The Honorable Members of the Florida Legislature

Dear Governor and Members of the Legislature:

In accordance with Chapter 20.315(16), Florida Statutes, the Department of Corrections respectfully submits its annual report for fiscal year 1993-94. The report summarizes the department's progress and accomplishments during the year.

This year's report was created to serve as a resource book for those interested in any aspect of the Florida correctional system. New features include facility profiles; complete descriptions and locations of offender programs such as substance abuse treatment, vocational, academic and prison industry programs; and additional statistics on inmate releases. I believe this year's report accomplishes its goal of providing answers to the most common questions concerning the Florida Department of Corrections.

We will be happy to respond to any questions regarding this report.

Sincerely,

Harry K. Singletary, Jr.
Secretary

SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

- The community service outreach programs. Inmate work squads continued to provide over $11 million in services to cities and counties across the state. In addition, inmates participating in our prison industries program built playground equipment, computer stations, etc., and supplied other materials for Florida schools. During the Christmas holidays, inmates doubled as Santa's elves hammering out thousands of toys and gifts for deserving families throughout the state.
- The successful promulgation of policy. The department assisted in the passage of the Safe Streets Initiative, which ultimately led to the elimination of provisional credits and basic gain time.
- The collection of fees. Our Probation and Parole Services boasts a total collection of $47 million in cost of supervision, restitution, court costs, and other fees.
- The expansion of substance abuse treatment programs. For the first time in the history of the department, we now have substance abuse treatment programs at all major institutions and community correctional facilities.
- The establishment of P&P drug treatment programs. As part of the department's prevention and treatment initiatives, Probation and Parole Services implemented a cost-effective community-based drug treatment program where none had existed before. Moreover, the department as a whole expanded its mental health and drug treatment programs within all its institutions.
- The opening of child care facilities. Three work site child care centers at three prisons now find themselves fully operational on behalf of the children of our employees.
- The professional development of DC employees. Thanks to the department's efforts, the state now has 117 new certified public managers.
- The exploration of new communication awareness. To improve and enhance our communication, education, and training efforts, both internally and externally, the department adopted the use of video to meet its needs with great eminence. Life Inside, our initial project, has been critically acclaimed nationally and more than 30 states have requested a copy of the short film. Community Talks, our most recent production, conveys the positive impact of corrections within Florida communities.
- The investment in staff and training. A grants coordination position was established to assist in obtaining more grant dollars to aid in the professional development of staff. And, to date, DC staff are reported to have completed over two million hours of training.
- The containment of costs. In sidestepping inflation, the medical cost-containment program increased only 2.6 percent as compared to the 3.2 percent increased rate of inflation.
- The promoting of human resources. After serious cutbacks, the department assisted CESA staff in securing employment with DC. In addressing other staff needs, DC implemented an employee assistance program, a post-trauma staff support program, and a handbook to assist survivors of employees who die or suffer debilitating injuries in the line of duty. Staff in the Orlando area helped in providing Latch Key children with meals through its Kids Cafe program. For the daughters of female inmates at Jefferson Correctional Institution, a Girl Scout troop was formed to address the special needs of these growing young ladies.
- New Funding. The 1994 Florida Legislature appropriated a $77 million increase in operating funds for the department and $269 million in fixed capital outlay funds for the construction and phase in of 17,033 new beds. The legislature also approved a Security Services Step Pay Plan for correctional officers, institutional security specialists, and correctional probation officers.
- Last but not least, the DC Women's Issues Task Force was formed to address issues related to the current program needs of female offenders. This group of offenders includes those females who are currently under community supervision or have recently been released from custody as well as those currently incarcerated.

While this extensive list does not include everything we have accomplished over the past few years, I do believe it demonstrates our commitment to working together to make a positive difference in the lives of all Floridians.

Despite our many successful feats, exploits, and achievements, we have miles to go before we sleep. Although we will, on occasion, pause and take time to reflect, we will be ever-vigilant in our pursuit to distinguish ourselves as progressive leaders keeping pace with our department's expansive growth.

Harry K. Singletary, Jr.

SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

The Florida Department of Corrections has grown dramatically over the past three years. The agency now covers 67 counties with 46 major institutions, 82 smaller facilities, and more than 155 probation offices. Staffing these expansive operations, involving the care and custody of over 56,000 inmates and oversight responsibilities for more than 133,000 probationers, is a work force of almost 24,000 strong.

Guided by our vision, values, and mission statements, we have accomplished a great deal during our progressive development. Many of these accomplishments can be more aptly defined as feats while some are better described as bold exploits and others outstanding achievements, which are marked by hard-won success in the face of difficulty or opposition. Through strength, heroics, and successful teamwork — together — we have managed to accomplish the following feats, exploits, and achievements with a level of quality and leadership that has become synonymous with the Florida Department of Corrections.

- The survival of Hurricane Andrew. In the wake of mass destruction and devastation, we helped one another to rebuild and rebound.
- The settlement of the Costello lawsuit. A 21-year lawsuit to control overcrowding and improve medical care for inmates was finally brought to closure.
- The implementation of the new protective management system. A victory in the Stapleton lawsuit is a direct result of this new management process.
- The settlement of the USA case. An intensive training course entitled "Women Facing the Future" and a progressive sexual harassment policy resulted.
- The certification of the department's grievance procedure. The U.S. Justice Department legally sanctioned the department's grievance procedure.
- The receipt of a $2.4 million grant. The Bureau of Justice Assistance funded a drug punishment program under our Probation & Parole Services in Bradenton.
- The awarding of 29 Davis Productivity Awards. The department's management efficiency and numerous cost-saving efforts were recognized.
- The accreditation of facilities. Twenty-seven institutions, fifteen community correctional centers, and each of the P&P Services offices that attempted the ACA audit successfully passed.
- The establishment of outside linkages. The department was successful in joining forces with other law enforcement agencies and academic institutions of higher learning.
- The updating and completion of the department's strategic plan. After many painstaking efforts, the final draft of our five-year plan was completed.
- The advancement of office automation. With the advent of new technology, the department is realizing increased efficiency and effectiveness through its use of new office automation systems: the Electronic Bulletin Board, the Cashless Canteen System, the Computer Assisted Reception Process, the Integrated Assessment Placement System, and the Court-Ordered Payment System.
- The establishment of a new inmate classification system. The department has worked arduously to implement an improved inmate classification system.
- The assimilation of the Americans with Disabilities Act. The department rallied to meet the many challenges and external mandates of this act.
- The completion of the P&P classification system. The department made great strides toward effecting a classification for Probation and Parole offices based on risk assessment.
- The prevention of transmittable diseases. The department successfully satisfied the required federal mandates for providing training and inoculation to educate and prevent the spread of bloodborne pathogens.
- The reformation of sentencing guidelines. The department played a significant role in revamping the state's sentencing structure.
- The launching of DC's expansion efforts. In response to the elimination of early-release mechanisms, the department has embarked upon an ambitious construction schedule to meet the needs of additional bed space.
- The implementation of the new RFP process. To ensure more equitable competition for bid participants and the best prices for the state of Florida, the department has initiated a highly sophisticated procedure to govern its request for proposal bid process.
- Farm Program. In our interest to reduce inmate idleness and food costs, the department implemented a statewide farming program to make better use of its inmate workforce and natural resources.
- The expansion of student programs and participation. The department participated in the Smart Summer Youth Program and adopted several schools in partnership as a means of expanding its internship programs for all Florida students.
- The curbing of prison contraband activity. The department created a contraband-interdiction unit statewide to stamp out the trafficking of illegal goods in our institutions. In conjunction with this program, DC also launched its random drug-testing program.
- The appreciation of diversity. A number of events were hosted statewide in recognizing, appreciating, and celebrating the ethnic, cultural, and gender diversity of those who make up this fine agency.

