To the people of Florida, Governor Ron DeSantis, and members of the Florida Legislature:

Florida's children and youth have long been a priority for our great state. It is an honor to serve as Chair of the Florida Children and Youth Cabinet (Cabinet) and to continue working with Cabinet members on our shared vision of improving the lives of Florida's children and youth.

As Chair of the Cabinet and on behalf of our membership, I formally submit the 2022 Annual Report. As outlined in section 402.56, Florida Statutes, the Cabinet is charged with ensuring public policy of the state for children and youth is best aligned to promote greater collaboration between state agencies with local stakeholders and families.

The enclosed report provides an update on the activities undertaken by the Cabinet throughout 2022. In 2021, the Cabinet set forth with the mission to address several key issues that impact the children and youth in our state, including:

- Mental health and child well-being,
- Physical health, and
- Youth advocacy.

The Cabinet focused on ways to further support and engage in initiatives that positively impact the lives and prosperity of Florida's children and youth, including:

- The Pinwheels for Prevention campaign, a national child abuse prevention campaign;
- Suicide prevention efforts, such as Hope Squad, a peer-to-peer suicide prevention program;
- The Fatherhood Initiative, a multi-agency collaborative effort to increase fatherhood engagement in Florida; and
- Childhood injury prevention initiatives, such as Sleep Baby Safely and Keep Kids from Drowning.

The Cabinet members and I remain committed to increasing collaboration among state agencies and community partners to provide all of Florida's children and youth with the support, services, and resources they need to flourish and lead prosperous, healthy lives.

Sincerely,

Joseph A. Ladapo, MD, PhD
State Surgeon General

FLORIDA CHILDREN AND YOUTH CABINET

In 2007, the Florida Legislature directed all state agencies and programs that touch the lives of children and youth to work in collaboration, emphasizing on providing a continuum of services that benefit children from prenatal to their transition into adulthood. To meet this request, Florida created and signed into the law the Florida Children and Youth Cabinet (Cabinet). The Cabinet is codified in section 402.56, Florida Statutes, and charged with ensuring the public policy of the state relating to children and youth is best aligned for promoting interdepartmental collaboration in program implementation. This collaboration helps to ensure that services designed for children and youth are planned, managed, and delivered in a holistic and integrated manner to improve the self-sufficiency, safety, economic stability, health, and quality of life of children across Florida.

Administrative Support and Service

The Department of Children and Families (DCF) is tasked with providing administrative support and services to the Cabinet, as identified in section 402.56, Florida Statutes, and provides staff to serve as the Cabinet’s liaison. The Executive Director reports directly to DCF’s Communications Director in the Office of the Secretary and the Cabinet Chair.

The Governor’s Office of Adoption and Child Protection staff provide administrative and fiscal support to the Executive Director by noticing Cabinet and committee meetings and coordinating travel requests and approvals.

FIRST MEETING

Mental Health and Child Well-Being

April 28, 2022

HOPE SQUAD®

During the first meeting of the Cabinet, Department of Children and Families Secretary Shevaun Harris commended Cabinet members for their passion and commitment to inspiring impactful changes in the lives of Florida's children and youth.

The Cabinet heard a presentation about Hope Squad from Peggy Brockman, the Executive Director of United for a Good Cause, Inc. Hope Squad is a peer-to-peer suicide prevention program operating in 35 states that partners educators with mental health experts and changes how schools approach mental health and suicide prevention. Hope Squad members are students nominated by their peers to reach out to fellow students who may be struggling. They are trained to show empathy, listen without judgment, and reduce stigma surrounding mental health.

Okaloosa County School Board member Dr. Diane Kelly joined Director Brockman for the presentation. An advocate and volunteer for the program, Dr. Kelly expressed her excitement about the opportunity to be proactive and have a positive impact on the lives of families and youth in Northwest Florida.

Currently, the program is operational in 27 Florida schools. In 2022, Baker County schools had 31 Hope Squad referrals. Nine schools in Okaloosa County have also launched the program, and Hope Squad's goal is to have all counties in Northwest Florida fully operational by the end of 2023.

Director Brockman explained that fundraising is done locally through door knocking, various grants, and community support. Volunteer Florida Director Corey Simon commented that Volunteer Florida could potentially support Hope Squad. This program helps create a safer school environment, encourage mental wellness, prevent substance abuse disorders, and reduce the stigma around mental health.

PINWHEELS FOR PREVENTION

In honor of Child Abuse Prevention Month, the Cabinet also heard a presentation from Prevent Child Abuse Florida Executive Director Chris Lolley on the Pinwheels for Prevention campaign. Pinwheels for Prevention is a national campaign designed to increase awareness for child abuse prevention efforts and to highlight Florida's statewide coordinated programs and activities that promote healthy childhood development and prevention of child abuse.

