic community, and the general public. In a comprehensive and exhaustive analysis the corrections system was probed at every point. The final report of the Task Force presents a set of 57 recommendations designed to improve prison conditions.

Many of the Task Force proposals are embodied in the 48 page Correctional Reform Act of 1983, CS/CS/HB 1012, which was passed by the Legislature on June 1, and approved by the Governor on June 15, 1983. The Act represents the most sweeping correctional reform legislation in Florida's history.

Importantly, the Correctional Reform Act of 1983:

- Established a new program of Community Control using probation officers with restricted caseloads (1:20 supervision ratios) to sanction and supervise non-violent offenders in the community, this program provides for punishment sanctions short of imprisonment with requirements and enforcement of confinement in residence, restitution to the victim, payment of supervision fees, compulsory public service, completion of daily logs of activities, submission to drug and alcohol screening tests to assure freedom from substance abuse, and other restrictions as set forth by the Court;
- Specified dispositional and sentencing alternatives, and criteria for sentencing stressing use of the least restrictive sanction consistent with the seriousness of the offense, and without jeopardizing the safety of the community;
- Provided for Local Offender Advisory Councils to identify and develop diversionary services and programs, to function as a mechanism to link offenders with appropriate agencies, and to advise on sentencing options in specific cases referred by the judiciary;
- Created statutory restrictions on commitments to the State Corrections System, the key being the prohibition on placement of probationers in Community Correctional Centers;
- Authorized the Department to provide technical assistance to local governments in the design and implementation of offender classification systems, evaluation of construction and financing alternatives, the development of community service programs, and the use of mutual aid programs in jail-sharing efforts;
- Revised the gain time statute to strengthen population management by treating the offender population equally regardless of sentence length, removing disincentives for participation in education and training programs, and making the system more understandable to the inmate population;
- Enacted omnibus parole system changes including creation of two additional commissioners, and the use of retired commissioners to assure timely parole interviews, greater use of contract parole through the Mutual Participation Program, authorization for the Commission to reconsider the grant of parole when an order is vacated by a trial judge, and approval for the Commission to establish an effective parole release date without a final interview;
- Set an inmate to population ratio to be used as a means of planning for future capital outlay of the Department to ensure available bed space consistent with the growth of the State's general population;
- Relatedly, provided statutory recognition to the consensus process of the Criminal Justice Estimating Conference in forecasting the inmate population;
- Established a means to ensure the State's ability to site correctional facilities including the requirement for the Department to make a statewide comprehensive study of facility needs, and creation of a decisionmaking process to site facilities, which includes authority for the Governor and Cabinet to override local zoning decisions when the interests of the State outweigh the concerns of local jurisdictions;
- Authorized an emergency release mechanism, when the corrections system reaches 98 percent of its lawful capacity for males, or females, or both, to prevent overcrowding in order to properly classify and assign offenders, and to manage the inmate population; and
- Finally, created a basic release assistance program to aid inmates, not having the benefit of work release, parole supervision, pre-secured employment, or release to a qualifying residence, family member or friend in securing permanent employment and residence.

ACTIVITIES, ACHIEVEMENTS, AND RECOMMENDATIONS

PROBATION AND PAROLE SERVICES

In line with the emphasis of the Correctional Reform Act of 1983, and the theme of this annual report, it is appropriate for Probation and Parole Services to be center stage in reviewing the Department's activities and achievements.

The Department of Corrections' Probation and Parole Services is committed to providing the most viable community-based diversionary alternatives which are consistent with the public's interest and safety. The primary objective is the protection of society through tougher probation, surveillance, and effective supervision of probationers and parolees.

In addition to supervising probationers and parolees, another major function includes the preparation of quality and timely pre-sentence investigations for the courts, pre-parole investigations for the Parole Commission, and a variety of other investigative reports which are used in the Criminal Justice System.

Probation and Parole Services provide statewide uniform services for felony offenders, covering all 67 counties through a total of 88 office locations. The services are an integral part of the Criminal Justice System and provide linkage with community resources and the general public.

At the onset of the fiscal year a rigorous management-by-objectives agenda was set for Probation and Parole Services. As will be clear from review of the highlighted areas these priorities have been substantially completed. Much, however, remains to be done in fully implementing the Community Control Program, and other probation and parole initiatives.

Major achievements for the year include:

Update on Accreditation

Probation and Parole Services in all five regions of the State continue to comply with Accreditation Standards that were approved by the Commission on Accreditation for Corrections. In addition, several Standards that were found to be in non-compliance during the audit are now in compliance. Importantly, (1) Minimum training and experience for entry level Probation and Parole Officers is now a four year college degree; the provision for substitution of experience for college has been deleted. (2) Grievance procedures for probationers and parolees have been established. (3) Sufficient documentation has been developed to support a minimum of 40 hours annual training for administrators, supervisors, Probation and Parole Officers and clerical staff. (4) Procedures have been implemented to identify the collective needs of offenders (i.e., drug, alcohol, education, etc.)

Field staff are updating documentation of Standards on an on-going basis in an effort to pursue compliance with additional Standards outlined in the second edition "Manual of Standards."