SECRETARY & DEPUTY

SECRETARY

Harry K. Singletary, Jr. is chief executive officer (CEO) of the Department of Corrections. He was appointed to this position by Governor Lawton Chiles in April 1991. Singletary worked for 11 years in juvenile corrections in Illinois before moving back to Florida to accept a position as Region V Director in 1979. As DC Secretary, he is responsible for the direction and operation of all aspects of the Florida correctional system. During his tenure, he has sought to decentralize the department's administrative functions using Total Quality Management techniques and has emphasized training and staff development, community partnerships and increased public safety.

DEPUTY SECRETARY

Bill Thurber assists the Secretary in supervising the activities of top management staff in the department, in addition to acting on his behalf in the Secretary's absence. He was appointed to the position of Deputy Secretary in May 1991. Thurber has been with the department for 17 years, serving most recently as Assistant Secretary for the Office of Management and Budget for seven years before being appointed Deputy Secretary. Thurber's vast knowledge of the budget process, finance and administrative services makes him an invaluable asset to the department.

REGIONAL ORGANIZATION

Correctional institutions, community facilities and probation and parole offices are administered through five geographic regions. Each region is headed by a regional director who supervises the activities of the superintendent of each major institution, the superintendent of community facilities and the regional probation and parole administrator. The regional director is responsible for financial administration and personnel management within his region and for ensuring that department policies are carried out and standards are met. Regional organizations and functions are shown below.

REGIONAL FUNCTIONS

Each regional office coordinates activities and solves problems at major institutions in accordance with standard department diagnosis, evaluation, referral, classification and case management procedures.

The activities of all community correctional centers, road prisons, vocational training centers, work camps, forestry camps, and probation and restitution centers are also directed by the regional office in accordance with Central Office policies and directives.

The offices coordinate and direct all probation and parole services and activities in accordance with policy guidelines and program directives from the Central Office, to include supervision, investigation, intake and diversionary programs.

Each office performs personnel management activities, including maintenance of personnel files and related records for personnel of community facilities, probation and parole offices and the regional office. In addition, regional offices maintain property accounting records, document all property transactions and maintain property management and control. The regional offices also prepare and submit regional budgets, monitor operating accounts and expenditures and supervise regional fund allocations and releases.

PRISON BEDS

Funding, Bed Types and Capacity Requirements

The department's overcrowding concerns were emphasized in 1972 when the Costello lawsuit was filed. It was based on inadequate health care and overcrowding. As a result of this lawsuit, the state signed an agreement in 1979 that said we could operate at maximum capacity until June 1985, at which time the agreed-upon capacity would be reduced to 33 percent above design, which is referred to as lawful capacity.

Since the plaintiff's attorneys had advocated a return to design capacity, the 33 percent was a very equitable agreement for the state because it gave us six years to build enough beds so the change from maximum to lawful capacity would not be so traumatic to the system. In effect, this means for every 100 design beds in the system, we can house 133 inmates.

The Florida Legislature provided the assurance that the department would continue to abide by the lawful capacity agreement by codifying these standards into Florida statute.

Bed Capacity Terms

Design Capacity—The optimum number of inmates a particular institution was designed to house (based on 55 square feet per inmate in dormitories or one inmate per cell).

Maximum Capacity—The upper limit of inmates at which an individual institution is permitted to operate (based on 37.5 square feet per inmate in dormitories or two inmates per cell).

Lawful Capacity—(formerly called system maximum capacity) This is the agreed to legal capacity of Florida's prison system. The number of inmates the department can legally house is calculated by increasing the design capacity by 33 percent. It is calculated on the system as a whole (male and female beds combined), and we are not bound by lawful capacity per individual facility. NOTE: The only exceptions are Florida State Prison, maximum confinement units, and contract beds, which do not have 33 percent added.

PRISON BEDS

Breakdown of Beds Appropriated During 1994 Legislative Session

A prison construction package for a total of 17,587 beds was approved by the Legislature during its 1994 session. They include:

- 7,368 New institutions and annexes
- 5,797 Additions to current facilities
- 3,868 Privatization beds
- 554 Beds resulting from increased capacity threshold

17,587 Total beds

New Prison Beds

A breakdown of the 17,033 new prison beds to be built is as follows:

- 3,819 New major institutions in Santa Rosa, Wakulla and Okeechobee Counties
- 1,048 New work camps at Walton, Hardee, Mayo and Lake CI's
- 3,549 New annexes at Hamilton, DeSoto and Gulf CI's
- 4,749 Additional housing units at 22 existing facilities
- 3,868 Privatization beds including two 750-bed institutions, one 1,318-bed close custody facility and three 350-bed youthful offender facilities

The Legislature also increased the Control Release Authority threshold from 99 percent to 100 percent of lawful capacity to allow an additional 554 beds to be occupied.

Prison Construction

Work camps are the least expensive facilities. They hold 262 inmates and cost approximately $2.5 million or $9,542 per bed. The Department has built 31 work camps in the last six years.

"Prototype" or single cell prisons house 1,318 inmates and cost $33 million or $24,987 a bed. Prototypes opened in Orange County in 1988, Charlotte County in 1989, and Hardee County in 1991. Two new prototypes were appropriated in 1994-95.

"Combination" institutions have both single cells and dormitories. They have 1,183 beds and cost $26.1 million or $22,033 per bed. Two were completed in 1991, two in 1993, four were appropriated for 1993-94 and four more in 1994-95.

Drug treatment centers house and treat substance abuse offenders with sentences of three years or less. Funded for the first time in 1990, two of these 384-bed facilities were built during 1991-92 at a cost of $10,475 per bed.

COST SAVINGS

Deputy Dir. for OMB Fred Schuknecht
(904) 488-8306 SC 278-8306

Fiscal Management

Over the last two fiscal years, the department returned to the state treasury over $16 million at year's end.

Prompt Payment Compliance

The department continues to excel in the timely processing of vendor invoices, achieving a 98% or better compliance rate with the Comptroller's processing time requirements for 10 consecutive quarters. Recent statistics for the state's largest 10 agencies has the department ranked second in fewest exceptions and first in the average time required to process invoices.

Pre-cast Cells

In an effort to build prisons more efficiently and economically, the department is now using pre-cast concrete cells that are trucked ready-made from the factory to prison sites, where inmates help assemble them. The pre-cast cells cost $12,500 per bed. These cells are expected to house 8,000 inmates when completed and will cut building time in half, from 10 months to five. The first cells arrived at Liberty C.I. in August 1994. Having more cells available earlier will help ensure that inmates serve a larger percent of their sentences.

Productivity Awards

Twenty-nine department employees and work units received Davis Productivity awards in 1993 for innovative ideas and increased efficiency. Dade Correctional Institution was recognized as an Exemplary Agency Winner for its remarkable teamwork during the Hurricane Andrew disaster. Bill Bowers, head of Food Services in Central Office, won an Outstanding Individual Award for reducing food costs by using soy and boneless food products.

Inmate Labor

Inmate labor is used to help build prisons, and is estimated to save about 40% on the cost of contracting. It also provides training to inmates in the construction trades and reduces inmate idleness.

Fred Schuknecht

Trade skills in electrical, plumbing, carpentry and masonry are used throughout the institutions to perform repairs and maintenance. During FY 1993-94, more than 2.4 million hours of inmate labor was used in construction, renovation and repair work at a labor cost savings of over $10 million. Last fiscal year, inmates also performed 55,648 hours of work correcting fire and safety deficiencies at facilities throughout the state, at a savings of $236,504 to taxpayers.