Prevent Child Abuse Florida worked with local businesses to launch Pinwheels for Prevention to emphasize the importance of learning about healthy child development, support positive parenting practices, and to act on behalf of children and families within Florida communities.

AGENCY UPDATES

Agency for Healthcare Administration (AHCA)
Secretary Simone Marstiller provided an update on the Statewide Medicaid Managed Care program, which provides Medicaid services to eligible Floridians. Approximately 5.2 million Floridians are now covered by Medicaid, and 50 percent of those covered by Medicaid are children. Secretary Marstiller highlighted Senate Bill 1950, which increases access to comprehensive cancer treatment and adds tobacco and opioid abuse to the Behavioral Health Plan. Secretary Marstiller also recognized Senate Bill 1770, which authorizes the Florida Medicaid program to reimburse donor milk services for hospital infants who are medically or physically unable to receive maternal breast milk. Additionally, Secretary Marstiller discussed increased funding for specialty children's hospitals, a sickle cell disease Medicaid study, and the extension of post-partum services to eligible mothers.

Florida Department of Education (DOE)
Chancellor of K-12 Public Education Jacob Oliva recognized Governor DeSantis and the Florida Legislature for prioritizing children's education and providing the largest per pupil spending total in the state's history. DOE received $80 million, with funds allocated particularly to increased teacher pay. He also highlighted House Bill 1557, which ensures the protection of parents' rights regarding their children's upbringing and education in schools.

Agency for Persons with Disabilities (APD)
Director Barbara Palmer emphasized how the agency received its largest budget, $2 billion. APD plans to appropriate these funds to increase provider rates for direct care employees, provide services to take people off waiting lists, procure a contract for a statewide dental services program for the developmentally disabled, and continue the Employment Enhancement Project to provide supported employment services to individuals on the waiver waiting list. Director Palmer thanked Governor DeSantis and noted the additional funding will literally save lives.

Florida Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ)

Secretary Eric Hall expressed gratitude for the partnership with the Department of Children and Families in passing of the Fatherhood Initiative during the 2022 Legislative Session. This initiative includes educational and mentorship programs as well as one-on-one support to encourage responsible and involved fatherhood in Florida. Secretary Hall shared that DJJ has also identified $3.7 million to help build pathways for workforce education for young people in the residential commitment programs.

Guardian ad Litem Program (GAL) Director Dennis Moore noted Florida's ability to achieve the lowest rate of children in foster care in terms of length of time, the lowest average stay of children waiting to be adopted, and the highest level of children being adopted out of foster care to relatives due to new access to federal funds.

Florida Division of Early Learning (OEL)

Chancellor Matthew Mears highlighted additional funding allocated during the Legislation Session to increase teacher pay and bolster retention. Chancellor Mears expressed his appreciation for the work done this Legislative Session to support staff. He was especially pleased about the rate increases for frontline workers and felt that it will help energize these individuals as well as improve retention.

Florida Department of Health (DOH) Division of Community Health Promotion Director Shay Chapman discussed the agency's collaboration with sister agencies and Florida's Healthy Start Coalitions to implement the Fatherhood Initiative. Ms. Chapman also shared information on two DOH childhood injury prevention initiatives – Sleep Baby Safely and Keep Kids from Drowning – that were allocated funding during the 2022 Legislative Session. One initiative focuses on providing safe sleep education to labor and delivery staff at birthing facilities, while the other provides drowning prevention education to parents and caretakers. These initiatives work to address infant mortality rates due to unsafe sleep environments and drowning in the highest impacted counties.

Volunteer Florida (VF) Director Corey Simon discussed the agency's Healthy Minds Teen Summit, a grassroots non-profit initiative dedicated to evidence-based integrative resources for the recovery and transformation of stress, anxiety, and depression. Director Simon also shared his gratitude toward all the partners and for being able to work across state agencies for the good of the people in Florida.

Florida Department of Children and Families (DCF)

Secretary Shevaun Harris expressed her gratitude and excitement for the opportunities to partner with organizations and state agencies to support child well-being and mental health and substance abuse services. Secretary Harris stated that DCF saw record amounts of funding pouring into the child welfare system as well as for mental health and substance abuse services. Secretary Harris was excited about the future collaboration with partners from around the state to maximize the availability of funds to fulfill the Department's mission.

