Dear Secretary Henderson:

I am pleased to submit our Annual Report on the activities of the Office of the Inspector General for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2001, as required by Section 20.055 (7), Florida Statutes. I am also pleased to report that we accomplished all of our major goals for the year.

The Annual Work Plan portion of the report includes planned projects for the current fiscal year and our projected activities for the next two fiscal years. Our Work Plan is risk-based to provide the most effective coverage of the Department's programs, processes, systems, and contracts with outside entities. Our risk analysis is based on surveys and meetings with key Department managers and a risk assessment performed by Office of Inspector General staff. The activities outlined in our Work Plan address the major operations of the Department and optimize the use of our resources. We have retained approximately 15 percent of our time for special projects including those requested by your office.

We look forward to working with you and our fellow Department of Management Services employees in meeting the challenges and opportunities that face the Department. With your approval, we will implement the Work Plan for fiscal year 2001-2002. Thank you for your continued support.

Respectfully Submitted

James D. Varnado Inspector General

A summary of the major activities of the OIG during FY 2000/2001 follows:

PERFORMANCE AUDITS

During FY 2000-2001, the Performance Audit Section completed 5 audits with recommendations resulting in savings or questioned costs of approximately $5 million per year. Our reports are available online at: http://fcn.state.fl.us/dms/sec/fignet/ighome.html.

Following are highlights of the audits and reviews completed during the past year.

Technology Consultant Services, IA Report 2000-118

This audit showed that Department procedures pertaining to the establishment of state term contracts for information technology services did not ensure that adequate competition existed for the procurement of such services by state agencies and other users. The review showed that (1) state term contracts with vendors were established without adequate negotiation of prices, (2) state term contracts offered an excessive number of services and range of prices that were too broad and difficult for agencies to use in making informed procurement decisions, (3) agencies were not provided with the necessary information instructions for and purchasing information technology consultant services as prescribed by Florida Statutes, and (4) term contract state language was unclear as to the ownership of property intellectual rights. Management took actions to correct the deficiencies noted in the audit report.

Audit of Acquisition and Management of Information Technology Consultant Contracts, IA Report 2000-124

The audit showed that the Department did not have contract а administration function. result, As а some contracts lacked appropriate internal review and did not fully comply with statutory requirements for contractual services contracts. Contract terms and conditions frequently did not address specific elements needed to ensure receipt of quality and timely services.

In addition, some projects were not adequately planned prior contracting the to process. As a result, some vendors failed to make satisfactory provide progress or quality services during This the contract term. required the Department to contract with other vendors to correct and complete project work. Management concurred with the recommendations and took actions to correct the deficiencies noted.

Audit of User Surcharges, IA Report 2000-58

Our review showed that the State Purchasing Office could generate an additional $2.9 million in trust fund revenue by revising its surcharge assessment procedures. This additional revenue significantly would the need for reduce general revenue funding. The review determined that, to become selfsupporting, State Purchasing needed to establish an overall funding strategy that considers more а equitable assessment of user surcharges. Management agreed with the audit recommendations and took actions to generate additional revenue as well as establish a more equitable surcharge assessment for vendors.

Audit of Internal Service Funds, State Technology Office, IA Report 2000-102

The audit showed that the State Technology Office (STO) needed to manage the accounts receivable function more aggressively. Improvements in the processes for issuing invoices and collecting debt would result in significant revenue gains. For example, the STO took an excessive amount of time to invoice customers for services resulting in lost interest income of about $966,000. STO also had $5.1 million in uncollected accounts receivable resulting in potential lost interest income of about $500,000 during the last two fiscal years. We recommended that STO (1) implement electronic billing and direct debt collection techniques and (2) establish performance indicators to assist managers in measuring the effectiveness and efficiency of the accounts receivable function.

occurred because divisions did not closely audit monthly invoices for local service. Based on the audit recommendations, 264 telephone lines were disconnected at a savings of about $90,000 annually. The other 197 telephone lines were reviewed to determine if they were needed.

PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENT REVIEWS

In FY 2000-2001, the OIG evaluated the reliability and validity of 14 measures submitted by the Division of State Group Insurance, Office of Supplier Diversity, State Fleet Management, Federal Property Assistance, and State Technology Office. In most cases, we found the measures to be reliable and valid in all material respects.

Throughout the year, the OIG assisted managers and staff with developing and revising performance measures and standards. As part of this effort, the OIG provided a preliminary review of all new performance indicators included in the Department's FY 2001-2002 Agency Strategic Plan.