DOT Contracts

In addition, under a contract agreement with the Department of Transportation, the department provides inmate crews assigned to highway maintenance projects. In FY 1993-94, inmate labor for DOT exceeded 1.8 million hours at an estimated value of $11.8 million

Public Works Program

The Public Works program is funded from the cost of supervision payments made by probationers. This program provides free inmate labor to cities, counties and non-profit organizations. During FY 1993-94, this program provided over 1.8 million hours of labor at an estimated value of over $7.7 million.

Interagency/Community Service Projects

The department also provides inmate labor to political subdivisions of the state. Each year over one million hours of labor are provided by these work crews, producing millions of dollars in savings to the residents of Florida. Last year, community service squads logged over 1.6 million hours of service at an estimated value of over $7 million.

Offender Earnings

Offenders on work release programs and under community supervision contribute to local economies through their gainful employment. Their employment has a favorable impact both in taxes paid by these offenders as well as reduced dependence on public assistance programs. A key component of this program is support paid to offender's dependents. In addition, staff lowered the per diem cost of work release by $5 per day, at a cost savings of approximately $14,000 per day.

Subsistence and Transportation Fees

Inmates in work release programs are required to contribute to the cost of their incarceration. Last year, the department returned in excess of $6 million to the state in subsistence and transportation fees.

WORK FORCE

Personnel Chief Ralph Kiessig (904) 488-2981 SC 278-2981

The Florida Department of Corrections had a total of 23,732 authorized positions as of June 30, 1994. Staffers care for the needs of more than 55,000 inmates and 134,030 offenders on community supervision. That staff consists of professionals as wide ranging as doctors and teachers, correctional and correctional probation officers, chaplains and educational specialists, superintendents and clerical staff, program managers and food service directors. Since public safety is the department's foremost mission, more than half of all staff positions are in security areas.

On June 30, 1994, the department had 22,865 employees on its payroll. There were 16,534 working in institutions and community facilities, including suboffices, and the majority worked in a security capacity. The breakdowns of staff by race and gender indicate a diverse corrections workforce.

The most valuable asset an organization can have is a well adjusted, dedicated staff. To that end, the Department of Corrections provides the following employee programs.

Post Trauma Staff Support Program — Employee involvement in specific violent, work-related situations may cause serious physical and/or emotional trauma to an employee. The PTSS program is designed to minimize the effects of the trauma by providing immediate intervention and subsequent debriefing by an outside mental health counselor specializing in post trauma stress.

Employee Assistance Program — The EAP provides outside counseling services to employees experiencing personal problems that may affect their ability to perform their duties and responsibilities. Participation in EAPs has resulted in a reduction in absenteeism, sick leave usage, tardiness and turnover, while improving job performance, employee morale and employee relations.

Legislative Update

Liaison Katherine Pennington
(904) 488-7436 SC 278-7436

The regular 60-day session of the 1994 Florida Legislature convened on February 8 and concluded, after a brief one-week extension, on April 15, 1994. Over 3,000 bills were filed during this year's session, with a primary focus on juvenile justice, anti-crime legislation, health care reform, government accountability, performance based budgeting and sunset review of the statutes affecting public records and trust funds.

Appropriations: More money, more beds

The 1994-95 APPROPRIATIONS ACT included a $77 million increase in operating funds for the department and $269 million in fixed capital outlay funds. Most of the funds are earmarked for the construction and phase-in of new beds. The department's plan for 14,655 new beds to end early release of inmates by December 1995 was approved (one 1,318-bed institution is to be constructed with private financing). In addition, the Legislature designated funds to the Privatization Commission for another 1,318-bed facility and three youthful offender institutions (350 beds each) for a total of 17,033 new beds.

Step Pay Plan, Salary Increases

On November 1, 1994, a SECURITY SERVICES STEP PAY PLAN will be implemented for correctional officers and correctional probation officers which provides for a minimum increase of 4% of base salary. Effective on November 1, 1994, a 4% competitive pay adjustment was also approved for all other full-time, non-security Career Service, Senior Management Service, Selected Exempt Service, and CESA employees. Professional Health Care employees will receive a 4% competitive pay adjustment on their anniversary dates.

Florida Corrections Commission

The Florida Corrections Commission was created as part of the governor's plan to increase effectiveness and efficiency through the cooperation of state and local officials and private citizens working together to develop and oversee correctional programs. By October 1, 1994, the governor will appoint nine members (knowledgeable in the areas of construction, health care, information technology, education, business, food services, law, and inmate and youthful offender rehabilitation and services). The Commission is assigned to the Secretary of the Department of Corrections for administrative and fiscal accountability purposes, but will otherwise function independently of the control and direction of the department. • SB 1748

Juvenile Justice Act

$222.6 million was appropriated to fund this year's JUVENILE JUSTICE package. Highlights include $14 million to create the new Department of Juvenile Justice, and $30 million for two 750-bed academies for violent juveniles who will spend up to three years; $60 million on alternative schools for disruptive kids and after-school programs for at-risk middle school kids.

Prison Siting; Inmate Welfare Trust Fund; Inmate Medical Co-payment

This bill was originally filed at the request of the department to expedite the siting and construction of prisons. The department can negotiate and enter into an agreement or contract before an appraisal of a proposed site is obtained. Previously, this process took an average of two years to complete.

Late in the Session, the bill was amended to require that the inmate welfare trust fund be appropriated annually. This will affect the operation of canteens and vending machines, the management of the proceeds from telephone commissions, inmate educational/vocational programs, and the purchase of equipment used primarily for recreational purposes. It was further amended to require that the department collect a $1-$5 co-payment for each non-emergency visit by an inmate to a health care provider. • SB 1320

Agency Strategic Plan

Planning Mgr. A. Charles Hazelip, Ph.D.
(904) 488-1801 SC 278-1801

Six critical issue teams consisting of Central Office and field staff prepared an annual update to the agency strategic plan. Emphasis this year was placed on "tightening" condition descriptions, making them more data-driven and focused on future projections.

In January, the department implemented a quarterly reporting system to track the department's progress in meeting agency strategic plan objectives. The reports provide executive management with the current status of specific strategies in the strategic plan. The reports also will be the basis for the annual progress report submitted to the governor and legislature.

The department also completed a pilot project in operational planning. Adult Services, a major element of the Programs Office in Central Office, produced a workable plan specifying operational objectives and tasks to be performed as defined in the agency strategic plan. This plan will be used as a model for instruction throughout the department in operational planning. The implementation of operational plans department-wide is the ultimate goal of this effort. Workshops within each region have been scheduled to acquaint field staff with the operational planning process.

PRIDE

President Pam Davis, Ph.D.
(813) 535-4900 SC 568-1300

Prison Rehabilitative Industries and Diversified Enterprises (PRIDE), Inc., was authorized by the Florida Legislature in 1981 as a non-profit corporation to self-fund and manage the state prison industries. Over the years, PRIDE has contributed approximately $62 million to the state of Florida in victim's restitution, inmate compensation, etc.

Vital Statistics:

- In FY 93-94, PRIDE trained approximately 2,934 inmates; 2,824 in industries and 110 in operations.
- They are supervised by 236 civilian PRIDE staff.
- The inmates are paid 15 to 45 cents an hour, and they received $1.5 million in wages in 1993.
- $375,000 in restitution funds was distributed to 1,600 victims and businesses, and 115 local entities during the 1993-94 fiscal year.
- There are 42 PRIDE industries throughout Florida in 20 prisons.

How PRIDE Works: The core of PRIDE is the TIES (Training, Industry, Education and Support) program. TIES integrates private sector business goals, objectives and measurements with on-the-job training and employability education for PRIDE inmate workers as well as transitional support for PRIDE ex-offenders.