SECOND MEETING

Physical Health

June 14, 2022

State Surgeon General and Chairman Dr. Joseph Ladapo introduced the Florida Children and Youth Cabinet's newest member, Manny Diaz Jr., the Education Commissioner of the Florida Department of Education. This meeting focused on keeping children healthy from head-to-toe and simplifying healthcare coverage for children.

Fl♥rida KidCare

FLORIDA HEALTHY KIDS

The Cabinet heard a presentation from Ryan West, the Chief Executive Officer of Florida Healthy Kids Corporation. Mr. West discussed their mission to ensure the availability of comprehensive child-centered health insurance coverage that provides quality health care services. He highlighted the Florida KidCare program, which provides a continuum of care for Florida's children ranging from doctor's visits, vision and hearing benefits, dental care, hospital stays, mental health services, immunizations, prescriptions, and emergencies. The Florida Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) provides over 430,000 children in the state with health care coverage. While CHIP and Medicaid enrollment serve similar purposes, the two programs are not the same. There are just under 120,000 kids enrolled in Florida Healthy Kids now.

Florida Healthy Kids Corporation Chief Marketing Officer Ashley Carr also discussed how Florida Healthy Kids markets the program through partnerships with various organizations including hospitals and health centers, community-based organizations, food banks, and the education system. These partners ensure program options are communicated to uninsured children's caregivers. Florida Healthy Kids conducts targeted campaigns and facilitates community partnerships to work with and educate families.

State Surgeon General and Chairman Dr. Joseph Ladapo provided an overview of First Lady Casey DeSantis' "The Facts. Your Future." awareness campaign. "The Facts. Your Future." focuses on substance use prevention and associated with the First Lady's Hope for Healing Florida initiative. The program directly engages youth in Florida to improve their understanding of the devastating, life-altering effects of drug abuse, empowering teens to reach their full potential.

The campaign, through school assemblies and evidence-based strategies, provides detailed information about how substance abuse can affect their day-to-day lives and how long-term use can impact their futures. First Lady DeSantis continues to show her commitment to helping children lead meaningful, drug-free lives.

AGENCY UPDATES

Division of Early Learning (OEL) Chancellor Matthew Mears informed the Cabinet that all VPK teachers will have completed a newly required emergent literacy training by July 1, 2022, lining up with the Department of Education's effort to best prepare incoming kindergarten students. The Legislature also allocated a historic level of funds toward early learning.

Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) Secretary Eric Hall reported House Bill 7065 established the month of June as Responsible Fatherhood Month. In recognition of the designation, DJJ held a meeting discussing the steps and activities to raise awareness about having an engaged, present father. DJJ is also planning "DJJ Dads," a project designed to mentor and support young fathers in the DJJ system.

Department of Children and Families (DCF) Assistant Secretary for the Office of Child and Family Well-Being Jessica Tharpe spoke about the Family Navigator initiative and the Fatherhood Initiative. Since the last Cabinet meeting, DCF launched the Family Navigator initiative to enhance the safety and well-being of Florida's families, with the goal to provide the right services to families at the right time and to promote family safety and resiliency. Family Navigators are highly skilled child welfare professionals who provide families with early engagement and treatment, so they are stabilized, safe, and on a pathway to resiliency at the first moment of impact.

Florida Guardian ad Litem Program (GAL) Director Dennis Moore highlighted how the GAL program increased child representation to 92 percent. The program is also in the process of creating a more robust attorney training program and has expanded mentoring opportunities.

GAL is relaunching a project with the Florida Association for Women Lawyers to help find mentors to work with children in Florida's dependency system. Additionally, a children's youth group was established and is named the Guardian ad Litem Champions, who are helping build the attorney training program.

Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA) Secretary Simone Marstiller shared that AHCA was hard at work renewing and re-procuring contracts to continue delivering services through Florida's Medicaid system to Floridians. The focus included child and adolescent mental health services by ensuring that the health plans provide access to holistic mental health services. AHCA hoped to encourage creative proposals to expand benefits that provide families with opportunities for employment, education, and other services to help families obtain self-sufficiency. These contracts will run through 2030.

Department of Education (DOE) Chancellor for Educator Quality Dr. Paul Burns thanked the Governor and Legislature for the increase in this year's mental health funds allocation. New legislation requires school districts to identify a mental health coordinator who must collaborate with school safety specialists. Students in grades 6-12 also have a five-hour mental health education requirement.

Volunteer Florida (VF) Director Corey Simon reported that Volunteer Florida was able to increase funding. He discussed the Volunteer Generation Fund, an opportunity for non-profit organizations to receive assistance with volunteer management. Last year, VF began a six-week grant writing series. This series will be offered to approximately 400 non-profits across the state to ensure Florida's non-profit organizations are taking full advantage of available federal grants.