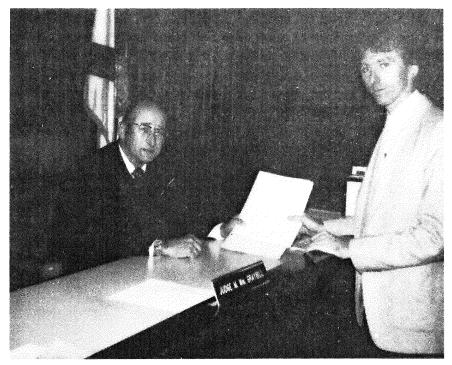

With additional positions allocated to Probation and Parole Supervision staff will be able to strengthen services through reduced caseloads. This assures tougher supervision with more accountability and increased protection to the community. This is the most effective means to continue to ensure compliance with Accreditation Standards.

Modular Presentence Investigation

The Presentence Investigation Report, as previously utilized in Florida, was used on the premise that the more information that could be supplied to a Judge about an offender, the easier it would be for the Judge to make a fair and just decision regarding the disposition of the offender's criminal case. As a result, the Presentence Investigation evolved into a lengthy Report.

During the fiscal year, a condensed version of the Presentence Investigation was developed predicated on the fact that offender background information vital to a Judge's disposition could be done in a more concise and adequate format.

The modular or condensed Presentence Investigation Report is the result of work done by the Ad Hoc Committee on Presentence Investigation. The Committee was comprised of members from among Circuit Court Judges, the Office of the State Court Administrator, Department of Corrections' Probation and Parole Services, Reception Center's staff, and the Parole and Probation Commission staff. The condensed version does not lessen the depth of the investigation, but basically changes the amount of information in the Report to meet the needs of the Court and subsequent needs by the Department and the Commission. The modification of the format also reduces the time taken to dictate, type and read according to particular user needs. Implementation of the module Presentence Investigation Report began in May, 1983 after pilot testing in four locations.

Clerical Staffing Formula

As a result of the Department's concern and the Governor's Management Review Report, October, 1981, a Clerical Staffing Formula was developed to address the shortcomings cited in the review. The Clerical Formula addresses the specific concerns of limited career advancement opportunities, the high rate of turnover in clerical positions, and considerable variations among clerical positions throughout the State.

The Clerical Staffing Formula was designed using the functional activities, combined with the current staffing ratio. Areas addressed by the Formula included identifying specific production objectives, increasing job satisfaction, providing better clerical supervision and distinct lines of authority, and providing more consistency and objectivity in future clerical allocations.

The initial allocation of positions using the Clerical Formula was in October, 1982. During the allocation, general support positions were designated and assigned in accordance with the Formula. In June, 1983, additional clerical staff were allocated based on the Formula.

Probation and Parole Services remain committed in full implementation of the Clerical Staffing Formula.

Cooperative Offender Job Placement Agreement

As a result of a cooperative agreement (Job Placement Program) between the Department of Corrections and the Department of Labor and Employment Security, each full service Florida State Employment Office has, for the past fiscal year, designated a staff member to provide individual assistance to offenders attempting to secure employment. In addition, two Circuit Riders, provided by the Department of Labor and Employment Services and five Employment Specialists, funded by the Department, provide full-time job assistance for offenders in Pensacola, Tallahassee, Orlando, Tampa and Miami. Approximately 7,632 offenders participated in the Job Placement Program and 2,673 secured gainful employment through this Program during FY 1982-83. In addition, job skills workshops were held throughout the State to help offenders learn job seeking skills and interviewing techniques.

Separation of Supervision and Investigative Functions

Because of the Department's interest in identifying cost effective benefits in separating investigation and supervision functions, pilot projects were established in ten locations during September, 1981.

Experimental and control groups were identified for comparative testing purposes. During the duration of the pilot, an average of 35 officers participated in the investigative function and an average of 97 participated in the supervision function.

Evidence points out that more quality was achieved during the conducting of investigations in the experimental group. The increase in contacts per investigation and the increase in the Presentence Investigation to Postsentence Investigation ratio demonstrates this point.

The only complete investigation specialization office was opened in Largo, December, 1982. This office consistently outperformed the experimental group. Presently this office averages twenty-three (23) Presentence Investigations per officer per month.

The quality of supervision under the pilot project showed little improvement. Slight increases in offender contacts, early terminations and victim restitution were offset by the decrease in the percentage of Cost of Supervision cases paying fees on time.

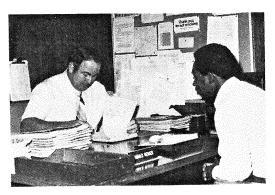

The results indicate that specialization might be adopted with good results in larger urban areas where the division between functions can easily be accomplished, but may not be cost effective or practical in small offices.

Enhanced Staffing Pilot Project/Workhour

The Enhanced Staffing Pilot Project was initiated to further prove the effectiveness of the Workhour Formula and to test the hypothesis that greater court confidence in probation, through lower caseloads, will increase commitments to probation. Although 367 positions were allocated by the Special Session of the Legislature, budget cut-backs prevented filling them. The Department of Corrections, however, authorized the advance release of eighty-nine (89) positions in October, 1982 to implement the Workhour staffing in five pilot circuits: Pensacola, Daytona Beach, Sanford, Fort Pierce and Bartow.