Criteria for Inmate Placement in PRIDE: PRIDE industry managers provide the Department of Corrections classification officers with specific guidelines for the jobs available, such as education requirements. The classification officers then assign inmates who would best qualify. The inmate fills out an application and is interviewed by the industry manager. PRIDE then gives the inmate the appropriate work/on-the-job training assignment.

Post-Release Job Placement: Prior to release, inmate workers are advised to contact the PRIDE job developers using a toll-free number provided. Refer-als and job interviews are scheduled for the ex-offenders, with an emphasis on matching the job with on-the-job training at PRIDE. Critical transitional support such as housing, transportation and clothing, if needed, is provided to the ex-offenders.

Economic Impact: PRIDE has an average $37-$40 million annual economic impact on Florida. That amount rises to $60-$80 million in goods and services when the multiplier effect is factored in.

Accredited Training Programs: A number of PRIDE industries have been certified by accredited agencies such as the Department of Education; Clemson University School of Textiles, Clemson Apparel Research; the University of Florida (IFAS) as well as the National Institution of Automotive Service Excellence, which certifies PRIDE-trained inmate welders.

Industry manager Ron Gudehus inspects an optical lens with two inmate workers training at PRIDE optical industry at Broward Correctional Institution.

Recommitment Rates

In accordance with Florida Statute 946.516(2), the following statistics have been drawn from the PRIDE Industries Tracking Report dated January 1994. According to this data, over a period of two and a half years (July 1991 to December 1993) 1,673 inmates who participated in PRIDE programs were released to the community. Of these 1,673 released inmates, 832 were employed upon release. The overall rate of recommitment for the 1,673 releasees was 11% or 181 inmates. For those who were employed upon release, the recommitment rate was 4% or 31 inmates.

It is a 256-bed state funded facility constructed on state property outside the parameters of Marion Correctional Institution and staffed by the three counties under the operational control of the Marion County Sheriff's Office. Marion, Sumter and Citrus counties share half the bed capacity to relieve jail overcrowding and the other half of the facility is used to divert felony offenders from state prison.

Education

Director Carl J. Zahner, Ph.D.
(904) 487-2270 SC 277-2270

The Correctional Education School Authority (CESA) was established in 1986 to offer basic education, special education and vocational training to inmates. A nine-member board appointed by the governor oversees the agency and hires a director responsible for day-to-day operations. CESA was established as a separate and distinct agency administratively attached to the Department of Corrections. Its annual legislative budget request is submitted through the DC.

Vital Statistics:

- Total FY 1993-94 budget: $14.6 million
- Employees: 318, including 245 teachers. About 65 volunteers also teach.
- Inmates enrolled: CESA estimates enrollment at 6,136 on June 30, 1994. This includes 4,146 in academic programs and 1,720 in vocational programs. (One inmate can be enrolled in more than one program.)
- Academic and vocational programs are available in 48 prisons and correctional facilities.

Andrea Burgess, a Clerical Occupations instructor at Florida C.I., was chosen by her peers as CESA's Teacher of the Year. Both administrators and students say Burgess is far more than an instructor; that she is a true teacher, a model for her students to emulate and a friend as well. DRUG TREATMENT PROGRAMS

Substance Abuse Treatment for Incarcerated Offenders

Director Sherrie Sanders
(904) 488-9169 SC 278-9169

Because of the high number of drug offenders incarcerated and supervised by the Florida Department of Corrections, substance abuse treatment programs have become a major component of the department's rehabilitative efforts. The programs that follow are broken into two sections: Drug Treatment and Drug Testing for both inmates and offenders on supervision. This section will describe the treatment programs established inside institutions and facilities.

Drug Treatment in Prison

The Department of Corrections operates elaborate substance abuse treatment programs in its major institutions. Drug treatment for inmates starts with the screening and assessment process performed at the reception centers where inmates enter the system. Based on the results of this assessment and according to classification recommendations, the inmates will be offered one or a sequence of the institutional drug treatment programs. Following is a brief description of these programs:

Tier I

A 40-hour psycho-educational program that presents an overview of substance abuse, its history, pharmacology, and negative physiological, psychological, and sociological effects. Tier I also introduces the concept of group counseling and therapy.

Tier II

An intensive short-term (8-10 weeks) Modified Therapeutic Community (TC) program in prison. In this program, addicted inmates, whose sentence length precludes participation in long-term programs, are housed in a community atmosphere and engaged in a daily work schedule. By accepting responsibility, inmates work their way through the program.

Tier III

A full-service Therapeutic Community (TC) from six to 12 months inside institutions. Addicted inmates, housed in the TC and separated from the general population, progress through the program based on their realization and acceptance of community responsibility and their positive response to treatment.

Tier III Community

A community-based, full-service Therapeutic Community program, five to 24 months in duration, that is contracted with not-for-profit private agencies. Inmates must be eligible for work release to be placed in this program.

Tier IV

An aftercare/relapse prevention component of the Tier continuum. This program is located at Community Work Release Centers and usually runs for eight to 10 weeks. The program mandates attendance at Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous meetings and participation in group counseling. Its purpose is to assist the inmates with drug-free re-entry into the community.

Drug Treatment Center (DTC)

An institution or program specifically designated for treatment of inmates in a four to five month modified Therapeutic Community program. Inmates are directly transferred to these programs from the reception centers. Their sentence structure is such that, generally at the time of their completion of treatment at DTC, they either will have reached their release date or will have become eligible for a Tier IV program at a Work Release Center.

Day/Night Program

A non-residential Day or Night treatment program that provides structured and scheduled treatment services, for a minimum of 16 hours a week. Services provided in an outpatient setting are similar to the services provided by DC's residential program. However, in this case, the services are conducted during the day, evening, or weekend hours to accommodate the inmates' work schedule. A Day or Night program serves approximately 40 inmates every four to six months.

Drug Testing in Prison

Among its efforts for creating a safer environment for inmates and staff, eradicating drug use in prison, and as an integral part of its substance abuse treatment, the department has established a comprehensive drug testing program. The following are the drug testing program's main components:

I. Random Drug Testing

In 1993 the Drug Free Corrections Act, under Florida Statute 944.473, mandated that the department establish procedures to randomly select and test inmates for substance abuse. The department responded to this legal requirement by forming a task force to study the scope of the problem and the experiences of other states in developing drug testing procedures. In November 1993, the department entered into a contract with Syva Company in Palo Alto, California to provide the correctional staff's training, testing equipment, and chemicals required for drug testing. The department designated 26 of its major institutions as testing centers and Syva provided the testing equipment and technical expertise at these locations.

In January 1994 the random selection and testing of inmates started. The plan developed by the task force called for random selection and testing of 10% of the Florida prison population every month. Following table presents the results of random drug testing for the fiscal year 1993-94. The department tested 11,538 inmates during the 1993-94 fiscal year. The results indicate that 689 inmates tested positive for drugs, which is about 6% of all inmates tested.

II. Treatment Program Drug Testing

As part of its evaluation process, the substance abuse treatment programs conduct their own drug testing. Inmates in the Tier programs are continually monitored for drug use as an integral part of their treatment. The drug testing policy for the treatment program was established long before the overall random testing and continues today.

III. Testing Due to Reasonable Suspicion

In addition to random testing of the inmate population, the department also tests inmates based on reasonable suspicion that they have ingested drugs. A positive test will result in disciplinary action for the inmate.