COMPLIANCE AUDITS

During FY 2000-2001, the Compliance Audit Section performed 50 compliance reviews of local government retirement program participants and recovered approximately $824,000 in underpayment of retirement contributions. Compliance audits consisted mainly of reviews of payroll records, personnel files, and earnings records. In addition, the Compliance Audit Section completed 6 special reviews. These reviews identified errors relating to accumulated annual leave payments, accumulated sick leave payments,

Audit of Local Telephone Service, IA Report 2001- 35

The review showed that the Department needed to improve controls over the purchase and payment of local telephone service. Our analysis of telephone service showed that the Department was paying for 461 telephone lines that were not needed (assigned to vacant offices or positions), did not belong to the Department, or were no longer in service. These

Compliance reviews were performed at participating entities such as:

- ✓ County Commissions
- ✓ County Property Appraisers
- ✓ County Tax Collectors
- ✓ County School Boards
- ✓ County Clerks
- ✓ County Comptrollers
- ✓ County Sheriffs
- ✓ County Supervisor of Elections
- ✓ Cities
- ✓ Water Districts

RESPONSE COORDINATION AND FOLLOW-UP

We coordinated the Department's responses to 4 Auditor General and 3 OPPAGA reports, containing a total of 11 issues. Additionally, we followed up on 20 issues from 4 Auditor General/OPPAGA audit reports at 6 and 18 months after the report date. Because of our efforts, 19 of the 20 issues were resolved.

In addition to statutorily required follow-ups, we periodically review unresolved audit issues. Using this process, we followed up on 15 outstanding internal and external audit issues, resulting in the resolution of 12 of the issues.

MANAGEMENT ASSISTANCE SERVICES

During each year, the OIG reserves staff time to devote to those issues in which Department management expresses an interest. During 2000-2001, the Internal Audit Section performed several reviews at the request of Department management. These reviews addressed the following issues:

- ✓ Personal services contracts;
- ✓ Organizational realignment issues;
- ✓ Purchasing Card use; and
- ✓ Vehicle utilization compensatory time payments, merit bonus payments, unreported earnings, performance incentive payments, and unreported workers compensation payments. The Investigations Section opened 29 new cases during the year. For the majority of cases, allegations centered on violations of employee conduct standards and vendor misconduct. These 29 cases involved 52 allegations of which 36 were substantiated. Administrative sanctions such as terminations and reprimands were imposed. Representative examples of the cases were:

Vendor Misrepresentation, II Report 2001-70

A DMS vendor on state term contract reported that an individual fraudulently represented himself as a retailer for the vendor. The retailer used this misrepresentation to enter into a contract to sell products of the vendor to a buyer. After purchasing the misrepresented products, the products were found to be defective by the buyer. The buyer then looked for reimbursement from the DMS vendor. Our investigation showed that the DMS vendor did not manufacture the products. The retailer settled with the buyer and discontinued selling the products.

Minority Business, II Report 2001-54

An allegation was made that a registered minority vendor was not a valid minority business at the time the business bid on a state term contract. It was also alleged that the vendor offered services without being on a valid state term contract. Our investigation showed that the allegation against the business firm was unsubstantiated. The firm was a certified minority business at the time it entered into the state term contract. Subsequent to entering into the state term contract, the owner sold the firm. The terms of the sale provided the new owner would assume all existing agreements from the prior owner. It was determined that there was no prohibition on the new owner assuming the place of the previous owner on the state term contract.

INVESTIGATIONS

Contract Employee Misconduct, II Report 2001-4

An employee reported that a racially slanderous music file had been found on an individual's personal computer drive. The file belonged to an employee who worked for a vendor under contract with the department. The contractor's employee was using equipment owned by the department and had access to department e-mail and networks. Upon searching the employee's computer, 105 music files were found on the computer's hard drive, some of which contained offensive words in the lyrics or title. Also, it was found that the employee had visited sexually explicit web sites. We directed that the contractor's employee not be allowed to use department or state owned equipment and that the employee not be allowed access to the department networks or e-mail.

ANNUAL WORK PLAN 2001/2002

The purpose of developing the annual work plan is to identify, select, and plan the allocation of resources for the upcoming year. The overriding consideration during the development of our annual work plan is to provide the greatest benefit to the Department with our limited resources.

This Work Plan details products to be delivered. For the upcoming year, we plan to continue devoting the majority of our resources to internal audits and investigations. Based on current staffing, it is expected that the OIG will have approximately 19,008 hours available for work. The resource allocation depicted in the following chart represents an appropriate balance between audit, investigative, and other accountability activities at the Department of Management Services.