The following goals were selected to measure the success of the Pilot Project:

- Increase the percentage of commitments to the Department for Probation Supervision
- Increase the number of field supervision contacts to improve protection to the community
- Increase victim restitution payments
- * Increase cost of supervision fee collections
- More timely completion of Presentence and Postsentence Investigations in accordance with standards outlined in the Probation and Parole Manual of Procedures.

The Enhanced Staffing Pilot Project has been in operation since February, 1983 and preliminary reports show improvement in all measurable objectives. Although the pilot circuits were able to fill all the pilot positions, some established positions were frozen due to mandated budget cutbacks. It is expected that as these positions go "on-line," greater improvements in the measurable objectives will be achieved.

Enhanced staffing has brought a higher quality product to the local community, increased the Cost of Supervision fee collections and restitution to victims of crime, and has increased the use of probation as a diversionary alternative within the local community.

Early Terminations

Early terminations is a vital part of effective case management in the supervision of cases. It helps Probation and Parole Officers to maintain their caseloads at a workable level and is an excellent relief factor.

In a recent report compiled by the Bureau of Planning and Research, statistics on early terminations statewide, covering the period from January, 1982 through March, 1983, reflected that during this period:

The total number of early terminations was 6,764;

The total number of days saved equaled 3,340,539;

The average number of days terminated early statewide was 494 or 1.4 years; and

A cost avoidance of over 5 million dollars in supervision costs was achieved for a 15 month period.

Pretrial Intervention Program

The Pretrial Intervention Program provides a means of diversion to essentially first-time offenders who are charged with a third-degree felony offense. State attorneys are authorized by law to enter into a deferred prosecution contract with those offenders who agree to serve a period of probation-type supervision without the state having the burden of proof of guilt. The victim and the judge of the initial appearance hearing must approve.

Pretrial staff provides supervision, assistance in locating appropriate educational programs, securing employment and providing counseling for adjustment problems. At the end of a period of usually six to eight months, if the offender has met all the conditions imposed, the charges may be dismissed.

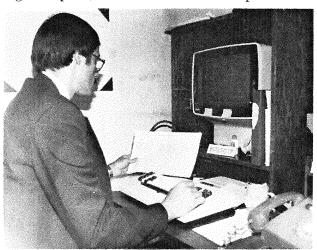

The Fifth Circuit has opened a pretrial program as of June, 1983. Programs are now available in 19 of the state's 20 judicial circuits.

Management Information Report

In response to requests from Regional Directors, Regional Administrators and other Field Services staff, the Probation and Parole Program Office, in conjunction with the Bureau of Planning and Research and the Bureau of Management Information Systems, developed a format for a monthly Management Review Report to cover both programmatic and operational areas of Probation and Parole Services. The Report was debugged and has been operational since October, 1982.

The Report is used as a management tool to pinpoint problem areas as well as to highlight exceptional areas. This Report has allowed Probation and Parole Services to adopt a monitor-by-exception approach as recently recommended by the Governor's Management Review Report, October, 1981. All areas of Probation and Parole Services can effectively be tracked and measured and information can be compiled on a Regional, Circuit, or Office-by-Office approach. Responses to all staffing allocations and program information requests are based on the data provided by the Management Review Report. Since this program now tracks all information, a central needs assessment on necessary program alternatives can be accomplished, in accordance with the associated accreditation standard.

All data is now entered directly from field sites by specially trained Data Entry Operators. Cost of supervision data, progress reports, classification reviews and personal histories can now be entered or recalled at field sites. This system of on-line entries has reduced computer errors and is much more cost efficient than the batch system that it replaced. Within the next two years, Probation and Parole Services hopes that the implementation of this system to other sites will double, giving approximately 60 percent of all offices an on-line capability.

Tax Dollar Savings in Probation and Parole

Probation and Parole supervision not only provides protection to the community, but it is much less costly than incarceration. The cost per day for supervision is $1.51 ($1.82 for full implementation of the Workhour) compared to $20.88 per day for the cost of incarceration. Other economic benefits of supervision include:

- $ 5,223,142 Cost of Supervision fees in State Treasury;
- $ 5,594,917 Victim restitution payments by probationers and parolees;
- $ 882,033 Victim restitution payments by Pretrial Intervention cases; and
- $386,000,000 Wages contributed to state economy, taxes, self and dependent support.

Future Plans in Probation and Parole Services

Future plans in Probation and Parole Services stress full implementation of community control,

Development of Implementation Manual of Community Control (Correctional Reform Act of 1983);

Implement Community Control Units in all 20 Judicial Circuits;

Implement Modular Presentence Investigations Statewide, and increase the use of Presentence Investigations by the Judiciary;

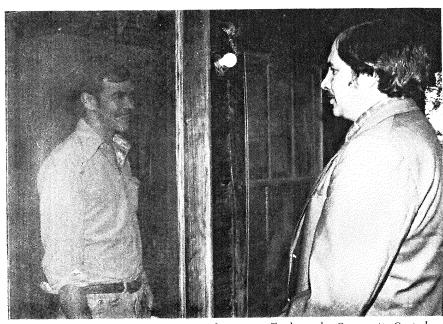

Shift Quality Assurance Monitoring emphasis from Probation and Parole Officers to Supervisors and Administration;

Complete Implementation of Clerical Staffing Formula;

Maintain accreditation by the American Correctional Association, and Implement Pretrial Intervention in remaining Circuit.