Substance Abuse Treatment for Offenders on Supervision

Correctional Programs Administrator
Richard Nimer
(904) 487-2165 SC 277-2165

It is estimated that 70% to 80% of the offenders on community supervision in Florida are substance abusers. Affordable drug treatment for offenders, especially indigent offenders, is scarce or not available in local communities. In response to this problem, Probation and Parole Services has developed a substance abuse treatment system for offenders under community supervision. During FY 1993-94, the department's community-based treatment efforts served over 15,000 offenders and had a successful completion rate of 57% for all treatment programs. The system was designed to screen offenders on community supervision for drug abuse, and place them in the appropriate treatment program. The intent of the system is to make treatment available and accessible to all offenders, regardless of their ability to pay. The court must order the offender into treatment. Offenders under community supervision have access to intervention/assessment programs, nonresidential, detoxification and residential programs. The department has contracted with community-based providers for the following services:

Intervention/Assessment Programs:

Assessment — Offenders court-ordered are referred for a substance abuse assessment to determine the presence or severity of their substance abuse problem. If identified as an abuser, the offender will be referred to the appropriate education or treatment service.

TASC — An integral part of intervention programs is Treatment Alternatives to Street Crime (TASC). TASC agencies primarily serve substance abusers involved in the criminal justice system. TASC services include screening and case identification, court liaison, offender referral and tracking.

Non-residential Programs:

Outpatient Treatment — Outpatient treatment provides therapeutic activities for offenders while they maintain employment in the community. The focus is on treatment and education. Outpatient services are provided to offenders statewide at various intensity levels. Each outpatient program provides a minimum of one individual, group or family session bi-weekly. Outpatient programs also provide drug education classes. The treatment and classes are designed to impose minimal disruption to daily life activities.

Day or Night Treatment — Day or night treatment consists of an intensive non-residential program providing offenders four consecutive hours of daily structured treatment activity at a minimum frequency of four days per week. At least six hours per week is allocated to individual, group, or family counseling while the remaining hours may consist of educational or vocational programming. Day or night treatment allows offenders to participate in an intensive therapy program while maintaining residence and employment in the community.

Detoxification — Detoxification units provide medical and/or psychosocial treatment procedures in conjunction with counseling to help offenders withdraw from the physiological effects of substance abuse. Detoxification can occur in a residential or non-residential setting.

Residential Programs:

Residential treatment involves a structured, live in, non-hospital environment, focusing upon all aspects of substance abuse rehabilitation including vocational and education programs.

Level I: Level I residential treatment provides inpatient therapy for up to 60 days.

Level II: Level II services provide for residential treatment from 60 days up to one year. A variety of Level II programs are available statewide.

DRUG TREATMENT PROGRAMS

Level III: Level III residential services are long-term treatment programs wherein the average length of stay exceeds one year.

Non-Secure Drug Treatment Program:

The Non-Secure Drug Treatment Program was implemented as part of the 1990 Community Corrections Partnership Act passed by the Florida Legislature. One of the primary goals of this act was to reduce prison admissions by diverting the offender to community treatment programs. The Non-Secure Drug Treatment Program provides treatment for non-violent offenders on probation or community control with alcohol or drug abuse problems who need more intense treatment than out-patient. The non-secure program is designed to help offenders break their pattern of use and gradually move them back into the work force through a supervised, treatment-supported environment.

Long-Term Residential (Secure) Drug Treatment Program:

The Long-Term Residential (Secure) Drug Treatment Program is also for non-violent probationers or community controlees who violate conditions of their supervision. Offenders are eligible for referral to the secure program if they have a chronic history of substance use connected with loss of behavioral control.

Drug Testing for Offenders on Supervision

A comprehensive, random drug testing program for offenders is operational, using laboratory and on-site drug testing. Testing is used as both an identification and screening tool and a monitoring technique. It is the department's policy that random drug testing be used as a screening tool to monitor the offender for the use of illegal substances and to identify those offenders who require treatment. Urinalysis is used as an identification tool or as part of a graduated scale of conditions or restrictions that demonstrate to the Court the department's commitment toward dealing with the addiction problem by affording offenders opportunities for rehabilitation through treatment. Of all the monitoring and supervision given by officers to offenders, the identification of substance use and abuse through urinalysis is without question one of the most effective tools available to the officer. Because most substance abusers do not admit their drug involvement, especially when there can be legal ramifications, urinalysis is the most effective method of determining drug usage. Urinalysis offers the most inexpensive and least intrusive method for identifying illegal drug use today.

history of substance abuse, treatment failures, and an inability to stay substance and criminal activity free. The candidate for Secure Drug Treatment is similar to the candidate for Non-secure Treatment in substance abuse and criminal activity patterns. The difference lies in the greater degree of involvement in this lifestyle, the extent of the developed progression, the chronicity of the repeated episodes of anti-social behaviors despite interventions, the patterns of repeated relapses, treatment failures, apparent inability to learn from consequences which usually include periods of incarceration and an extensive

Employees of the Year

Sandra Goshorn,
Central Florida
Reception Center

A 10-year veteran of the department, Goshorn is a Correctional Sentence Senior Specialist who supervises over 36 employees in the records section of the classification department at CFRC. She has been instrumental in computerizing the reception/classification process (C.A.R.P.) at both CFRC and North Florida Reception Center, and was appointed to the Court Ordered Payment System (COPS) task force because of her expertise, dependability and enthusiasm.

Fred Roesel,
Central Office

Roesel, who has been with the department for 17 years, won both as Central Office Employee of the Year and tied as Employee of the Year. He began as a correctional officer at Zephyrhills C.I. in 1977 and was promoted to head of Classification in Tallahassee in 1991. Roesel is probably as recognizable in the field as he is in Central Office because of his well-received training on the Computer Assisted Reception Process (CARP), which he helped design and pilot test. He is largely responsible for the recent upgrades and improvements associated with the classification process, including innovations in classification computer systems and technology.

Correctional Probation Officer of the Year

Gerald Kennedy,
Daytona Beach North
P&P Office

Kennedy, who has been employed by the department since 1987, has been instrumental in creating policy associated with high profile sex offenders within the Seventh Circuit. He has completed the Florida Sex Crimes Investigative Seminar and FBI sex crimes training; coordinated the Florida Sexual Predator Act and DNA procedures with the Florida Department of Law Enforcement and Volusia County Sheriff's Office; established and monitored circuit sex offender rosters; and represented Probation and Parole on the Seventh Circuit Sex Crimes Intelligence unit. He also serves as a volunteer with the Volusia County Sheriff's Office for special events.

Correctional Officer of the Year

Tyrone Walden,
Sumter Correctional Institution

Walden, a 27-year department employee, is a correctional officer lieutenant at Sumter C.I. Walden's organizational skills have earned him a reputation for professionalism and have made him a sought-after member of numerous committees. He has been essential in establishing a positive relationship between his institution and the local community, undoubtedly bolstered by his volunteer service in organizations including the Fire Department, Little League and the Boy Scouts.

Outside Agency Access to Offender Data Base

Provide access to offender information for outside criminal justice agencies, including states attorneys, public defenders, courts, and local and federal agencies. Now includes sentencing guidelines scoresheets.

Cashless Canteen/Inmate Bank

Forty-two of the department's major institutions are now utilizing the department's point-of-sale and banking system. This system allows purchases from the institution canteens to be deducted directly from an inmate's account, thereby eliminating the need for cash in the institution population. Two sites per month will be brought on line until department-wide implementation is accomplished.

Computer Assisted Reception Process

Two of the department's five reception centers are now utilizing a new computerized system. The system is designed to track all the steps involved in determining the appropriate classification and placement for an inmate entering the prison system. Over 200 staff use the system at each site. Many of these staff had never used a computer terminal but after their initial training quickly become active and enthusiastic users.

SPURS Implementation

Acquired equipment and coordinated training for implementation of the Statewide Purchasing System (SPURS) at all department sites statewide — over 50 locations.