Agency for Persons with Disabilities (APD) Deputy Director of Budget and Planning Rose Salinas commented that APD continues to work with community partners that support individuals with disabilities. The agency continues to support programs within other state agencies and refer individuals to these programs, so they can take full advantage of all the services for which they are eligible. APD will be announcing provider rate increases for the next fiscal year.

THIRD MEETING

Mental Health and Child Well-Being

September 8, 2022

As September is National Suicide Prevention Awareness Month, this Cabinet meeting focused on bringing awareness to suicide prevention and promoting the safety and well-being of Florida's children.

State Surgeon General and Chairman Dr. Joseph Ladapo led Cabinet members in a discussion of suicide prevention. Cabinet members heard a moving presentation from Joe Kenney, Founder, and Hannah Hackworth, Executive Director and Co-Founder, of Here Tomorrow. Here Tomorrow is a mental health collaborative that strives to transform lives by building a community where mental healthcare is available and accessible. Mr. Kenney explained that the creation of this organization was personal after his son suffered from depression and took his life at the age of 30 years old.

Here Tomorrow opened its doors on March 1, 2021, and serves over 800 individuals who are seeking help from the program. These individuals are provided support from certified crisis peer specialists who are in recovery themselves and can speak from a place of understanding. The program also connects individuals with a therapist based on their individual needs.

Director Hackworth described Here Tomorrow's engagement of both those at-risk, and the families who have run up against a brick wall in helping their loved ones. Here Tomorrow believes that to move the needle on suicide prevention, family involvement is key.

When it comes to suicide prevention, timing is everything. People need help when they have the courage to reach out for it.

Florida Department of Health Program Director of Child Abuse Death Review Unit Joshua Thomas highlighted how Florida is taking a proactive approach to childhood injury prevention. The Child Abuse Death Review System analyzes data on child fatalities to identify contributing factors and create prevention strategies. The system is comprised of a State Child Abuse Death Review Committee and 22 local committees and produces an annual statistical report detailing child fatality prevention recommendations.

The Sleep Baby Safely pilot program is a safe sleep education program. Unsafe sleep is the leading cause of preventable death for babies under the age of 1 in Florida. This program provides training to labor and delivery staff at birthing hospitals and facilities on safe sleep practices. The staff provide face-to-face safe sleep education along with educational materials to new parents and caretakers prior to discharge. The pilot program is currently established in Duval County and will be expanded into Broward, Hillsborough, Miami-Dade, Orange, Palm Beach, Pinellas, and Polk counties, which have the highest number of sleep-related infant deaths each year.

The Keep Kids Safe from Drowning pilot program's objective is reducing and eliminating preventable child drownings. According to the Child Abuse Death Review committees, drowning is the second leading cause of child fatality in Florida. The program is established in Broward, Duval, Hillsborough, Miami-Dade, Orange, Palm Beach, Polk, and Volusia counties, which have the highest incidence of child drownings over the past three years. This initiative partners with the community to provide parents and caregivers drowning prevention education and materials on drowning prevention measures.

AGENCY UPDATES

Department of Children and Families (DCF)

Secretary Shevaun Harris celebrated the success of the Florida Children and Families Summit held in Orlando. The summit is the largest child well-being event held annually in Florida. This event brings together thousands of child welfare professionals, foster families, advocates, and community organizations who share the same vision for a stronger, more resilient Florida. This year's theme was the "Power of Partnership," and the Department emphasized the necessity of its partnerships with other state agencies.

Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ)

Guardian ad Litem Program (GAL) At the Children and Family Summit, GAL Program Director Dennis Moore announced the roll-out of the GAL Champions youth group. GAL gave a presentation on independent living services and services for youth in foster care. GAL is also implementing the "Fall in Love with Guardian ad Litem" program, where attorney mentors are connected with youth aging out of care.

Agency for Persons with Disabilities (APD)

Director Barbara Palmer shared that APD is creating a crisis intervention initiative to reduce the need for Baker Acts.

Department of Education (DOE)

Chancellor Jacob Oliva shared that as the new school year is beginning, for the first time each school district has a dedicated mental health coordinator to support the well-being and resiliency of students.

Department of Education Office of Early Learning (OEL)

Chancellor Matthew Mears reported that program year 2022 to 2023 School Readiness enrollments have surpassed pre-pandemic levels, with this year's enrollments totaling 158,727 compared to 151,542 for the academic year 2019 to 2020. He also noted implementation of Florida's Assessment of Student Thinking using Star Early Literacy is currently in Progress Monitoring one, and that VPK teachers and parents will be able to use the information from the results to better target educational strategies for students. The Coordinated Screening and Progress Monitoring Program is the statewide, standardized program known as Florida's Assessment of Student Thinking (FAST) using Star Early Literacy implemented in all VPK programs as required by section 1002.68, F.S.

Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA)

Secretary Simone Marstiller shared that AHCA is working diligently to put together the next generation of the Statewide Medicaid Managed Care program.

FOURTH MEETING

Youth Advocacy

December 8, 2022

Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) Assistant Secretary for Prevention Alice Sims provided an overview of the DJJ's third annual Angel Tree Book Drive. The theme of this year's drive was "Donate a book, change a life." Reading is one of the best gifts that can be given to a child, especially for children within the juvenile justice system. Assistant Secretary Sims discussed how children with a passion for reading perform better in school, have improved concentration, and develop a stronger vocabulary. DJJ is committed to championing education as an intervention for public safety.

At the final Florida Children and Youth Cabinet meeting of the year, the Cabinet focused on youth advocacy as well as this year's holiday partnerships to support children in need.

Florida Department of Children and Families (DCF) Communications Director Mallory McManus shared a brief presentation about the partnership with the Charity Pros, a non-profit organization based in Fort Myers. The toy drive will benefit children in Lee, Collier, and Charlotte counties who were directly affected by Hurricane Ian. Inspired by First Lady Casey DeSantis' toy drive initiative, Charity Pros founder Megan Maloney launched the Charity Pros for Kiddos toy drive campaign. The toy drive initiative will culminate with a Shopping Day with Santa for all registered children that will take place before Christmas.

The Cabinet also heard a presentation from the statewide Guardian ad Litem (GAL) Director Dennis Moore on the newly established GAL Champions program. The Champions program consists of former foster youth Champions who now use their lived experiences to provide a voice for children and help shape the GAL's practices, priorities, and effectiveness. Champions Derrick Percy and Rayla James shared their journeys through the foster care system and how they will use their experiences to provide insight on behalf of children currently in the system. Agency for Persons with Disabilities (APD) Director Barbara Palmer proposed that the program include an advocate with a disability who has lived experienced in foster care. Department of Education (DOE) Senior Chancellor Jacob Oliva also proposed having the advocates work with school counselors to develop best practices to help children who are transitioning schools.

AGENCY UPDATES

Agency for Healthcare Administration (ACHA) Chief of Staff Jason Weida provided an update on Florida's Medicaid program. There are over 5 million Medicaid recipients in the state, most of whom are children. ACHA is working on re-procuring associated contracts to benefit the lives of children in Florida for years to come.

Department of Education (DOE) Senior Chancellor Jacob Oliva highlighted DOE's implementation of requiring public schools to provide instruction about mental health. The instruction emphasizes building resiliency in students and defining core components of mental health. In October, DOE updated corresponding mental health definitions in a formal rule and plans to incorporate these definitions as it builds out its mental health curriculum.

Department of Children and Families (DCF) Deputy Secretary Taylor Hatch provided an update on DCF's disaster response efforts to Hurricane Ian. DCF partnered with the Florida Department of Health to provide services to meet individual's basic needs for moms and families and also had the opportunity to respond through a resiliency lens and offer mental health services. For disaster response, DCF was able to tap into a model similar to that utilized by the Hope Florida - A Pathway to Prosperity program to ensure individuals and families impacted by the storm receive the help they desperately need.

Agency for Persons with Disabilities (APD) Director Barbara Palmer shared that approximately 4,000 individuals with disabilities have been taken off the waitlist to receive services and are now able to receive these critical services. Additionally, Director Palmer highlighted the appropriation of $8.9 million to provide dental services for those with disabilities. She further noted APD's efforts to provide services for those with a dual diagnosis of a developmental disability and mental illness. She applauded Governor DeSantis and the Florida Legislature for their work in accomplishing these goals.

Guardian ad Litem (GAL) Program Director Dennis Moore discussed the expansion of GAL's volunteer programs, particularly those with a mentorship component. Their "All in for Kids" program received a productivity award.

Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) Secretary Eric Hall discussed DJJ's commitment to intervention and community-based prevention to reduce recidivism and contact with the juvenile justice system. He noted four cornerstones will be implemented to facilitate education attainment and workforce preparation to achieve these goals. The cornerstones are as follows:

1. Develop a talented leadership team and workforce through partnerships with the education system,
2. Create Systems to ensure data-informed decision-making,
3. Implement evidence-based programs, and
4. Provide post-secondary opportunities and academic achievement.