Of the above areas Community Control has been assigned the highest priority for the next fiscal year. It is a new concept in providing viable alternatives to incarceration and plans include implementation in FY 1983-84. Its main focus is tougher probation through smaller caseloads and intensive supervision on a continual basis.

Probation and Parole Officer pays a night visit to offender under Community Control.

The Program is expected to impact favorably on prison overcrowding conditions. Offenders who commit non-violent property crimes will be the target population for the program. In the absence of Community Control these offenders would otherwise be sentenced to prison for two years or less. It is anticipated that the majority of offenders in this Program will be under the age of twenty-five.

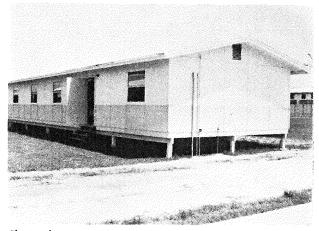

Other features of the Program include restricted caseloads (20 per officer); punishment sanctions; safe diversionary alternatives; mandated public service; confinement in residence; weekend supervision and surveillance; monthly fees for cost of supervision; and restitution to victims of crime.

Recommendations

- Fully implement the Workhour Formula for staffing Probation and Parole Offices;
- Fully implement the Clerical Staffing Formula;
- Improve safety and security measures for Probation and Parole Officers;
- Implement pilot project for improved communications for Probation and Parole Officers working in high crime areas;
- Consider inclusion of Probation and Parole Officers under Criminal Justice Standards and Training;
- Provide high risk coverage for Probation and Parole Officers;
- Expand full time job assistance services to additional major urban areas of the state;
- Provide Probation and Restitution Centers to all major urban locations statewide; and,
- Correct/clarify the Youthful Offender Act, Chapter 958.10 of Florida Statutes relative to the setting of conditions of Community Control.

NEW BED ACQUISITION AND FUTURE CONSTRUCTION

As a result of the Federal Court establishing maximum capacities for all correctional facilities and for the system as a whole, and the continuing growth in prison population, the Department had to bring additional beds on line throughout the fiscal year.

Shown above is a 40 bed temporary housing unit which is built off the ground with wooden floors. An unattached bathing and toilet facility services several of these 40 bed units.

This 56 bed temporary housing unit is built on a concrete slab and includes bathing and toilet areas.

The following was achieved:

Crisis Beds

1688 beds in temporary plywood housing units constructed, including a stand alone 600 bed annex adjacent to Florida State Prison and a 112-bed facility designated as the Martin Vocational Training Center.

161 contract beds created with the Salvation Army, Goodwill Industries, Prison Ministries, Inc., and Dunklin Memorial Camp.

Increased capacity at 10 existing facilities by 152 beds.

872 beds brought on-line in the scheduled construction program.

Recommendations

- No effort be made to remove any crisis beds from inventory until the full significance of the Correctional Reform Act of 1983, and sentencing guidelines is realized; particularly such impacts that may affect the inmate population by July 1, 1985 when the Department necessarily goes to system maximum capacity.
- Provide, however, construction funds for permanent inmate beds to replace 40-bed crisis dormitories since the Federal Court was clear that these beds cannot remain in inventory in perpetuity.
- Special emphasis should be given to construction predicated on needs for single cell housing units with capabilities of close management for both adult and youthful offenders. This would permit existing facilities to better fulfill specific missions and goals relative to categories of population.
- Provide replacement close management facilities to come on-line at such time as the Main Housing Unit (the Rock), at Union Correctional Institution is phased out.
- Reduce population at Union CI and other overcrowded/volatile major institutions.

ADULT SERVICES

This year found the Adult Services Program Office focusing a major portion of its attention on institutional overcrowding. In addition to helping revise and develop policies and procedures, the Office coordinated the involvement of other agencies in maintaining compliance within the legally prescribed limits of institutional populations.

Important achievements were as follows:

- Broadened criteria for the awarding of gain time, particularly work gain time, to make the system more equitable and incentive based.
- Worked with the Florida Probation and Parole Commission in developing initiatives for parole consideration of offenders in major institutions and Community Correctional Centers evidencing positive institutional adjustment and not posing a threat to the community.
- Refined system to expedite transfers for inmates once approved for work release participation.
- Initiated contracts with other agencies, including non-profit agencies, to place inmates in their care during the last three months of confinement.
- Developed initiatives to identify inmates for transfer that would allow population adjustments in order to maintain population within legally prescribed limits.
- Structured recommendations of the revised gain time law included in the Correctional Reform Act of 1983, which new provisions strengthen population management.

Recommendations

- Make no further changes to the gain time law until such time as some experience accumulates with the new provisions of the Correctional Reform Act of 1982 and also sentencing guidelines.
- Develop system to comprehensively survey programming needs of the offender population.
- Maintain and expand capability to contract with other public or private sector organizations having available bed capacity.

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER INITIATIVES

Significant steps were taken to address the needs of an increasing population of youthful offenders from continued emphasis on vocational educational program participation to implementation of early parole interviews and timely release of youthful offenders through several parole initiatives. Additionally, emphasis continued on increasing utilization of the Mutual Participation Program in all youthful offender institutions.

Significant achievements during the year were:

To remove the disability of age for youthful offenders a new matrix was adopted by the Florida Parole and Probation Commission.