FDLE Interface

The bureau established a link to the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) for the purpose of electronically transferring selected data for update to the criminal history files at FDLE. This is the beginning of an expanded effort by the department to work closely with all law enforcement agencies by providing data from our Offender Based Information System on a timely basis. Future work will include the transfer of all offenders names and DC numbers to enable a quicker matching facility between agencies.

Court Ordered Payment System

Completed implementation of the Court Ordered Payment System at 164 probation and parole offices statewide. This system collects nearly $50 million annually in cost of supervision payments, victim restitution, court costs and other court-ordered payments.

Sentencing Guidelines

Director Harry Dodd
(904) 487-2165 SC 277-2165

Guidelines for judicial sentencing of offenders were first implemented in Florida in October 1983. Beginning on January 1, 1994, a new sentencing guidelines system mandated in Florida Statute 921 became effective. Designed chiefly to increase the prison time served by violent offenders, the new system entails a shift of several organizational and administrative functions from the Florida Supreme Court to the Department of Corrections. Even without specific legislative funding, the department has made major strides in fulfilling its new responsibilities.

During the summer of 1993, the department developed a revised guidelines scoresheet and submitted it to the Sentencing Commission for approval. The approved scoresheet was printed by the department at a cost exceeding $46,000. Approximately 127,000 scoresheets have been printed and made available to Clerks of the Circuit Courts, State Attorneys, and Probation and Parole Services field staff. Several supplementary manuals have also been produced, printed, and distributed by the department.

Using an Innovations Incentive Grant of $35,000, the department contracted for development of a computer system to automate scoresheet preparation and allow for storage and retrieval of offender information. The resulting software, Sentencing Analysis and Guidelines Entry Systems (SAGES), is currently online in the department's mainframe computer, with terminal availability to Probation and Parole field staff and a growing number of State Attorneys.

To acquaint field staff with the new guidelines and prepare them to use the SAGES software, the Probation and Parole Services Program Office, with assistance from the Bureau of Planning, Research and Statistics, has conducted 30 training sessions throughout Florida. Approximately 400 Probation and Parole Services staff have been instructed on sentencing guidelines scoresheet completion and/or the SAGES program. Currently, the Probation and Parole Program Office is providing instruction to participating State Attorneys and Public Defenders throughout the state on the use of the SAGES system.

Under the new guidelines, Probation and Parole Services staff are jointly responsible with State Attorneys for completing scoresheets on all convicted felons. Clerks of the Court in each judicial circuit are charged with transmitting scoresheets to the Department of Corrections on a monthly basis, where the Bureau of Planning, Research and Statistics performs any necessary editing, coding, correction, and entry into the SAGES system in preparation for development of analysis and reports.

By statute, the Department of Corrections is required to report to the Sentencing Guidelines Commission by October 1 of each year on the compliance rate of each judicial circuit in submitting scoresheets. Additionally, the department is expected to assist the Sentencing Guidelines Commission in examining the impact of various facets of guidelines-based sentencing on incarceration rates and prison population levels.

In April 1994, the Bureau of Planning, Research and Statistics began publishing a monthly report which tracks compliance of the circuits in submitting scoresheets. As of June 30, 1994, nearly 5,000 scoresheets had been entered into the department's database. To assist circuits in identifying offenders missing scoresheets, the bureau has developed circuit-specific lists to accompany the monthly monitoring report indicating which of the offenders admitted to the department do not have a completed scoresheet.

Florida Council on Crime and Delinquency

Executive Director Roy Smith
(904) 694-7726

What is FCCD?

The Florida Council on Crime and Delinquency (FCCD) is a service and social organization dedicated to training criminal justice practitioners and fostering professional contacts. Its membership of approximately 2,500 includes employees of the Department of Corrections, the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, the Parole Commission, the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, various judicial circuits and other law enforcement agencies.

Who can join FCCD?

Membership is open to all criminal justice professionals and all interested citizens who support the goals and objectives of FCCD. Dues are $15.00 annually, which entitles you to a quarterly newsletter to keep you informed of State Board activities, various chapter activities, legislative action, and current events. It also allows you to join one of the 30 local chapters statewide. Write Roy Smith, Jr., at P.O. Box 71037, Ocala, FL 34471 for more information.

What do local FCCD Chapters do?

Local chapters meet regularly and offer training and seminars recommended by the membership. Local meetings offer an opportunity to meet with colleagues and to discuss developments in their respective criminal justice arenas. Each chapter produces a quarterly newsletter and monthly bulletins concerning upcoming FCCD activities.

What services does FCCD provide to the community?

Local chapters collect money through dues and fundraising events, and donate a large part of it to local charities. During the holidays, members donate time, money, food and clothing to needy families in their local areas.

- The Bureau of Inspections and Intelligence (formerly the Bureau of County and Municipal Facilities) inspects all county jails and municipal facilities and investigates unusual incidents in those facilities, such as inmate deaths.
 - Conducted 568 inspections and 543 investigations in FY 1993-94
 - Established a permanent Jail Standards Committee, with input from local sheriffs and county commissioners.
 - Created a Contraband Interdiction Unit, with the cooperation of the Florida Highway Patrol Drug Unit, to stop the introduction of contraband into state prisons. The Unit had conducted operations at one fourth of all DC institutions as of June 1994.
 - Created a Security Threat Group Program which will locate and identify gang members in prison and under supervision.
- The Bureau of Inmate Grievance Appeals provides a central clearinghouse for inmate grievance appeals. The DC's grievance process was one of the first 10 certified by the U.S. Department of Justice. This will save Florida taxpayers money because with a certified grievance process, an inmate must first exhaust all his administrative remedies (grievance appeals) before filing a lawsuit. Often, problems can be worked out during this process, thereby eliminating the need for a lawsuit.
 - Inmate Grievance Appeals staff processed 16,512 grievances in FY 1993-94, which represents a 64% increase over the previous year. Projections for the next two fiscal years are 23,398 grievances in FY 1994-95, and 31,109 in FY 1995-96.

Population Control and the End of Early Release

Chief Bill Bales, Ph.D.
(904) 488-1801 SC 278-1801

By law, Florida's prison population cannot exceed a specified number of inmates. This policy resulted from the Costello agreement designed to prevent overcrowding in the prison system. In February 1987, the Florida legislature passed legislation to release inmates early to avoid violating the Costello agreement. The table below reflects the proportion of prison releases which involved a reduction in prison sentences to avoid violating the Costello agreement and state law from 1987 to 1993. In 1988, more than nine of every 10 (91.1%) inmates released were released early under statutory authority.

To expedite an end to early release, the Legislature has provided significant funding for new beds over the last two years, including 6,951 in FY 1993-94 and 17,033 (including privatized prisons) in 1994-95. With this increase in bed space, along with the following factors, it is now anticipated that early release will end by January 1995.

The end to early release is becoming a reality sooner than expected because:

- Inmate admissions have declined over the last few years, and have in effect flattened out to around 2,000 admissions a month.
- The 1994 legislature increased the control release bed capacity from 99 percent to 100 percent, adding over 550 beds to the department's useable lawful capacity.
- Accelerated prison construction - The department has been able to advance by one to four months the completion dates of almost 5,500 new prison beds. This is due to utilizing pre-cast technology; incorporating incentive clauses in construction contracts; utilizing 1993-94 planning funds to begin early site preparation and adaptations; and, lastly, there have been no bid protests.
- Diversionary programs - The significant increase in the funding of community diversionary programs such as drug treatment over the last several years is now having an impact on prison admissions.

It should be noted that these projections are based on the assumption that current sentencing practices will continue and not be changed by the judiciary or the legislature. This also assumes that privatization facilities will meet their schedule.

