2018-2019 Annual Evaluation of Department of Children and Families Lead Administrative Coordinator

Executive Summary

Section 287.0575, F.S., requires health and human services agencies that have contracts with common providers of service to coordinate monitoring activities and improve efficiency of monitoring as a result. In addition, it requires coordination within each agency when the agency has more than one (1) contract with a given provider. The Department of Children and Families (DCF) Chief of Contract Oversight is the Department's Lead Administrative Coordinator, and continues to meet expectations identified in statute.

Background

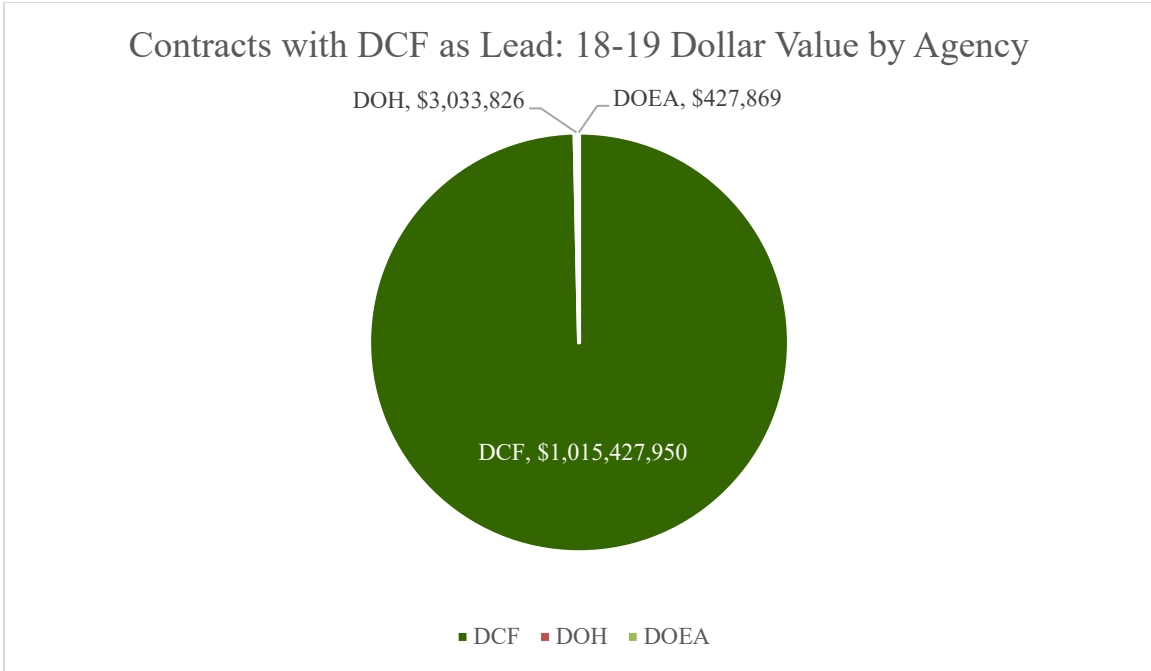

In 2010, s. 287.0575, F.S., was enacted into law. It requires a variety of actions to coordinate monitoring activities among health and human services agencies that have contracts with common providers of service, and improves efficiency of monitoring as a result. In addition, it requires coordination within each agency when the agency has more than one (1) contract with a given provider.

DCF established a centralized contract monitoring function in 2005. It performs administrative, programmatic, and fiscal monitoring for all DCF contracts. This centralization created an environment within DCF where provider monitoring was already coordinated for Department providers with more than one contract.

The DCF Chief of Contract Oversight was initially designated and continues to serve as the DCF Lead Administrative Coordinator.

The number of providers and contracts for which DCF serves as the Lead Administrative Coordinator decreased since the initial implementation of the law in 2010, due to the Department's continuing transition to Lead Agency contracts, such as the Managing Entity contracts for Mental Health and Substance Abuse services. More recently, the Department implemented a lead agency model for Homelessness services.

In FY 18-19, thirteen of the providers with DCF was the Lead Administrative Coordinator held only DCF contracts, but four providers also held Department of Health and/or Department of Elder Affairs contracts. When providers are shared by more than one agency, the agencies consider the dollar amounts of the contracts when coming to agreement about the assignment of the Lead Administrative Coordinator. As a result, the dollar amounts and number of the other agency contracts with DCF as Lead tend to be much smaller and fewer than the DCF contracts.

Annual Evaluation

The DCF Lead Administrative Coordinator has met expectations in establishing coordinated systems, improving efficiency, and reducing redundant monitoring activities for state agencies and service providers.

- Ms. Dusenbury continues to build relationships with her colleagues in other agencies.
- Ms. Dusenbury conducts electronic tracking of the eligible providers and can quickly provide reliable information about the providers she is responsible for. All information is maintained in electronic format so it can easily be shared within DCF and with other agencies via email.
- Ms. Dusenbury deployed information to all monitoring staff within DCF and regularly monitors the schedule to ensure coordinated systems are used for the applicable providers.
- Ms. Dusenbury advocated for reducing, to the greatest extent possible, the burden on providers by identifying the most relevant documents to be required by the specific agencies who share a particular provider; instead of applying a generic list of all possible documents for every provider.
- Ms. Dusenbury is flexible in allowing providers to submit information and documents in any manner that the provider finds most convenient. Providers have been allowed to submit documents by email, mail, and by providing web links.
- Documents provided to DCF have been used by DCF and have been shared when requested by other involved agencies. DCF has requested documents from other agencies when that agency houses the responsible Lead Administrative Coordinator.
- Ms. Dusenbury continues to utilize email to the greatest extent possible to reduce mailing costs.

Overall, Ms. Dusenbury has continued to meet expectations in her performance as the DCF Designated Lead Administrative Coordinator in fiscal year 2018-2019.