24

- Using the new Youthful Offender Matrix two special sweeps of court and Department designated youthful offenders were initiated to identify offenders warranting early parole consideration.
- Developed and initiated the Youthful Offender Declaration for admission, classification and assignment of youthful offenders to designated youthful offender institutions and programs designed to meet their needs, and to assist the Commission by providing hard copy documentation to be placed in the inmate file.
- Specialized Training Opportunity Pilot Project was implemented for Youthful Offenders with limited work histories and low educational achievement in vocational and academic programs. During FY 82-83 135 youthful offenders were trained in auto mechanics and/or auto body repairs resulting in the placement of 94 offenders in jobs in these fields upon their release.

Inmate is shown using computer terminal in CHOICES Program.

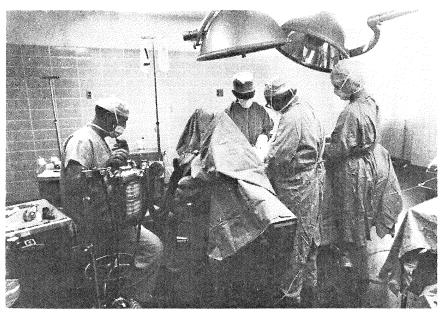

Received approval for vocational grants to implement CHOICES Program at 2 additional youthful offender institutions. This Program is an easy to use computerized career information and guidance system which provides counseling, assessment, education and job placement data specifically related to Florida.

Recommendations

- Correct/clarify the Youthful Offender Act, Chapter 958.10, Florida Statutes relative to the setting of conditions of community control.
- Provide statewide funding of the Pre-Release Employment Program.
- Implement CHOICES in additional youthful offender institutions.
- Address the needs of the female youthful offender.
- Provide more in-depth training of youthful offender staff.
- Expand special programming for special needs offenders.

HEALTH SERVICES

Under a settlement agreement in the Costello v. Wainwright litigation, the Department must comply with minimal health services standards. Further, the Corrections Mental Health Act requires an implementation plan for the Corrections Mental Health Treatment Facility to be operational July 1, 1984. As a result of these requirements the Department was under considerable pressure to increase its efforts in the health area. Additionally, the Accreditation Standards set forth certain performance criteria by which to measure degree of compliance of those standards affecting medical and mental health services.

Department medical staff performs surgery in Department Hospital.

The achievements were as follows:

- Filed a Comprehensive Health Care Plan with the Federal Court. (The Mental Health Plan had been previously submitted.)
- Implemented the utilization of the Individual Written Plan process in 25 major institutions.
- Brought into operation a 96-bed Psychiatric Crisis Stabilization Unit at Florida State Prison, and substantially completed a similar 56-bed unit at the Union Correctional Institution.
- Established and filled the position of Mental Health Director.
- Developed initial program plans for the Corrections Mental Health Treatment Facility.
- Improved emergency room capability.
- Held the annual Health Services meeting with health plan implementation, cost containment, and quality assurance being major themes.

Recommendations

- Provide sufficient health positions to meet professionally recognized standards of health care, including implementation of accreditation standards within the major institutions.
- Provide funds for essential health equipment.
- Continue implementation of the Department's Comprehensive Health Services and Mental Health Plans.
- Provide funds for implementation of Departments' Health Services Staff Development Plan.

EDUCATION SERVICES

Education services to inmates in custody of the Department of Corrections received major attention during the fiscal year. The Department cooperated with the Department of Education to conduct the most extensive analysis ever of education services provided inmates by the Department, community colleges, and school districts. As a result of this study and additional efforts, the Legislature enacted a bill to establish the Council on Correctional Education. Additional legislative action set apart monies allotted for education purposes to be used for that purpose only, and gain time laws were changed to equalize gain time awards for participation in academic and vocational training.

Significant achievements were:

 Over 2,120 inmates completed their high school equivalency requirements and received GED's, which effort exceeds the previous year by 366.

- 4,371 inmates (versus 2,063 last year) successfully completed competency tested vocational training and received Department of Education certificates in 34 different subjects.
- Motivational, self-help, and life skills programs were given greater emphasis with over 2,000 inmates completing the Departmental Life Skills Program.
- Basic skills instruction for youthful offenders was expanded through the addition of a Chapter I Project at Indian River Correctional Institution.
- Teacher competencies were upgraded through in-service training programs conducted at the statewide training session and other appropriate workshops throughout the year.
- Over 100,000 free books, with a conservative value of one million dollars, were distributed to departmental facilities during the year.

Shown are inmate workers and staff supervisor packaging free books for distribution.

Recommendations

- Expand in-service training of education staff to improve quality of instruction particularly among beginning teachers.
- Cooperate with other agencies in order to provide greater job placement service to inmates.
- Utilize resources inside and outside the Department to meet the needs of students with learning and developmental disabilities.
- Provide additional program space in areas of critical need (Hillsborough, Indian River, Tomoka, Zephyrhills and Cross City).