Finally, a major requirement to eliminating early release by January 1995 is that $13.1 million in operating dollars is needed to phase in 5,500 prison beds earlier than currently funded by the 1994 appropriations act. These beds are required to ensure that early release is not required again once eliminated.

* Early Release Mechanisms include Administrative Gaintime (February 1987-June 1988), Provisional Credits (July 1988-January 1991) and Control Release (November 1990-Present).

Gaintime

Chief Bobbie Glover
(904) 487-1986 SC 277-1986

"Gaintime" is a tool the department uses to encourage satisfactory inmate behavior. Awards of gaintime are made according to statutory eligibility and the inmate's own behavior while in custody. It amounts to "time off" for good behavior. Gaintime has been in existence in Florida since 1889. It is awarded by the department, and can be forfeited for escape, violations of department rules or violation of supervision programs. Basic and Incentive gaintime are the most common types of gaintime awarded.

Basic Gaintime (F.S. 944.275) was eliminated as part of the Safe Streets Act passed by the 1992-93 Legislature. It eliminates basic gaintime for all inmates who committed crimes on or after January 1, 1994, and are subsequently committed to the department. Previously, inmates sentenced for offenses committed after July 1, 1978 received 10 days of basic gaintime for each month of sentence imposed on them. Inmates serving life or certain minimum mandatory sentences are not eligible, regardless of their offense date.

Incentive Gaintime (F.S. 944.275(4)(b)) is awarded to inmates for adjustment, work and participation in programs. The awards are made on a monthly basis as earned (unless prohibited by law), and the amount of the award varies in relation to the inmate's rated performance and adjustment. Inmates who committed crimes on or after January 1, 1994 may earn up to 25 days of incentive gaintime per month, if the crime of conviction falls within levels 1 through 7 of the revised sentencing guidelines. If the crime of conviction falls within levels 8 to 10, or the crime was committed after 1983 but before January 1, 1994, the inmate is only eligible for up to 20 days per month of incentive gaintime.

Meritorious Gaintime (F.S. 944.275(4)(c)) may be awarded to an inmate for an outstanding deed. The maximum award is 60 days.

Educational (Achievement) Gaintime (F.S. 944.275(4)(d)) may be awarded to an inmate who receives a General Education Development (GED) diploma or a certificate for completion of a vocational program. The inmate can receive a one-time award of 60 days.

Educational Gaintime (F.S. 944.275(2)(e)) may be awarded to an inmate who satisfactorily completes the Mandatory Literacy program, as determined by the institution's Education Program manager. It is a one-time award of six days.

Illegal Inmate Aliens

Corr. Services Administrator Sylvia Williams
(904) 487-1918 SC 277-1918

On June 8, 1994, 113 illegal inmate aliens in Florida prisons were granted conditional clemency and will be deported. As of June 30, 1994, 28 had been deported. This initiative is under the authority of a Memorandum of Understanding between the governor and the Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service. The Florida Department of Corrections and the Florida Parole Commission were significant partners in this initiative. As of June 1994, the Department of Corrections had identified and reviewed over 500 inmate cases and submitted reports to the Commission. Following this, the Commission conducted clemency investigations and submitted recommendations to the Office of Executive Clemency. Illegal inmate aliens who are Control Release eligible or who have no history of violence were reviewed for the conditional clemency initiative.

The primary condition of the conditional clemency is that deported alien inmates remain outside of Florida and agree not to re-enter the state. Failure to abide by the conditions of the conditional clemency will result in reincarceration of the alien to complete the remainder of his/her sentence and any remedy imposed by the federal government.

CORRECTIONAL STATISTICS

In the pages that follow, statistical information is provided on offenders in the custody of, or supervised by, the Florida Department of Corrections. This information is organized in two main sections: Inmates and Offenders Under Community Supervision. Each section is then divided into three distinct populations: Admissions (from July 1, 1993 - June 30, 1994); Status Population (as of June 30, 1994); and Releases (from July 1, 1993 - June 30, 1994). The Inmate Status Population also includes a section on death row inmates.

The statistics reflect demographic characteristics as well as aspects of the offenders' criminal histories. It should be noted that some data are the result of self-reporting and are subject to validity problems.

Statistical information from previous reports is available upon request from the Bureau of Planning, Research and Statistics, 2601 Blair Stone Road, Tallahassee, Florida, 32399-2500, telephone (904) 488-1801 or SunCom 278-1801.

DEATH ROW

The state of Florida was given the authority to execute inmates by the 1923 Legislature, and the following year Frank Johnson was the first inmate ever executed by the state. Male inmates under sentence of death are housed at Union Correctional Institution (C.I.) at Raiford or Florida State Prison in Starke, and female inmates reside at Broward C.I. in Pembroke Pines. The sole method of execution in Florida is the electric chair. The executioner is an anonymous, private citizen who is paid $150 per execution.

This section details the death row population over the last 10 years, the most frequent counties of conviction and the nature of additions and removals from death row.

Releases are grouped into two broad categories: "Releases" and "Temporary Releases." Releases are those whose term of incarceration has been completed. Temporary releases are those who have not completed their sentences and will return to an institution.

COMMUNITY SUPERVISION

TYPES OF COMMUNITY SUPERVISION IN THE FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

I. Court Originated Sanctions

Probation

A court-ordered term of community supervision under specified conditions for a set period of time not to exceed the maximum sentence for the offense of conviction, which may be either a felony or a felony reduced to a misdemeanor.

Community Control

Intensive court-ordered supervision in lieu of prison involving quasi-confinement of convicted felons to their homes with numerous monthly contacts by officers having restricted caseloads. At the direction of the court or election by the Department, Community Control may involve electronic monitoring of offenders.

Pretrial Intervention

A supervision program intended to divert persons charged with any non-violent felony of the third degree from further prosecution and possible adjudication of guilt. Approval of the program administrator, the state attorney, the judge, and the victim allow the charged person to enter Pretrial Supervision, the successful completion of which results in a dismissal of charges.

Drug Offender Probation

An intensive, treatment-oriented form of supervision administered by officers with restricted caseloads for offenders with chronic substance abuse problems and convictions on drug offenses.

Administrative Probation

A non-contact supervision program for low risk offenders requiring only compliance with all laws.

II. Supervision as a Condition for Early Prison Release

Parole

At the discretion of the Florida Parole Commission, a conditional extension to the community of the limits of confinement for inmates whose prison terms resulted from convictions occurring prior to the advent of Florida's Sentencing Guidelines in October 1983.

Conditional Release

For certain violent and chronic offenders perpetrating their crimes on or after October 1, 1988, a prison release supervision program whose terms and conditions are set by the Florida Parole Commission. The maximum term of supervision cannot exceed the inmate's prison sentence.

Control Release

Created to maintain the state's prison population within its mandated capacity, Control Release is managed by the Control Release Authority (CRA), made up of the members of the Parole Commission. The CRA uses a system of uniform criteria to determine the number and types of inmates released to supervision prior to the expiration of their sentences. Inmates convicted of crimes occurring on or after October 1, 1983, are eligible, with the exception of habitual offenders, sex offenders, offenders committing crimes against a law enforcement officer, and offenders serving minimum mandatory sentences. Supervision time cannot exceed the inmate's prison sentence.

Administrative Control Release

As an option effective May 25, 1992, the Control Release Authority may, at its discretion, waive supervision contacts and require only that inmates placed on Control Release live within the law.

COMMUNITY SUPERVISION

Supervised Community Release

A release program, at the discretion of the Department, for selected inmates who are within 90 days of release from a prison term for an offense occurring before July 1, 1988, or later than that date if no Provisional Credits have been earned.