CREATION OF ADMISSION AND RELEASE AUTHORITY

The Admission and Release Authority was created as a result of reorganization of the Bureau of Offender Records. Prior to reorganization, the Bureau was regarded as primarily a "records" or fileroom operation. Department administration realized the importance of many other functions being performed in this area and a high priority was placed on emphasizing these areas—such as the establishment and maintenance of accurate sentence data, extradition processing, inter-institutional transfers, monitoring institution populations, and providing efficient release mechanisms. These are vital responsibilities in addition to maintaining the official record for all active inmates and parolees, and creation of the Admission and Release Authority has provided recognition of these functions.

Major achievements during the year:

- Completed a systematic review of basic sentence data on computer records for all active inmates.
- Enhanced staffing has resulted in currency of filing and commitment processing.

A Records Clerk is filing an inmate file jacket. The record stacks on either side of the clerk are just two of many.

- Timely release of inmates affected by application of the new gain time rate under the Correctional Reform Act of 1983 avoided violation of the stipulation of settlement in the Costello v. Wainwright case.
- Implementation of on-line entry of sentence data from receiving centers establishes the computer record for immediate review, and calculates a tentative expiration date.

Recommendations

- Additional computer terminals to assure that employee will have tools necessary to perform with top efficiency.
- Implementation of a computerized transfer program which will automatically handle institutional assignment of previously approved transfer orders as vacancies occur in facilities.

CORRECTIONAL INDUSTRIES

There were two major thrusts in the Correctional Industries field during the Fiscal Year. First, were the efforts to increase the cost-effectiveness of the State Correctional System through provisions including training and learning opportunities for inmates in Industries programs. Second, further coordination was effected with Prison Rehabilitative Industries and Diversified Enterprises (PRIDE) Inc., to shift Industries programs to that group. It is planned that Correctional Industries, as a separate departmental entity will not exist after Fiscal Year 1984-85.

The following achievements were attained:

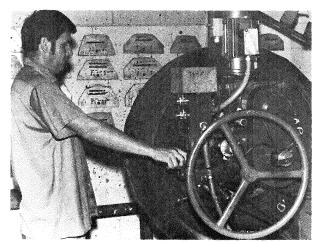

- The annual net profit for Correctional Industries increased to $2,500,000 in FY 1982-83, up from $200,000 a year prior.
- A Master Plan for Correctional Industries was completed and implemented during the Fiscal Year.
- Beginning with transfer of the printing operation at Zephyrhills Correctional Institution on September 1, 1982, shifted 12 Industries Programs in four different institutions to PRIDE, Inc.
- Two new work programs were initiated, a Ring Bindery and Decal Manufacturing operation at the Cross City Correctional Institution and a Citrus Program adjacent to the new Martin Correctional Institution.

work shifts at the Avon Park Correctional Institution Tire Recapping Plant to accommodate additional production and sales generated by new customers.

Equipment and operator in the Avon Park Tire Recapping Plant.

Inmates are shown at work in the garment factory at Marion Correctional Institution.

- Financial reporting was revised to more stringent program sales, expenditure forecasts, improving reporting efficiency with better control of expenditures.
- Improved inmate selection and management procedures has substantially increased productivity of the Union Correctional Institution Abattoir.
- Initiated planning for the UCI Abattoir operation to provide meat products for Regions I. II and III.
- Installed bulk packaging machine for the dairy operation at the Apalachee Correctional Institution.
- Implemented an Industries Safety Program and provided training to all current Industries' staff.

- Provide funding to develop new industry programs as means of reducing inmate idleness.
- Continue to cooperate with PRIDE in the transfer to them of Correctional Industries Programs to the non-profit corporation.
- After the transfer is completed assure a continuing capability within the Department to develop and coordinate other agency work programs, and to evaluate and monitor ongoing industrial operations.

STAFF DEVELOPMENT

As a result of both statutory requirements and accreditation standards, a major effort was undertaken during the year to increase the level of training for staff of the Department.

Achievements were:

• Over 700,000 training hours provided to Staff during the fiscal year.

Force Squad training at Lancaster Correctional Institution.

- All new Correctional Officers employed before June 30, 1983 completed or were enrolled in the 320 hour Basic Recruit Planning Program.
- Training equipment upgraded at all locations through utilization of Correctional Officer Training Trust Fund.

Recommendations

- Improve the quality of in-service training by providing at least 1 Correctional Training Specialist for every 240 employees.
- Seek funding for increasing the number of training relief positions in all major institutions, Community facilities and Probation and Parole Circuits to insure that there is no negative impact on operations as a result of placing employees in training.
- Explore and pilot test the utilization of computer technology in the delivery of in-service training.

PERSONNEL RECRUITMENT AND RETENTION

A major problem over the years has been the turnover rate of Correctional Officers' I and Probation and Parole Officers (Trainees). Intensive efforts were continued during the Fiscal Year to reduce these turnover rates.

Achievements during the Fiscal Year include:

- Reduction of Correctional Officer I turnover rate from 28% to 20% over the previous Fiscal Year.
- Probation and Parole Officer (Trainee) turnover rate reduced from 19% to 15% over previous year.

- Provide salary parity between Correctional Officers and the beginning level law enforcement class.
- Establish a series of classes which are equal to the law enforcement classes, and will provide a career ladder to Correctional Officers and Probation and Parole Officers.

- Develop recruitment and selection programs which will screen out applicants who may not be best suited for correctional/parole career fields.
- Ensure equalization of salaries for correctional education personnel and their counterparts employed by local school authorities in the same labor market.

INSPECTIONS, INVESTIGATIONS AND TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

The Department is required by Florida law to conduct management reviews at major institutions. Also, Florida law and Federal Court Order requires the establishment of standards for local jails, and inspections of the jails relative to compliance with those standards.

As probation and parole caseloads and the prison population grew, with a resultant increase in the numbers of staff and facilities throughout the State, management control of the system was subject to considerable strain. Strong administrative control was maintained through the use of internal audits, and management reviews.

During the Fiscal Year the Department's achievements in this area were as follows:

- Conducted fact finding projects at Sumter, Broward, and Union Correctional Institutions in conjunction with Florida Bar Association for external review of inmate grievances.
- Completed 512 inspections of local detention facilities.

Jail Inspector from Department inspects local jail accompanied by jail staff.

- Conducted management reviews at four major institutions.
- Provided 108 technical assistance consultations to help counties solve their jail problems.
- 1235 criminal and internal investigations were completed.
- 109 internal audits performed during the year.

- Increase expense funds to provide adequately for required travel by all staff in the Office of the Inspector General.
- Full time clerical and administrative assistant positions should be provided the Grievance Administrator due to the extremely high workload.
- Automobile replacement should be provided based on a standardized evaluation system to be used to determine when vehicles are not cost effective to retain. Some cars assigned to Prison Inspectors have in excess of 100,000 miles and require expensive maintenance and repairs.
- Funding for equipment necessary to conduct highly sensitive investigations, such as tape recorders, electronic surveillance devices, and polygraph machines.

• Funding for a clerical position to be designated as central control for all complaint letters to the Inspector General's Office to avoid duplication of responses by different bureaus.

ACCREDITATION

Fully Accredited by Commission on Accreditation for Corrections:

- 26 Major Institutions
- 23 Community Correctional Centers
- 8 Women's Adjustment Centers
- 82 Probation and Parole Services Offices

The achievements for FY 1982-83 were as follows:

- Fort Myers Community Correctional Center was audited and completed preparations for a full Commission hearing and is expected to become fully accredited.
- Central Office has embarked on the process of preparation for Accreditation under the Manual of Standards for the Administration of Correctional Agencies. This process is expected to be completed with full accreditation in early January, 1984. This will make Florida the largest fully Accredited System in the Nation.
- The twenty-five major institutions accredited in FY 1980-81 began to prepare for re-accreditation during the year. Audits will commence early in 1984.
- Implemented a new procedure in the re-accreditation process called the Central Office Review. The standards contained in the Accreditation Manual for Adult Corrections Institutions are compared with Florida Statutes, Departmental Rules, and Policy and Procedure Directives issued from Central Office. This allows a tremendous reduction in paper work and duplication of material for the institutions. This is the first time that the Commission on Accreditation has used this procedure.

- Increase resources available to the Department in order to maintain Accreditation Status.
- Recommend to the Commission on Accreditation in Corrections that the clarity of meaning of selected standards be improved.
- Recommend to the Commission on Accreditation in Corrections that specific standards to consolidated to eliminate redundancy.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE TRENDS

The new growth of the inmate population and the probation and parole caseload of the Department of Corrections is the result of varying rates of admissions and releases. It appears to be related to several factors over which the Department has no control. These factors include Florida population growth, the rate of crime among the younger male population, the rate of unemployment in the State, rates of arrest and prosecution, and sentencing policies of the judiciary within a structure of changing statutes.

POPULATION AT RISK INCREASED 2.1% DURING THE 1982 CALENDAR YEAR

The rate of commitment for both the prison population and probation and parole caseload is related primarily to the number of male adults in the State, 18 to 29 years of age. This age group, called the Population at Risk, has been responsible for a high proportion of Florida's prison admissions since 1960 (approximately 75% of all admitted inmates are in this age group).

FLORIDA MALE POPULATION GROWTH FOR AGES 18-29 YEARS°° (1979-83)

• PRISON ADMISSIONS AVERAGED 154 FOR EACH 10,000 MALES (AGE 18-29) THAT WERE ADDED TO FLORIDA'S GENERAL POPULATION SINCE 1960

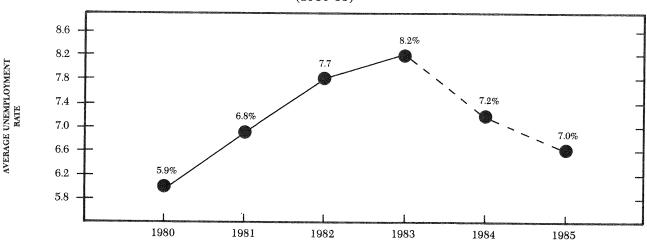

Because sufficient data has not been available regarding law enforcement and court activities, the relationship between the population at risk, unemployment and prison admissions has been especially significant in developing forecasts of the growth of the prison population.

FLORIDA'S AVERAGE UNEMPLOYMENT RATE INCREASED .5% FOR CALENDAR YEAR 1982

The rate of prison admission from the population risk historically has been tied to the rate of unemployment in response to increases in criminal activity during periods of high unemployment.