Conditional Medical Release

Upon recommendation by the Department, the Florida Parole Commission may release under conditions at its discretion any inmate judged to be physically incapacitated or terminally ill.

III. Other Supervision

Upon request, the Department may supervise offenders subject to parole or work release from a county jail.

❖ For purposes of statistical reporting in most of the pages that follow, supervision types will be grouped into eight categories:

1. Probation, which includes felony, misdemeanor, and administrative cases.
2. Community Control, whether under court or Florida Parole Commission jurisdiction.
3. Pretrial Intervention
4. Control Release, whether regular or administrative.
5. Parole
6. Conditional Release
7. Drug Offender Probation
8. Other, including Supervised Community Release, Conditional Medical Release, and county-level supervision performed by the Department.

DUTIES OF PROBATION AND PAROLE SERVICES and Parole Services performs a number of related duties, which include collecting court-ordered payments from offenders, conducting drug tests (pg. 37), and preparing offender investigations.

Florida Department of Corrections

August 1994

This fact sheet is intended to answer some commonly asked questions about the department. You are encouraged to copy and circulate it.

The Florida Department of Corrections, divided into five regions, has more than 23,000 employees and a 1994-95 budget of $1.5 billion. The department is responsible for the custody, care and treatment of more than 189,000 offenders who are either in state correctional facilities or under community supervision.

Inmate Population

The inmate population has grown from 28,310 in 1985 to more than 56,400 in August 1994. Inmates (5.2 percent are women) are housed in more than 128 facilities statewide, including 46 major institutions, 34 community correctional centers (10 for women), five road prisons, 24 work camps adjacent to major institutions, one vocational center, three forestry camps, and seven contracted drug treatment centers.

Cost of Incarceration

For 1993-94, the average statewide daily cost to care for and supervise an incarcerated male inmate in a major institution was $40.16 a day or $14,658 a year, $50.49 per day or $18,429 per year for a female inmate, and $45.95 per day or $16,772 per year for a youthful offender.

Employment

The department is currently hiring correctional probation officers and correctional officers. For more information, call the Bureau of Personnel at (904) 488-3130.

To become a Correctional Probation Officer (CPO), one must have a college degree; be a United States citizen; be 19 years or older; have no felony convictions; be of good moral character; and pass a physical examination and drug test. Once hired, the CPO is sent to one of the corrections academies for basic recruit training. The salary range for a Correctional Probation Officer is $22,048-$35,380 a year. Salaries are higher in certain locations of the state. During the training period, the employee's salary is 10 percent lower.

To become a Correctional Officer (CO) recruit, one must have a high school diploma or its equivalent; be at least 19 years old; be a United States citizen; have no felony convictions; be of good moral character; pass a physical examination and drug test; and complete basic recruit training at a certified training center. These training centers are located throughout the state and are frequently associated with community colleges and/or area vocational technical centers. The salary range for a Correctional Officer is $17,930-$28,772. Salaries are higher in certain locations of the state.

Work, Counseling and Education

Inmates entering the department through one of five reception centers are tested and classified for medical needs, security requirements, and placement in work and educational programs. Academic and vocational courses are offered by the Correctional Education School Authority (CESA), and counseling and substance abuse programs are offered by contracted and department staff. Work assignments include a variety of prison-based industries such as agriculture, vehicle renovation and the manufacture of furniture, garments and license tags. Since 1984, these industries have been operated by Prison Rehabilitative Industries and Diversified Enterprises (PRIDE), a non-profit corporation. Inmate labor is also used extensively to build new prisons and maintain existing facilities. Outside the prison gates, inmate work squads assist Department of Transportation (DOT) highway crews, and help maintain municipal parks, roads and other facilities throughout Florida.

Health Care

The department's 2,300+ Health Services staffers provide access to comprehensive medical, dental and mental health services to male and female offenders statewide. This includes health education, preventative care and chronic illness clinics at the community standard level of care as mandated by the federal government. During FY 1993-94, 2.9 million health care encounters were provided by the department. The scope of health services ranges from emergency care to inpatient hospitalization and specialty care, as required.

Food Services

More than 62 million meals will be served to inmates this year. Each inmate is served three certified nutritionally sound meals a day at a cost of $2.27 per day. For inmates who prefer to avoid meat or dairy products for religious, health or preference reasons, an alternate entree consisting of various protein substitutes is available.

Chaplaincy Services

The Chaplaincy Office provides spiritual care and support for the total institutional community. The chaplain's role begins during the reception processing of an inmate and continues throughout his stay. Approximately 85 chaplains provide religious services, support, education and consultation at prison facilities throughout the state. Chaplaincy Services also coordinates the participation of over 2,400 community religious representatives and volunteers in meeting the religious needs of inmates.

Youthful Offenders

Special programming is provided for offenders ages 24 and under, with a 10 year or less sentence; and selected offenders, age 19 and under, regardless of sentence length, excluding capital and life felons. The more than 2,000 Youthful Offenders under the department's control are housed in three male institutions throughout the state and one female dormitory at Florida C.I. The department also opened a Basic Training Program at Sumter C.I. in 1987. This "Boot Camp" program for selected youthful offenders lasts from 90-120 days. If the inmate satisfactorily completes the program, his remaining sentence is converted to probation. The Youthful Offender Program Office expanded to include female issues, elder affairs, special education inmates, volunteer services, libraries and law libraries. For more on Youthful Offenders, see pages 31-32

Drug Treatment Programs

The Department contracts with numerous organizations to provide various levels of substance abuse treatment for inmates and probationers. These programs include individual/group therapy, life management, skill building, physical fitness, family values, and job skills. These programs were created to get the offenders to admit their addictions and assist them with overcoming their addiction in order to allow prison beds to be used for violent offenders. Comprehensive substance abuse treatment programs are in place at 39 major institutions, 32 community correctional centers, 10 contract and institutional drug treatment centers, and three work camps. For more on Drug Treatment Programs for offenders and probationers, see pages 35-39.

Work Release

Work release enables select inmates to work at paid employment in the local community. When not involved in work or authorized activity, inmates live at one of 34 work release centers statewide. These offenders are carefully screened, classified minimum custody and normally will be considered for work release in the last 36 months prior to their release.

Death Row

In August 1994, there were 337 inmates on death row, including six women. Execution in Florida is conducted by electrocution at Florida State Prison in Starke, where some male death row inmates are housed. The other males are at Union Correctional Institution, and all female death row inmates live at Broward C.I. in Pembroke Pines.

Probation and Parole Services

The department supervises more than 133,000 offenders under community supervision. Cost of supervision for each offender averages $3.22 per day, excluding contract beds. During FY 93-94, more than $18 million was collected in cost of supervision fees and over $28 million has been collected in restitution to victims of crime, including court costs and fines. Probation is a prison alternative sentence which can be imposed by a judge. The offender remains productive in the community, but is under the supervision of a probation officer. Violation of conditions of probation may result in the offender being committed to prison. Community Control or "House Arrest" requires an offender's confinement to their residence instead of confinement in prison. Each correctional probation officer's caseload for community controlees is limited to 25 offenders. Public service, in addition to regular employment, is mandatory. There are over 14,926 community controlees under supervision, at an average daily cost of $4.54 each. Electronic monitoring in the form of anklets, wristlets and voice verification is also used for community controlees.

Parole Commission

The Parole Commission (904) 488-1653, which is a separate agency from the Department of Corrections, can grant parole after an inmate has served part of his sentence. The inmate can be returned to prison for failure to meet parole conditions. Parolees are supervised in the community by the Department of Corrections' probation officers. The Parole Commission is also responsible for the Control Release Program.