FLORIDA UNEMPLOYMENT RATE (1980-85)

IT IS ESTIMATED THERE WILL BE AN ADDITIONAL 305 PRISON ADMISSIONS FOR EACH

INDEX CRIMES IN FLORIDA DECREASED 4.8% DURING CALENDAR YEAR 1983

*Average unemployment rates supplied by the Florida Division of Employment Security

The Uniform Crime Report provides a general indicator of criminal activity in the state. Crime report data historically has not been related to prison admissions. This may be explained by the fact that the Uniform Crime Report counts crimes, not criminals. In addition, the index crimes reported include a significant number of misdemeanor offenses not resulting in prison admissions.

CRIME TREND DATA CALENDAR YEARS 1980-82

INMATE ADMISSIONS AND RELEASES

- THERE WAS A NET GAIN OF 680 INMATES AND THE TOTAL PRISON ADMISSIONS FOR THIS FISCAL YEAR INCREASED BY 5% AS COMPARED TO FISCAL YEAR 1981-82
  - New admissions from the court increased 8.4%
  - Admissions of violators of parole and mandatory conditional release decreased 18.8%

• PRISON RELEASES INCREASED BY 44.6% THIS FISCAL YEAR COMPARED TO FISCAL YEAR 1981-82

COMMUNITY SUPERVISION INTAKES AND LOSSES

The rate of growth of probation and parole cases is affected by changes in certain variables similar to those used to predict prison admissions. However, increases in the supervision caseload are the direct result of the rate of parole release from prison, as well as new probation commitments from the circuit courts.

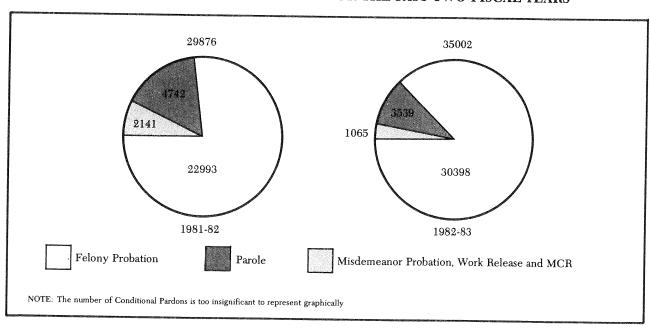

It should be noted that with improved reporting resulting from full implementation of the probation and parole information system, the trends below may not accurately reflect the degree or rate of change, but they are generally considered to be valid indicators of direction of growth.

• SUPERVISION INTAKE FOR FISCAL YEAR 1982-83 WAS 22.4% MORE THAN THE PREVIOUS YEAR

- Felony probation intake increased 26.2% over last year
- Parole intake increased 17.6% over the previous year

• SUPERVISION LOSSES FOR FISCAL YEAR 1982-83 INCREASED 17.2% OVER THE PREVIOUS YEAR SUPERVISION CASELOAD LOSSES FOR THE PAST TWO FISCAL YEARS

INTERSTATE COMPACT TRANSFERS

- INTERSTATE COMPACT TRANSFERS DURING THE 1982-83 FISCAL YEAR BETWEEN STATES DECREASED 44% OVER THE PREVIOUS YEAR
  - FLORIDA SENT 479 PAROLEES TO OTHER STATES FOR SUPERVISION
  - FLORIDA RECEIVED 817 PAROLEES FROM OTHER STATES TO SUPERVISE
  - FLORIDA SENT 3523 PROBATIONERS TO OTHER STATES FOR SUPERVISION
  - FLORIDA RECEIVED 2402 PROBATIONERS FROM OTHER STATES FOR SUPERVISION

CORRECTIONAL STATISTICS

The continued refinement of our computerized data system has permitted inclusion of information for incarcerated inmates and offenders under community supervision for two time periods.

- Inmates and probationers/parolees admitted to custody or supervision of the Department of Corrections during FY 1982-83.
- Inmates and probationers/parolees in custody or supervision of the Department as of June 30, 1983.

Data in this section of the Annual Report are organized into two major subsections—incarcerated offenders, and offenders under community supervision. This data follows the summary statistics for population under criminal sentence.

For each category statistics are included on the population in custody or under supervision, along with dispositional data and offender demographics. The data are organized along the following lines:

- First, data descriptive of the prison and community supervision populations are presented. Data are included on the number of offenders, their origin by county, and where housed or supervised.
- Then, dispositional data as to criminal history, primary offense, length of commitment or supervision, and class of felony is included.
- Finally, offender specific data on age, education, intelligence, length of residence, employment, and use of alcohol or narcotics are provided.

It should be noted that some data are the result of self reporting and may be subject to error and may not be totally reliable.

Due to limitation of space in the Annual Report, a limited amount of data is included in the report. Data from reports which previously appeared in the Biennial Report series is available upon specific request from the Bureau of Planning, Research and Statistics, 1311 Winewood Boulevard, Tallahassee, Florida 32301, telephone (904) 488-8430.

PROBATION AND PAROLE STATISTICS

The following pages contain statistics concerning probationers and parolees under the supervision of the Department of Corrections. The probation and parole caseload continues to increase. The Department continues its emphasis upon diversionary programs and these programs, hopefully, will reduce the number of institutional beds necessary in the future. Consequently, an even greater probation and parole caseload is anticipated in the years to come.

In the following tables, misdemenaor probation reflects cases originally filed in circuit court as felonies that were reduced to misdemeanors and subsequently placed on probation.
